Make Your Own Gas!

MAKE ONLY WHAT YOU USE AND ONLY AS USED.

LIGHT FOR LIGHT at Almost Half the Cost of Coal Gas, and at About the Cost of Best Oil!

No Trouble.
No Noise.
No Smell.
No Waste.
No Heat.

PERFECT SAFETY, EXTREME SIMPLICITY, UTMOST ILLUMINATION.

Because the quantity used is only one-tenth to one-twentieth that of coal gas, and because the quality is more than double in illuminating power, i. e., half-foot and quarter-foot burners instead of five and six foot burners. Hence its cheapness. Used in hundreds of our best homes, churches, factories, and stores.

Any Intelligent Person Can Operate the

Bournonville Acetylene Gas Generator.

It regulates and provides the supply of gas only as consumed—it is very simple—is perfectly automatic—has very few parts—takes up but little room.

This light is remarkably cool, and comfort is thereby largely increased. Every house-owner desiring a Perfect Light with Absolute Safety should send, mentioning WORLD ALMANAC, for an illustrated pamphlet, giving full information and terms, to the undersigned.

Our patents practically cover the field whereby carbide is automatically fed in small quantities as required into a large quantity of water. We are the pioneers. We have successfully fought out three interferences and own four basic U. S. patents and fourteen foreign patents. We warn intending purchasers against infringing generators. It is not honest, neither is it safe to buy them.

THE ONLY SAFE AND

Correct Process of Generating Acetylene Gas.

IDEAL OF SCIENTISTS, CHEMISTS, ENGINEERS, AND EXPERTS.

IN the cut we present to the public an apparatus of unusual merit. The construction of the machine is such that it is a physical impossibility to generate sufficient gas to produce a greater pressure than is needed for its normal operation. For the same capacity the generator is only one-tenth the size of other generators. As will be seen, the Carbide is in a separate compartment and a distance above the water receptacle. Automatically a small quantity falls into the water below, and as the gas is liberated from the Carbide by its contact with the water, the slight pressure produced by the gas inflates the gasometer, and automatically shuts off the feed of Carbide until the gas in the gasometer is let off through the service-pipes and used, and then it automatically drops another small quantity, and repeats the operation indefinitely until you extinguish the light by turning the gas off at the burner, when it automatically closes the feed until you use the gas again. The turning off of your burner will arrest the feed, and turning it on automatically start it; therefore it is plain that when no Carbide is fed there can be no generation of gas. Our machine is hermetically sealed, and consequently there can be no escape of gas or odors.

ADVANTAGES.

- Absolute safety.
- No escape of gas or other odors.
- Absolute automatic control of generation.
- Low temperature and dissipation of heat produced by the reaction of Carbide in water by the excess or large quantity of water into which it falls.
- Low and uniform pressure in machine at all times.
- Extraction of every particle of gas in the Carbide.
- Generation of cool Acetylene and dry gas.

ADVANTAGES.

- Maximum evolution of Acetylene gas from a given quantity of Carbide.
- No polymerization, which decomposes Acetylene and produces bad effects.
- No so-called carbonization of burners.
- No condensation or deposits in the pipes.
- Practically odorless residue.
- No removal of Carbide holder.
- No necessity for separating machine.
- Ease in charging and removal of residue.
- Simplicity of construction.
- And other advantages too numerous to mention.

...Best and Cheapest Light Known.

We can light anything from an office to a city.

Our Generator has been on the market for the past three years and we have them installed from coast to coast.

THE BEST OF REASONS

Why You Should Be Prejudiced in Favor of

THE BRUCE GENERATOR.

1. Our Generator has a compartment carbide container, the water acting on but one pocket at a time, hence the whole charge is not brought in contact with the water at once; thus no waste of gas, no heating of generator.

2. You can always tell by the water tank when your machine needs re-charging.

There is no guessing whether you have carbide enough in for another night or not.

3. There are no valves to be opened or closed by forks, ratchets, or levers. It is extremely simple, and as certain of operating as the fact that water runs down hill.

4. Our Gasometer has no labor to perform, thus insuring at all times the same even pressure—a feature seldom found.

5. There is no chance to forget to drain this plug or that vent, as all pipes are self-draining to the condensing chamber.

6. Our Gasometers for same rated capacity are the largest on the market, and will hold a large supply. It saves.

7. The Bruce Generator is bolted to a platform, making it easy to handle for installing.

8. The Bruce Generator when left to do its own work will not blow off or waste the gas.

9. Our Water Feed, on which we have been allowed a patent, has no equal.

10. Not least, but greatest. Our Purifier takes out all moisture and impurities from the gas, making it impossible for pipes to clog up or the burners to choke up and smoke.

DRAKE'S ADJUSTABLE ACETYLENE BURNER.

Can be turned to any size flame to one candle power by means of the little valves, one of which may be closed entirely and the other one reduced to a flame as small as desired for a night light without smoking, carbonizing, or producing a sluggish flame.

The diverging stems are so arranged that they can be turned into alignment in an instant.

The points of the little valves may be forced up through the little hole where the gas is liberated from the rear, removing any obstruction without being obliged to extinguish the whole flame.

WHY ? ? ? ? ?

The "CLEVELAND" Automatic Acetylene Gas Generator

Is a Necessity in

EVERY HOME, CHURCH, STORE, OR FACTORY.

- BECAUSE it produces a far more beautiful and steadier light than coal-gas or electricity.
- BECAUSE this light is not injurious to the eyes, and by its rays the most delicate shades of color can be distinguished as by day.
- BECAUSE the "CLEVELAND" is absolutely safe—not a valve in entire machine to become clogged.
- BECAUSE it generates only pure, cool gas and extracts maximum amount of gas from the carbide.
- BECAUSE it is the BEST Acetylene Gas Generator on the market, and approved by all the Underwriters' Associations.

READY REFERENCE SCRAP BOOK

CAPACITY 35,000 AGATE LINES.

Size of Book, 4 1/2 x 10 1/2 inches.

A PERFECT INDEX PLAN.

A SCRAP IS FILED by passing the top containing the caption through a slot from the back of the leaf and attaching it to the front surface, which is gummed. The caption alone shows upon the leaf and indexes the article. The body, which remains in the back, is read by turning the leaf over and up to the slot through which it protrudes. The leaves are of fine linen stock, and the binding of cloth substantially put together.

THIS SMALL BOOK will file 15 clippings (from one inch to one column in length) to the page, and takes the place of the usual large volume. One of the few novelties worth investigating. Sent to any address on receipt of One Dollar.

The Scriven Improved Elastic Seam Drawers sell well while others lie quiet, because they are the products of ingenious planning and skilful execution, combining form, fit, and fashion.

They are not an experiment or an innovation, but the result of several years of experimenting. The point is here—there is nothing in the world so comfortable as the

because they fit, they don't rip or tear; because the tension is taken up by the elastic seam they don't bulge or bag—they are emphatically the drawers for the man who wants underwear that's right. These drawers are sold exclusively to retail dealers. By all means get acquainted with this most popular men's wear specialty.

HERCULEX

CURES WITHOUT USING DRUGS.

The Dr. Sanden Herculex is a perfect, home self-application of Galvanic Electricity. It is a body battery worn comfortably around the waist. No burning electrodes. All applying plates covered with a soft, antiseptic material of our own invention. You put the Dr. Sanden Herculex on when retiring for the night, using it while sleeping. It soothes, strengthens, and cures in a natural manner. It is a specific remedy for Nervous and General Debility, Lamé Back, Rheumatism, Etc. It adds Nerve Force and Strength to every organ of the body. It is an improvement upon my famous Dr. Sanden Electric Belt, for a quarter of a century the standard home application of Electricity. The Dr. Sanden Herculex is easy to adjust and convenient to wear.

FREE CONSULTATION.

If nearby, drop in at my office for free consultation, when I shall be pleased to go over your case and advise with you as to what you may expect. It is a pleasure to show a genuine article like the Dr. Sanden Herculex.

FREE BOOK BY MAIL.

If you live at a distance, write for my little book, "Health in Nature," which will be sent by mail, free, in sealed envelope. It explains all. With my system of symptom questions I am enabled to diagnose and advise accurately by mail. No charge for such services.

Office Hours—9 A. M. to 9 P. M. Weekdays; 9 A. M. to 12 M. Sunday.

FOR

HERCULEX

Every one knows to-day, or should know, that the properly applied current of galvanic electricity will cure rheumatism.

Of course the time is past when people can be deluded by charlatans into believing the "Walk up, take treatment, and throw away your cane" idea.

There is no miracle in the proper use of electricity. It simply cures you by the working out of a natural law. It adds strength to every organ and fibre of the body. It gets the bladder, kidneys, liver, etc., into proper working order. It increases the circulation and purifies the blood. It kills all germ life. That is why electricity cures. The immediate acceleration of the blood circulation often eases the pains in one application, but, of course, such is only temporary. You must continue in the use of electricity for some time to effect a permanent result.

The Dr. Sanden Herculex is the proper application of the right current. It is worn comfortably around the waist all night, soothing and strengthening while you sleep. It gives forth a great volume of electricity.

It is an improvement over the famous Dr. Sanden Electric Belt, which has been the standard for 25 years. I have used my Herculex with phenomenal success in my private practice, and now offer it publicly.

FREE BOOK, "HEALTH IN NATURE."

Write for my little book, "Health in Nature." It explains all. I diagnose and advise by mail. Free consultation is also offered at my office, where the Herculex may be seen and current tested. Write or call.

TWELVE POINTS.

The perfect Life Insurance Policy has twelve points of advantage. They are as follows:

1. No Restriction upon occupation, when issued upon men who are not engaged in hazardous occupations, and who have no intention of changing their occupation to one more hazardous.

2. No Restrictions upon residence and travel, when issued upon men residing in healthy localities, and who have no intention when they insure of visiting unhealthy localities.

3. No Restrictions as to manner of death.

4. No Restrictions as to military or naval service, when issued in time of peace to men engaged in peaceful occupations, and who have no intention of entering the military or naval service.

5. It allows a reasonable grace in the payment of premiums.

6. It provides for re-instatement upon reasonable conditions, in case of lapse.

7. It provides for cash loans after the insured has acquired an equity in the policy.

8. It is automatically non-forfeitable after a certain time.

9. It allows a choice between extended, or paid-up, insurance.

10. It is incontestable after a reasonable time.

11. It provides for prompt payment at maturity.

12. It provides for a choice between cash-value and continued insurance, after being in force during a stipulated period.

THE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY'S

Accumulation Policy combines these twelve points of advantage; no other policy has them all. The NEW YORK LIFE furnishes "The Best of Every Thing in Life Insurance."

Occurrences During Printing.

SOME weeks are occupied in printing a volume so bulky as THE WORLD ALMANAC, and it is necessarily put to press in parts or "forms." Changes are in the mean time occurring. Advantage is taken of the going to press of the last form to insert information of the latest possible date, which is done below. The readers of the ALMANAC are requested to observe these additions, corrections, and changes, and it would be well to make note of them on the pages indicated.

The World.

JOSEPH PULITZER.

THE crowning triumph for and the completion of a great international service by THE WORLD occurred on October 3, when the Anglo-Venezuelan Boundary Arbitration Commission rendered its unanimous decision, which was promptly accepted by both Governments. Thus the victory of that common sense which Gladstone declared was the only thing needed was complete, and the dispute of nearly sixty years' duration was ended.

It was a victory above all for the principle of arbitration. It was a victory for publicity. It illustrated the mighty power for good of a great, free, fearless, and independent newspaper, and its moral force in the community and nation. When President Cleveland sent his warlike message to Congress, asking for a commission to "determine the true divisional line" between Venezuela and British Guiana, and proclaiming that the attitude of Great Britain in its announced purpose to take from Venezuela by force what it claimed as its territory threatened the "peace and safety" of the United States and "the integrity of our free institutions," THE WORLD condemned the proposition and the menace that accompanied it as a "grave blunder." It insisted that "the question of a boundary is essentially a question of fact and of history, and, as such, eminently fit to be settled by impartial arbitration."

THE WORLD appealed to the consciences of the two peoples; it stood almost alone among the press of this country, and with the might of public opinion against it. All the jingoes in America cried for war. The British press and British statesmen said gloomily that war could not be averted.

THE WORLD did not pause. It secured in response to its cabled inquiries messages of peace and good will from Gladstone, Canon Farrar, prelates, and statesmen. The Prince of Wales, departing from traditional rules of royal etiquette, addressed the American people through THE WORLD, expressing his hope for a prompt settlement of the dispute. The voice of passion was stilled. The tide of sentiment on both sides of the Atlantic was turned, and every voice was for peace. On June 6, 1897, a treaty of arbitration between Great Britain and Venezuela was ratified. Venezuela chose Chief Justice Fuller and Associate Justice Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court; Great Britain named Lord Herschell and Justice Collins, of the Queen's Bench, and these four agreed upon Professor Martens, Counselor to the Russian Foreign Office, as the fifth member of the board to settle the long-standing dispute by the methods of peace.

The plaudits of the whole English-speaking peoples on both sides of the ocean followed, and later the Peace and Arbitration Societies of Great Britain, taking advantage of the presence of Mr. Joseph Pulitzer, Director of THE WORLD, in London, presented an address to him in recognition of the services of the great newspaper of which he is the inspiration and guiding spirit in averting war.

The result justifies the bold championship of peace by THE WORLD. The forecast is fulfilled. Conscience and common sense have triumphed through arbitration. War and aggression have both been avoided and substantial justice has been done to all. Civilization was advanced a century in a few months by the mighty force of a great newspaper, which has steadily for its object the welfare of mankind and the advancement of American civilization.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN CONFLICT.

When the war cloud first hovered over South Africa, THE WORLD opened direct communication with President Kruger in the interest of the new diplomacy of publicity and received an immediate response. President Kruger chose to make his appeal to civilization through THE WORLD, and presented a most remarkable state document for the consideration of civilization. On September 7, disregarding all quibbles and intricacies of diplomacy, he summed up the issues as they appeared to the Boer saying, "that the crisis was due to a certain section of British residents, 'to whom the very existence of the republic is an eyesore,' and who, 'not content with the best mining laws in the world wished also to have complete control of legislation and administration, the destruction of the republic, and the complete control of the richest mines in the world." He concluded sadly that "we have no such powerful friend as you proved to be to Venezuela and other republics. We have strong faith that the cause of freedom and republicanism will triumph in the end." THE WORLD cabled President Kruger's message in full to Joseph Chamberlain, British Secretary for the Colonies, who was quick to reply in a reference to the British Blue Book for his side of the controversy.

President Kruger answered through THE WORLD that his Government had ever been ready to submit the dispute to arbitration, and suggested that a board of arbitration be selected, two members by England, two by the Transvaal, and the fifth by the President of the United States or the President of Switzerland, concluding with: "We have yielded everything but the life of the republic. We wish most earnestly for arbitration to prevent a war which would be an outrage against religion and humanity."

THE WORLD immediately set going the movement for arbitration, which resulted in the most powerful petition ever drawn to President McKinley, asking him to offer the kindly offices of the American Government in mediation of the dispute which had reached a stage that threatened the existence of two sister republics.

President Steyn, of the Orange Free State, cabled his grateful indorsement of THE WORLD'S effort for peace and urging the necessity for speedy action.

Premier W. R. Schreiner, of the British Cape Colony, cabled from Cape Town his appreciation and sympathy with the movement for a peaceful settlement of the South African difficulties.

Archbishop Croke cabled: "Avert war by all honorable means."

Cardinal Logue said: "I am most anxious for peace."

The Archbishop of York, Archbishop of Canterbury, Right Hon. Leonard Courtney, M. P., Michael Davitt, and other prelates, statesmen, and public men of England indorsed THE WORLD'S effort to secure peace, while the signers of the petition to President McKinley in this country made it the most formidable document of the kind and the most representative of American feeling since the Declaration of Independence. Among the signers were ex-Senators George F. Edmunds and John Sherman, Archbishop Ireland, Gen. O. O. Howard, President Jordan, of Leland Stanford University; Donald G. Mitchell, Mayor Phelan, of San Francisco; President Warren, of Boston University; Frederic R. Coudert, ex Vice-President Adlai E. Stevenson, ex-Senators Manderson and Ingalls, ex-Representative Breckinridge, John P. Altgeld, Augustus Van Wyck, William B. Hornblower, Ernest H. Crosby, T. Estrada Palma, Carl Schurz, Horace Boies, J. Sterling Morton, Archbishops Kain and Christie and sixteen Bishops of the Roman Catholic Church, Bishops Potter, Dudley, Whittle, Hare, and fourteen other Protestant Episcopal Bishops, ninety university and college presidents, forty Federal and State judges, the Governors of thirty-five States, one hundred and eight Senators and Congressmen, State officers, mayors, editors, clergymen, lawyers, business and professional men, and thousands of others of lesser note.

A great mass-meeting was held in Carnegie Hall in indorsement of THE WORLD'S petition. The petition was taken to Washington by a delegation of representative men on October 26. The President replied in effect that he should not offer his services as mediator unless formally asked to do so by the disputants, though the British Government made a similar offer to him at the beginning of the Spanish War.

But events moved too fast for peace on this polite form of preventing war. With clear insight the President of the Transvaal realized that to delay meant to provide better means for the destruction of the South African Republics. He therefore boldly warned England that unless troops were withdrawn by a fixed hour war would begin, and served notice to civilization through THE WORLD in words that have already become historic:

"The republics are determined that if they must belong to England a price will be paid which will stagger humanity."

Then came the clash of arms. Having done all it could to avert the war, THE WORLD now turned its attention to its next highest duty—that of presenting the earliest, most graphic, and complete report of each movement in the war. It retained Lieut. Winston Spencer Churchill, the talented son of Lord and Lady Randolph Churchill, with the American blood of the Jeromes in his veins, as its special correspondent in the field.

It presented to its readers an immense map of the section of South Africa which was the scene of the conflict, with carefully compiled descriptive statistics of the country. It printed comprehensive articles on Cecil Rhodes, the uncrowned diamond king and maker of modern Africa; the war itself, by Lieutenant-General Schofield; the arms and marksmanship of the Boers, by Maxim, and life in Boerland, by H. C. Hillegas, the American authority on South African matters. Lieutenant Churchill was taken prisoner by the Boers, and E. F. Knight, one of the ablest war correspondents on earth, took his place, only to be wounded at the famous fight at Belmont. He heroically dictated a graphic account of that battle, the best account that came over the cable. John Stuart, a third correspondent of THE WORLD, was cut off by the Boers at Ladysmith, all of which proves that THE WORLD did not err in selecting its correspondents, for the place for a war correspondent is in front, where he runs the risk of being shot or captured in getting accurate news at first hand. THE WORLD has presented the fullest and earliest news from the beginning of hostilities.

TAXING FRANCHISES.

THE WORLD'S crusade against unjust taxation, and its long fight for tax reform, was a memorable feature of the last session of the Legislature. It began January 11 by showing that to meet the extraordinary expenses resulting from the consolidation of more than 100 corporate communities into Greater New York, a tax rate of $2.60 seemed necessary on an increased valuation of $421,000,000; that real estate would be a burden, while the possessors of $7,000,000,000 of personal property in New York would swear off all but $500,000,000, leaving real estate to bear the burden of taxation. It called for a revision of the scheme of taxation, and Governor Roosevelt responded with a recommendation to that effect. Three city wards held meetings, five taxpayers' associations also held meetings to indorse THE WORLD'S crusade. The Real Estate Exchange and the Real Estate Board of Brokers joined with THE WORLD.

THE WORLD revealed that the franchises of corporations holding monopoly for railway tracks, subways, and other privileges in the street were worth not less than a billion dollars, and that these and other tangible franchise properties enjoying privileges of inestimable value from the people were paying nothing for them. If taxed they would yield enough revenue to raise the city's debt limit by at least one hundred million dollars thus enabling the city to issue the necessary bonds for constructing a rapid transit road, and to go on with the East River bridges.

Senator John Ford prepared a bill and presented it to the Legislature, providing for the taxation of all franchises and special privileges. A citizens' mass-meeting at Lenox Lyceum indorsed the bill, and THE WORLD sent able lawyers to Albany to present arguments for the passage of the bill before the Committee on Taxation. On March 21 a whole page of editorial matter set forth the injustice and inequality of the tax laws as they then existed. A petition bearing 19,000 signatures was presented at Albany by THE WORLD. The Franchise Tax bill became a law. The first effect was a renewal of the work of the Rapid Transit Commission. It was the most important legislation in this State in several years.

THE EDITORIAL FORUM.

THE SUNDAY WORLD'S Editorial Forum, an innovation in journalism, has been made brilliant by the contributions of some of the best minds of America and Europe. Among those who have contributed to the discussion of living themes in these columns are Grover Cleveland, "American Citizenship;" Brig.-Gen. Frederick Funston, "The Filipino as a Fighter;" Frank R. Stockton, "The Way Out of the Philippine Embarrassment;" Assemblyman Mazet, "The Lesson of the Investigation;" and Rev. Dr. Chas. H. Parkhurst, "The Devil a Poor Saint," a review of the Mazet Investigation; Paul Leicester Ford, "Democracy and the Fighting Line;" Margaret Sangster, editor of Harper's Bazar, "How Women May Win Success in Journalism;" Dr. T. H. Salisbury, "The Course Dinner a Public Menace;" John Sherman, "What Shall We Do with the Philippines?" Count Ivan Tolstol, "Is War Against the Will of God?" Ira D. Anthony, "Results of Forty Years, a Retrospect;" D. O. Mills, "Ruinous Extravagance of the Poor;" ex-Mayor Wm. L. Strong, "A Lesson in the Price of Wool;" Mrs. Russell Sage, "Women Will Vote in 1914," a prophecy; Wm. R. Merriam, Director-General of the Census, "New York at the End of the Next Century."

AS A MEDIUM OF COMMUNICATION.

When prince or politician, or church dignitary, or scientist, or other publicist desires to express his views to the great American public, he naturally seeks the great representative newspaper of the country. THE WORLD is so considered, and it is recognized as a newspaper bent on printing all the facts, giving fair expression to both sides, as is evidenced by the number and character of those who have used it as a medium of communication.

Ambassador White addressed the American people through THE WORLD in an impressive summing up of the work of the International Peace Conference at The Hague, saying: "It marks the first stage of the abolition of the scourge of war."

The last great public utterance of the late Congressman Nelson Dingley, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, was in the form of an address to the people, in which he presented an able and remarkable exposition of the finances of "Empire," and he chose THE WORLD as the medium through which to reach the people.

Emperor William II. talked to the people of this country through THE WORLD of a closer union of the United States with Germany.

Cardinal Gibbons, head of the Roman Catholic Church in America, reached the people through THE WORLD in a 3,000-word communication on "The Cancer of Divorce."

Vice-President Figuero, of San Domingo, informed the American people through a despatch to THE WORLD that the assassination of President Heureaux was a murder, not a political killing. This gave much relief to those having commercial connections likely to be injured by an uprising in the "Black Republic."

THE RAMAPO ROBBERY.

More water than New York uses goes to waste over the Croton dam, yet the Board of Public Improvements would have given a contract to the Ramapo Water Company, by which it had the privilege of selling $5,000,000 worth of water to the city every year for forty years, had it not been that THE WORLD discovered and exposed the scheme. By the Ramapo robbery the city would have been mulcted in eight years for more than the whole Croton lands, aqueducts, and reservoirs cost, and the life of the contract made it worth $200,000,000 to the conspirators. After the exposure the Board of Public Improvements showed signs of being ready to defy the public, and THE WORLD secured an injunction forbidding the Board to make the contract and killed it.

WOMAN'S ADVANCE IN THE WORLD.

The pages of THE WORLD are guide posts in the progress of civilization, the advance of the people toward that higher life which is the ideal of the sociologist, and in no phase of the onward march has there been anything more conspicuous than the uplifting of woman during the last half of the century. And her advance has been by her own energy and exertion, unaided, as Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton well says, by any party, clique, or conspicuous body of men. Women have given to THE WORLD in the past years many thoughtful, timely articles. Among these contributors have been Susan B. Anthony, who resolutely opposed the entirely feminine movement to keep Roberts, the Mormon Representative-elect, out of Congress, and Mrs. Stanton, the two "Grand Old Women" of America, who have battled for the emancipation of their sisters, as they did fifty years ago for the freedom of the black slaves.

Grace Corneau, Countess de St. Maurice, who accompanied the party of Viceroy and Lady Curzon to India as THE WORLD's special representative at the Maharajah's splendid court, contributed several articles, not the least interesting of which recounted her own experiences hunting real Bengal tigers in the jungles.

Patti's own story of her life, her three husbands, and her greatest love story illustrated the marvelous capacity of the human heart for youthfulness when its owner is happy.

Mmes. Bernhardt and Rejane on the Dreyfus trial.
Helen Gardiner, life-long friend of Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, and author of "The Unofficial Patriot" and "The Rev. Griffith Davenport," wrote after the death of the great agnostic on "The Heart Cry of Ingersoll's Family."

Mrs. John Gilbert marked her eightieth year by writing for THE WORLD about her first appearance on the stage, illustrated by many rare photographs.

Lady Drummond, widow of the grandson of the Earl of Perth, and wife of Harry Masters, a Brooklyn mechanic, told the story of her elopement to America with the Earl's grandson, who became a laborer, and, dying, left her penniless, but with a little daughter who may some day become Lady Drummond.

Mrs. Coghlan, wife of Capt. J. B. Coghlan, of the Raleigh, in her husband's defence.
Mrs. Fred. Funston, wife of "Fighting Fred," now a Brigadier-General, told about the life of a hero's wife after spending her honeymoon on the firing line in the Philippines.

Mrs. Harry J. Collins narrated the story of her life in Alaska.
Mrs. Leonard Wood wrote the story of her life in Santiago and the work of her husband, General Wood, in Cuba.

There were timely articles by Emma Nevada, the famous singer; "Jennie June" (Mrs. J. C. Croly), first President of Sorosis; Mrs. John King Van Rensselaer, Mrs. Burton Harrison, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Beatrice Harraden, and Maude Adams.

BABE RETURNED—KIDNAPPERS PUNISHED.

Baby Marlon Clarke was kidnapped in Central Park on Sunday, May 21. In twenty-four hours every man, woman, and child in New York was searching for the lost baby. Her parents were frantic. The mother became prostrated. For eight days the country was aroused, excited, and angry over this dastardly outrage. On May 23 THE WORLD offered a reward of $1,000 to any one "who shall furnish to the Chief of Detectives of the New York City police force information leading to the recovery of the child, and leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who planned, executed, or abetted said kidnapping."

On May 21 two women with a girl baby rented a room for the night in the home of Mrs. James Cosgriff in Brooklyn. On May 23 Mrs. Cosgriff saw a picture of Baby Marlon Clarke in THE WORLD. She notified Chief McClusky of her strange guests, who had been overheard saying they were going to a place the name of which ended in "burg," the fare to which was $2.50. McClusky's men were soon scouring the regions of Sloatsburg, N. Y. Meantime Ada B. Carey, postmistress at St. John's, a lonely hamlet in the Ramapo Mountains, a few miles from Sloatsburg, had seen that picture, and she immediately recognized it as the portrait of a strange child in the custody of a strange visitor to her post-office, and set out to find a justice of the peace and get a warrant. Mamie Conklin, of St. John's, saw this woman and child and her suspicious were aroused. Her father sent a telegram to Capt. McClusky, which gave him the first information of where the child was. George Beaugard Barrow and his wife were arrested May 29, near St. John's, with Baby Clarke in their hands, and "Carrie Jones," the nursemaid, whose real name was Belle Anderson, was identified by a picture in THE WORLD and arrested at Summit, N. J., on June 2. Baby Marlon was restored to her parents.

All three kidnapers were indicted, tried, and convicted within two weeks, and are now serving heavy sentences in State prisons. On June 2 Capt. McClusky, in accordance with THE WORLD's offer, divided the reward between Mrs. James Cosgriff and Austin Conklin.

INTERESTING SPECIAL FEATURES.

The publication of the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon's wonderful book, "In His Steps," as a serial in THE WORLD was one of the most talked-of exploits of journalism during the year.

It was followed by H. G. Wells' remarkable story, "When the Sleeper Wakes," which told of the new life opened to a man who, falling asleep in the nineteenth century, awakes in the twenty-first century.

Miss Maude Adams' charming narrative of "Romeo and Juliet," in which she was playing at the time, and a delightful prose version of "Barbara Frietchie," by Julia Marlowe, for whom it had been dramatized, were among the literary features of THE WORLD.

THE WORLD had the pleasure of introducing the famous actress, Miss Clara Morris, as a story writer of no small talent.

"The New Decameron" made ten days of story telling, in which A. Conan Doyle, Maurice Jokal, William Le Queu, Julian Hawthorne, the late Grant Allen, George R. Sims, Gilbert Parker, Justin H. McCarthy, W. Clark Russell, and S. Baring Gould took part.

Hugh Bonner, ex-Chief of the New York Fire Department, wrote a series of true stories of the exploits of the army of heroes from the head of which he had just retired.

Dr. Talmage's Saturday lectures followed Revivalist Moody's one-minute sermons, and John Swinton's articles on social and labor questions kept both company.

Of great interest to amateur and professional sports were the lessons in billiards by Jacob Schaefer, "The Wizard of the Cue;" in wrestling, by Ernest Roeber; in boxing, by Terry McGovern; in dancing, by Prof. Carl Marwig, each fully illustrated and diagrammed.

WHAT OTHER PEOPLE SAY ABOUT THE WORLD.

The Buffalo Times—Some citizens of the United States, under the lead of one of its enterprising journals, the New York World, made an effort (in behalf of the Boers) to put in practice the principles and fine theories of The Hague Peace Conference. The opportunity was a fine one to apply the plan formulated by the conference.

The Worcester Spy—The New York World continues its efforts to induce the President to suggest to Great Britain that arbitration is better than war in the case of the Boers. It is pertinent at this time to inquire what the great Peace Conference at The Hague in the Woods accomplished last Summer. Many days were given up to the agitation of olive branches and plans for universal peace. Yet there is no peace. Hardly was the convention over when the tocsin of war sounded.

Omaha World-Herald—President McKinley has rejected the monster petition of the New York World praying him to offer his services as mediator between England and the Transvaal. The World-Herald believes that alike from a religious, a humane, or a political standpoint the President's action is indefensible.

Leslie's Weekly—We doubt if any newspaper has ever before succeeded in getting behind it such powerful influences in the professional, political, social, and business world as the New York World gathered together in its spirited effort to secure the friendly mediation of the United States between Great Britain and the South African Republics. THE WORLD'S petition to the President, asking him to offer the friendly services of this country in the field of arbitration, was the legitimate outcome of the great Peace Congress at The Hague, and the first real and practical effort since the close of that congress to carry out its purpose. It is not surprising that the great New York newspaper had the earnest and prompt support of every thoughtful man who realized the horrors of war and the beneficent influences of peace.

Middletown Daily Argus—The New York World is just now made especially attractive by a new style of illustration, which has been copied by other metropolitan dailies and by papers in the large Western cities. It is a sort of crayon imitation, and is particularly effective, that of the late President Faure being pronounced especially good.

Trenton True American—The New York World is entitled to the credit of having taken the initiative in breaking the mystery that has so sedulously been kept around the Adams poisoning case.

William Barnes, Jr., editor of the Albany Journal—The modern development of newspapers is certainly along the lines of THE WORLD'S departure. The people more and more desire to hear what others have to say.

B. F. Paine, Cleveland Press—There is and always will be a demand for the opinions of people who have studied things social, political, religious, economic, and scientific. That demand you have, I take it, undertaken to supply with editorials signed by such men as Sherman, Tolstoi, Sampson, and Sankey, presented in THE WORLD'S Editorial Forum.

Clark Howell, Atlanta Constitution—The Editorial Forum appeals to the common sense of the reading public, and is a distinct recognition of the demand of intelligence rather than a surrender to sensationalism.

E. A. Grozier, Boston Post—In my opinion the Editorial Forum of THE WORLD is a very excellent feature, appealing, as it does, to intelligent and thoughtful people.

E. H. Clement, Boston Transcript—I have admired greatly from the first THE WORLD'S Editorial Forum. It seems to me the augury and realization of a better journalism.

Harrisburg Telegraph—The New York World is engaged in an enterprise that the press of the country will heartily indorse—it is exposing the Christian Scientist healers, and doing it in such a way as must drive the quacks out of business. More power to it, and may it keep up the work until the sham is riddled to pieces.

M. Paul de Rousiers' book on "American Social Life," Paris—The influence of certain American journals is great. The New York World enjoys an incontestable authority.

Oshkosh Times—A Tammany man sued THE WORLD for $75,000 and got six cents. The verdict is more cruel than the original libel.

Paris Journal des Debats—THE WORLD has many detractors, but even more readers. It is the most widely read sheet in the United States. It often prints more than a million copies in a day.

COMPELLING COMPENSATION FOR FRANCHISES.

When street railway competition in New York was reduced to two companies, through the absorption of all the others, and these two "pooled their issues" and agreed to divide up the eighty miles of streets for which each had asked a franchise, THE WORLD pointed out that this meant an absence of that competition which would make the public sale of the franchises a real auction. Each company asked only for a franchise for such streets as had been allotted to it in the combine, and offered to the city 3 per cent of the gross receipts for the first five years, and 5 per cent for the twenty years remaining of the term of the franchise. THE WORLD protested that these were the most valuable franchises the city had to give, with a monopoly of the traffic from the city to Yonkers, and that much higher compensation should be given. It showed that sixteen street surface railways alone, capitalized at $78,600,000, with gross earnings in 1896 of $13,869,000, paid into the city treasury on franchise account only $192,000. The Board of Estimate saw the light, and fixed the rates for the first sixteen-mile franchise at 4 per cent for the first five years, 6 per cent for the second five years, 8 per cent for the third five years, and 10 per cent for the remaining ten years.

DEFEAT OF THE ASTORIA GRAB.

The defeat of the attempt of the Astoria Light, Heat, and Power Company to grab a monopoly of the city's streets, under the guise of a bill before the Legislature purporting to be intended only to give the Consolidated Gas Company the right to lay pipes under the East River, connecting the company's new works on the Long Island side with its feed pipes on the New York side, was one of the notable services of THE WORLD to the public of New York City.

INCREASE OF TEACHERS' SALARIES.

One of the proudest public services performed by THE WORLD during the past year was that of securing for the 10,000 teachers in the public schools of the Imperial City of America, through the passage of the Ahearn Teachers' Salary bill, assurances of a steady and steadily increasing return in wages. It made an immediate increase in the salary appropriation of above $500,000, and gave zealous teachers something to look forward to.

FIRST NEWS IN THE WORLD.

Other newspapers got their first news from the columns of THE WORLD regarding these happenings during 1899:

- The death of Vice-President Hobart.
- The railway disaster at West Dunellen, near Bound Brook, N. J., January 10, in which sixteen persons were killed and more than thirty injured.
- The safety of all the passengers on the American line steamship Paris, about whose fate all America was worrying.
- The result of the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons prize fight for the world's championship.
- Richard Croker's explanation on behalf of the city administration of the doubling of assessments for taxation purposes.
- The first statement of Harry Cornish in the Mrs. Adams poisoning case.
- The neglect of the ashes of Col. George E. Waring, Jr.
- The retirement of Secretary of War R. A. Alger from the President's Cabinet.
- Of the hardest battle on land in the Philippines, the news of which was given to President McKinley in Thomasville, Ga., March 25, first by THE WORLD.
- The confession of James Billings to William Johnson that he murdered Susie Martin in March, 1894.
- The solution of the mystery of the murder of Benjamin Nathan through the death of Frene McCready, thirty years after the tragedy.
- The confession of Martha Place, electrocuted for the murder of her stepdaughter, Ida Place, March 21.
- Accounts of the progress of the record-making automobile expedition from Buffalo to New York by the only reporter on the vehicle.
- Commander Lucien Young's startling discovery regarding the blowing up of the Maine with gun-totton November 25. Secretary of the Navy Long got the first news of it from THE WORLD.
- The story of the secret marriage of Anna M. Wright to the late Thomas J. Havemeyer.

COMMEMORATIVE AND SPECIAL NUMBERS.

The special numbers of THE WORLD in commemoration of historical events, or celebration of National, State, or municipal occasions, are famous all over the land.

The year began with the New Year's number. It had twenty-four pages of marvellous printing in colors, reproductions of great works of art, photographs, and original drawings all delicately colored; a splendid review of the historical aspects of progress, by John Bach McMaster; review of the century from a religious viewpoint, by Rabbi Gustav Gottheil and Rev. Lyman Abbott; "The Development of the Press," by Postmaster-General Charles Emory Smith; "Mercantile Progress," by Robert Dun Douglas; "One Hundred Years in the United States Army," by Major-Gen. Nelson A. Miles; "The West," by ex-Senator John J. Ingalls; "What the Century Has Done for Women," by Julia Ward Howe; "A Century in Medicine," by Dr. George F. Shrady; "The Player and the Playhouse," by Joseph Jefferson.

The "Jackson's Day" number, next in order chronologically, was scarcely less interesting, with its graphic account of the life of "Old Hickory," the battles of Buena Vista and New Orleans.

THE NATION'S DAY OF MOURNING.

The Memorial Day WORLD presented portraits in half-tone of over 200 of the nation's heroes who laid down their lives that the glory of the constellation in the old flag should not be dimmed, besides pictures of New York's hero dead in that group of martyrs who fell in the Spanish War, with the story of how and where they fell. There were thoughtful contributions, too, by Gen. Nelson A. Miles, Gen. Arthu MacArthur, Gen. Frederick Funston, Gen. Lloyd Wheaton, Gen. Irving Hale, Gen. Joseph E. Wheeler, the late Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, the Rev. William S. Rainsford, the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, Mrs. Jefferson Davis, Mrs. Eliza Rogers Sigsbee, wife of the commander of the Maine, and Mrs. John A. Logan.

SPECIAL NUMBERS.

The Thanksgiving number was conspicuously fine. It consisted of seven parts, and included a "Hymn of Thanksgiving," written specially for THE WORLD by Fanny J. Crosby, with music by Ira D. Sankey.

There was the Summer Fashion number, with its special half-tone supplement in colors, portraying styles in everything for men and women from top to toe.

The Coast number was a cinematograph of the joyous vacation life along the shore from Sandy Hook to Barnegat, in colors and half tone.

The Horse Show number told exactly what was the proper thing in dress for the opening event of the town season, with a two-page series of color pictures and photographs taken expressly for THE WORLD, and presented a full-page reproduction in colors of Gilbert Gaul's painting, "The Horse Show."

The Victorian number, on Her Majesty's birthday, in addition to a splendidly illustrated story of Queen Victoria and her own message of thanks to THE WORLD, presented comments on her life and character from ex-President Harrison, President Porfirio Diaz, of Mexico; Mrs. John A. Logan, Mrs. Jefferson Davis, President Angell, of the University of Michigan; Bishop Doane, of Albany; Bishop Cheney, of Chicago; Bishop Ninde, President Jordan, of Stanford University; Marie Corelli, Lady Jeune, Susan B. Anthony, and the Governors of many States and the representatives of the great women's societies.

On the first anniversary of the Battle of Manila Bay and the "Greatest News Beat of the Century," scored by THE WORLD in its account of that battle, days ahead of any other newspaper, a life history of Dewey, from his boyhood in Vermont down to the bestowal of the highest honors a sailor can attain, was given with a special half-tone supplement in colors.

The Dewey number was another conspicuous triumph. It was a feature of the city's welcome to the nation's idol. It was accompanied by a grand, large portrait of the Admiral in colors; the story of George Dewey's life, from the cradle to the Admiralty, written by John R. Spears, the historian of the American Navy, and enriched by a multitude of graphic illustrations; a spirited two-page picture in colors of the Battle of Manila Bay, and a fine picture of the Dewey Arch of Triumph in Madison Square as illuminated the night of New York City's reception to the returning hero.

The Pulitzer Building, home of THE WORLD, was splendidly decorated and illuminated during the Dewey celebration, and the Statue of Liberty in the harbor was made a blaze of glory by night by THE WORLD.

The Christmas number, December 10, had as its leading feature an original story by Mark Twain, "My First Lie, and How I Got Out of It," and was a conspicuous addition to the literature of the year.

MINOR SERVICES.

After long, patient, hard work by THE WORLD for open-air public gymnasiums for the benefit of the youth of the tenement-house district, Seward Park was turned over to the Outdoor Recreation League last Summer, and a completely equipped gymnasium and playground established there.

Two new recreation piers, making eleven in all of these delightful breathing spots on our river fronts, have been opened during the year under the Walker law, the passage of which was secured by THE WORLD.

The boys' club idea of THE WORLD, further extending the usefulness to the people of the public school-houses, is under experiment in two of the school-houses at present and a dozen clubs of embryo statesmen hold forth during the week in their free club rooms.

Thanks to THE WORLD's sturdy championship of common sense, the delicatessen dealers and other caterers to the poor can no longer be molested by the Sunday-closing associations or other intolerant reformers who would curtail personal liberty.

THE WORLD made a careful canvass and found that 25,000 children were crowded out of school for lack of room. It entered upon a crusade for new school-houses, and, after a seven months' fight, a bond issue of $7,673,640 was authorized by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and approved by the Municipal Assembly, and the work of building twenty-four new schools was begun.

THE WORLD scored a victory in its fight against the soft-coal nuisance, securing indictments against those who persisted in polluting and darkening the atmosphere of the city with soft-coal smoke, their speedy trial, and prompt conviction and punishment.

After giving to its readers the best account of the "drifting" races of the Columbia and Shamrock, and chronicling the eight failures to get wind enough to race, THE WORLD, joining with the London Mail, offered a $500 cup for a special race or races between the yachts on a triangular course on the first windy day. Sir Thomas Lipton gratefully thanked THE WORLD for the generous offer, and would have accepted the proposition had it not happened that on the last trial it was "nothing but Shamrock weather," and he manfully and in a sportsmanlike way, conceded that "the Columbia was the better boat and could out sail the Shamrock in any kind of race."

After the disastrous Windsor Hotel fire THE WORLD made a special effort to ascertain the name of every fireman who had distinguished himself by special heroism in that holocaust. It published a long roll of honor, with the portraits and brief biographies of the men, together with a graphic account of the especial deed of bravery and self-sacrifice performed by each.

Through THE WORLD's exposure of the cruelty and mismanagement of the Elmira Reformatory, and its advocacy of the establishment of a reformatory for New York City, the plans for such an institution on Riker's Island came about.

The scheme in the Municipal Council to make a park out of the triangle at Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets, Broadway and Fifth avenue, at a cost to the city of $3,000,000, was killed. The secret purpose was to give the Metropolitan Street Railway more room for its switching yard at this point.

ABOLISHING SWEAT SHOPS.

The exposure of the cruelties practised, and the dangers menacing the young girls and children employed in the sweat shops, where government and civilian clothing was made, resulted first in the decision of the Army and Navy Departments that no more uniforms should be made in these vile places, and then, by the passage of the Costello "Anti-Sweat Shop" bill by the Legislature, Governor Roosevelt appointed Jacob A. Riis a special commissioner to investigate the sweat shops. Citizens in mass-meeting indorsed the bill, the Central Federated Union, the President of the Board of Health, and several clergymen approved THE WORLD's crusade, and the Governor signed the bill. Mr. Riis said of THE WORLD's fight against the sweat shops: "It is the best thing that has been done for the women and children, to whom starvation wages are paid. Doing away with the sweat-shop evil means better pay and shorter hours for thousands."

BROCKWAYISM CURBED.

THE WORLD's long war against "Brockwayism" has resulted at last in the abolishing of the paddle, the strap, and the chain as implements of punishment in the Elmira Reformatory, though not until Z. R. Brockway, the Superintendent of this institution for the reformation of young first offenders against the law, had admitted that thirty-three reformatory inmates had become insane in the first ten months of 1899, and had been sent to the State Hospital for Insane Criminals. THE WORLD exposed the brutality of Brockway by scores of sworn witnesses. Many judges flatly refused to sentence young criminals to Elmira after that, and until Governor Roosevelt selected a new board of managers. The new board has put a stop to his methods, and no inmate will ever again be paddled or chained to the floor.

EXPERTS AND SPECIALISTS AS REPORTERS FOR THE WORLD.

Commissioner Peck, representative of this Government at the Paris Exposition, wrote a full report in May of the progress of the work and America's share in the exposition.

President Truesdale, of the Delaware, Lackawanna, and Western Railroad, wrote a convincing article showing why his road makes eight hours of rest compulsory among its employes.

Rear-Admiral William T. Sampson reported for THE WORLD on the work of the Naval Reserve in the Cuban campaign.

Senator Depew and Representative William Astor Chanler reported the opening of their respective bodies of Congress for THE WORLD.

MUSIC FOR THE MILLIONS.

THE WORLD treated its readers to a library of music last Summer by a unique and gigantic enterprise which involved the printing and distribution to its readers of ten pieces of music, songs by eminent and popular composers, to the number of over 5,000,000.

THE END OF ALGERISM.

When the scandals in the management of the War Department had demonstrated the necessity for a change, THE WORLD demanded a surcease of Algerism. It kept up the fight until more than half the newspapers in the United States joined in asking for the dismissal of Secretary Alger from the Cabinet. THE WORLD published, in reduced fac-simile, editorials from 132 daily newspapers of all parties, sustaining its position. It showed that the United States Government had spent $99,660 in an investigation, in which the investigators had plainly whitewashed the Secretary. Alger left the Cabinet July 19, and THE WORLD was ahead of all its contemporaries in publishing the news.

TO HARLEM IN FIFTEEN MINUTES.

"To Harlem in Fifteen Minutes" has been THE WORLD'S slogan in its long campaign for rapid transit. When other obstacles had been eliminated and the Rapid Transit Commission had formulated a plan for the underground road it was found that the city's debt was close up to the constitutional limit. The Legislature was asked to amend the law so that the tunnel might be built by private parties. THE WORLD suggested a people's syndicate, and, as an evidence of its sincerity, pledged itself to take $7,000,000 worth of the $75,000,000 capitalization necessary. The balance needed was offered within three days. At the recent election, however, an amendment to the Constitution was ratified by the people separating county debts from city debts, for the purpose of computing the bond-issuing capacity of the city, and this at once provided available funds. A half dozen qualified firms have prepared to bid for the work of constructing the road, and the year 1900 promises to see the work begun.

LIFTING THE PARNELL MORTGAGE.

When Lord Mayor Tallon, of Dublin, and John Redmond, M. P., visited America and appealed on behalf of the Irish people for assistance in paying off the long overdue mortgage upon the home of the late leader and idol of the home rulers, Charles Stewart Parnell, THE WORLD joined in the work, and in three days more than enough money was raised, and the home of Ireland's greatest leader of modern days was saved.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The movement to secure a Public Library Building to house the Astor-Lenox-Tilden City Library, and to be opened in the evenings and on Sundays, and to provide a circulating library for the poor, which was started by THE WORLD, was crowned with success when on April 4 the Board of Estimate authorized, and the Municipal Assembly approved, the issue of $500,000 in bonds to pay the expense of removing the old reservoir from the site selected in Bryant Park, Fifth Avenue, Forty to Forty-second Street. The work was begun within a month, and the $2,500,000 library building will be reared and ready for occupancy by 1902.

THE AMSTERDAM AVENUE GRAB.

After a fight lasting 108 days, in which the most powerful political influence and the ablest legal talent in New York was arrayed against THE WORLD in its effort to save Amsterdam Avenue, in New York, from the street railway corporation which, reckless of the lives and limbs of the school children, men, and women who must cross this crowded thoroughfare daily, would have laid four parallel tracks for electric cars there, and indeed did actually go on with the work and laid five miles of tracks, the measure known as the "Amsterdam Avenue bill" passed the Legislature and became a law.

Ember and Rogation Days.

EMBER and Rogation Days are certain periods of the year devoted to prayer and fasting. Ember Days (twelve annually) are the Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday after the first Sunday in Lent, after the feast of Pentecost (Whit Sunday), after the festival of the Holy Cross (September 14), and after the festival of St. Lucia (December 13). Ember Weeks are the weeks in which the Ember Days appear.

Rogation Days are the three days immediately preceding Holy Thursday or Ascension Day.

Church Fasts.

THE Roman Catholic Days of fasting are the forty days of Lent, the Ember Days, the Wednesdays and Thursdays of the four weeks in Advent, and certain vigils or evenings prior to the greater feasts. In the American Episcopal Church the days of fasting or abstinence to be observed, according to the Book of Common Prayer, are the forty days of Lent, the Ember Days, the three Rogation Days, and all the Fridays of the year except Christmas Day. In the Greek Church the four principal fasts are those in Lent, the week succeeding Whitsuntide, the fortnight before the Assumption and forty days before Christmas.

Divisions of Time.

THE Interval between two consecutive transits of a fixed star over any meridian or the Interval during which the earth makes one absolute revolution on its axis is called a Sidereal Day, and is invariable, while the interval between two consecutive transits of the Sun over any meridian is called an Apparent Solar Day, and its length varies from day to day by reason of the variable motion of the earth in its orbit, and the inclination of this orbit to the equator, on which time is measured.

A Mean Solar Day is the average or mean of all the apparent solar days in a year. Mean Solar Time is that shown by a well-regulated clock or watch, while Apparent Solar Time is that shown by a well-constructed sun-dial; the difference between the two at any time is the Equation of Time, and may amount to 16 minutes and 21 seconds. The Astronomical Day begins at noon and the Civil Day at the preceding midnight. The Sidereal and Mean Solar Days are both invariable, but one day of the latter is equal to 1 day, 3 minutes, and 56.555 seconds of the former.

The Interval during which the earth makes one absolute revolution round the Sun is called a Sidereal Year, and consists of 365 days, 6 hours, 9 minutes, and 9.6 seconds, which is invariable.

The Tropical Year is the interval between two consecutive returns of the Sun to the Vernal Equinox. If this were a fixed point, the Sidereal and Tropical Years would be identical; but in consequence of the disturbing influence of the moon and planets on the spheroidal figure of the earth, the Equinox has a slow, retrograde mean motion of 50.26'' annually, so that the Sun returns to the Equinox sooner every year than he otherwise would by 20 minutes 23.6 seconds; the Tropical Year, therefore, consists of 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, and 46 seconds. The Tropical Year is not of uniform length; it is now slowly decreasing at the rate of .595 second per century, but this variation will not always continue.

Julius Cæsar, in B. C. 45, was the first to reform the calendar by ordering that every year whose date number is exactly divisible by 4 contain 366 days, and all other years 365 days. The intercalary day was introduced by counting the sixth day before the Kalends of March twice; hence the name bissextile, from bis, twice, and sex, six. He also changed the beginning of the year from 1st of March to the 1st of January, and also changed the name of the fifth month (Quintilis) to July, after himself. The average length of the Julian year is therefore 365.25 days, which, however, is too long by 11 minutes and 14 seconds, and this would accumulate in 400 years to about three days. The Julian Calendar continued in use until A. D. 1582, when the date of the beginning of the seasons occurred 10 days later than in B. C. 45, when this mode of reckoning time was introduced.

The Gregorian Year was introduced by Pope Gregory XIII. with the view of keeping the Equinox to the same day of the month. It consists of 365 days, but every year exactly divisible by 4 and the centennial years which are exactly divisible by 400 contain 366 days; and if in addition to this arbitrary arrangement the centennial years exactly divisible by 4,000 contain 366 days, the error in the Gregorian system will amount to only one day in about 20 centuries. If, however, 31 leap years were intercalated in 128 years, instead of 32 as at present, the calendar would be practically exact and the error would not amount to more than a day in 100,000 years. The length of the mean Gregorian Year may therefore be set down at 365 days, 5 hours, 49 minutes, 12 seconds. The Gregorian Calendar was introduced into England and her colonies in 1752, at which time the Equinox had retrograded 11 days since the Council of Nice in A. D. 325, when the festival of Easter was established and the Equinox occurred on March 21; hence September 3, 1752, was called September 14, and at the same time the commencement of the legal year was changed from March 25 to January 1, so that the year 1751 lost the months of January and February and the first 24 days of March. The difference between the Julian and Gregorian Calendars is now 12 days. Russia and the Greek Church still employ the Julian Calendar for civil and ecclesiastical purposes.

Standard Time.

PRIMARILY, for the convenience of the railroads, a standard of time was established by mutual agreement in 1883, by which trains are run and local time regulated. According to this system, the United States, extending from 65° to 125° west longitude, is divided into four time sections, each of 15° of longitude, exactly equivalent to one hour, commencing with the 75th meridian. The first (eastern) section includes all territory between the Atlantic coast and an irregular line drawn from Detroit to Charleston, S. C., the latter being its most southern point. The second (central) section includes all the territory between the last-named line and an irregular line from Bismarck, N. D., to the mouth of the Rio Grande. The third (mountain) section includes all territory between the last-named line and nearly the western borders of Idaho, Utah, and Arizona. The fourth (Pacific) section covers the rest of the country to the Pacific coast. Standard time is uniform inside each of these sections, and the time of each section differs from that next to it by exactly one hour. Thus at 12 noon in New York City (eastern time), the time at Chicago (central time) is 11 o'clock A. M.; at Denver (mountain time), 10 o'clock A. M., and at San Francisco (Pacific time), 9 o'clock A. M. Standard time is 16 minutes slower at Boston than true local time, 4 minutes slower at New York, 8 minutes faster at Washington, 19 minutes faster at Charleston, 28 minutes slower at Detroit, 18 minutes faster at Kansas City, 10 minutes slower at Chicago, 1 minute faster at St. Louis, 28 minutes faster at Salt Lake City, and 10 minutes faster at San Francisco.

The above table applies to ordinary years only. For leap year, one day must be added to each number of days after February 28.

EXAMPLE.—To find the number of days between June 3, 1900, and February 16, 1901: The figures opposite the third day in the first June column are 154; those opposite the sixteenth day in the second February column are 412. Subtract the first from the second product—i. e., 154 from 412, and the result is 258, the number of days between the two dates.

On shipboard, for purpose of discipline and to divide the watch fairly, the crew is mustered in two divisions, the Starboard (right side, looking toward the head) and the Port (left). The day commences at noon, and is thus divided: Afternoon Watch, noon to 4 P. M.; First Dog Watch, 4 P. M. to 6 P. M.; Second Dog Watch, 6 P. M. to 8 P. M.; First Watch, 8 P. M. to Midnight; Middle Watch, 12 A. M. to 4 A. M.; Morning Watch, 4 A. M. to 8 A. M.; Forenoon Watch, 8 A. M. to noon. This makes seven WATCHES, which enables the crew to keep them alternately, as the Watch which comes on duty at noon one day has the afternoon next day, and the men who have only four hours' rest one night have eight hours the next. This is the reason for having Dog Watches, which are made by dividing the hours between 4 P. M. and 8 P. M. into two Watches. Time is kept by means of "Bells," although sometimes there is but one Bell on the ship. — Whitaker.

ASTRONOMICAL SIGNS AND SYMBOLS.

|---|------------|---|----------|---|------------------|

| ☾ | The Moon.  | ♃ | Jupiter. | ☽ | Quadrature.      |
| ☿ | Mercury.   | ♄ | Saturn.  | ☽ | Opposition.      |
| ♁ | Venus.     | ♅ | Uranus.  | ☽ | Ascending Node.  |
| ♁ | The Earth. | ♆ | Neptune. | ☽ | Descending Node. |

Two heavenly bodies are in 'conjunction' ( $\odot$ ) when they have the same Right Ascension, or are on the same meridian, i. e. when one is due north or south of the other; if the bodies are near each other as seen from the earth, they will rise and set at the same time; they are in 'opposition' ( $\oslash$ ) when in opposite quarters of the heavens, or when one rises just as the other is setting. 'Quadrature' is half way between conjunction and opposition. By 'greatest elongation' is meant the greatest apparent angular distance from the sun; the planet is then generally most favorably situated for observation. Mercury can only be seen with the naked eye at this time. When a planet is in its 'ascending' ( $\Omega$ ) or 'descending' ( $\oslash$ ) node it is crossing the plane of the earth's orbit. The term 'Perihelion' means nearest, and 'Aphelion' farthest, from the sun. An 'occultation' of a planet or star is an eclipse of it by some other body usually the moon.

I—OCCULTATIONS.

During the year 1900 there will be two occultations of Saturn and one of Uranus by the Moon, visible in this country. The dates of immersion and emersion—that is, of beginning and ending—expressed in local mean time, are, for the places below, as follows:

The immersion of Uranus occurs during twilight; a small telescope or a good opera-glass will therefore be necessary to obtain a clear view of it.

II—ECLIPSES.

In the year 1900 there will be three Eclipses; two of the Sun and one of the Moon, as follows:

1. A total Eclipse of the Sun May 28, visible as a partial or total Eclipse throughout the whole of North America except the extreme western part of Alaska, that part of South America north of a line drawn from the Gulf of Guayaquil to Georgetown in British Guiana, the whole of Europe, the northern and central portions of Africa, and the northwestern part of Asia. The path of the total Eclipse begins at 8h. 6m. A. M. Washington mean time in Latitude  $17^{\circ} 50'$  North and Longitude  $116^{\circ} 38'$  West, which point is in the Pacific Ocean southwest of Cape St. Lucas, old California; moving in a northeasterly direction it enters Mexico about midway between Mazatlan and the mouth of the San Pedro River passing almost directly over Gonzales, Mazapil, Potosi, Monterey, and Cadereyta in Mexico; Edinburgh, Tex., and enters the Gulf of Mexico about 40 miles north of Brownsville, Tex.; after traversing the northwest corner of the gulf it passes over Morgan City and New Orleans, La.: Bay St. Louis, Mississippi City Biloxi and Scranton, Miss.; Mobile, Evergreen, Rutledge, and Union Springs, Ala.: Columbus, Thomaston, Barnesville, Monticello, and Greensboro, Ga.; New Market and Chester S. C.; Monroe, Troy Carthage, Osgood, Moncure, Raleigh, Nashville, Lewisburg, Halifax, Jackson, and Winton, N. C.; Suffolk, Princess Anne Portsmouth, Newport News, Norfolk, Virginia Beach, and Capes Henry and Charles, Va. It then enters the Atlantic, still moving in a northeasterly direction until it arrives at or near Latitude  $45^{\circ}$  North, when it gradually changes its direction and moves southeasterly, passing directly over the city of Coimbra, in Portugal, a little to the north of Ciudad Real in Spain, and enters the Mediterranean at a point in Latitude  $38^{\circ} 7'$  North and Longitude  $0^{\circ} 40'$  West, near the mouth of the River Segura; after crossing the Mediterranean it passes over the city of Algiers, skirts the coast of Tripoli for  $10^{\circ}$  of Longitude and terminates at sunset in Upper Egypt at 11h. 25m. A. M., Washington mean time, in Latitude  $25^{\circ} 21'$  North and Longitude  $31^{\circ} 37'$  East, having traversed  $148\frac{1}{4}^{\circ}$  of Longitude in 3h. 19m. The entire duration of the Eclipse is 5h. 23m. During the passage of the shadow over the United States it moves at an average rate of 41 miles per minute and its diameter when passing over Norfolk, Va., is about 60 miles.

The dates of beginning and ending of the partial and total phases at the following places in the United States are given below and are expressed in local mean time (not standard time):

JULY 4. INDEPENDENCE DAY: In all the States and the District of Columbia.

JULY 24. PIONEERS' DAY: In Utah.

AUGUST 16. BENNINGTON BATTLE DAY: In Vermont.

SEPTEMBER 3, 1900. LABOR DAY: In all the States and Territories (and District of Columbia), except Arizona, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, and Vermont. Is observed in Wyoming, but is not a legal holiday.

SEPTEMBER 6, 1900. LABOR DAY: In North Carolina.

SEPTEMBER 9. ADMISSION DAY: In California.

NOVEMBER 1. ALL SAINTS' DAY: In Louisiana.

NOVEMBER — GENERAL ELECTION DAY: In Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia, Washington, Wisconsin, and Wyoming, in the years when elections are held in these States. In 1900 the date is November 6.

NOVEMBER 25. LABOR DAY: In parish of Orleans, Louisiana.

NOVEMBER — 1900. THANKSGIVING DAY (either the fourth or last Thursday in November in 1900, as the President may determine): is observed in all the States, and in the District of Columbia, though in some States it is not a statutory holiday.

DECEMBER 25. CHRISTMAS DAY: In all the States, and in the District of Columbia.

Sundays and Fast Days are legal holidays in all the States which designate them as such.

There are no statutory holidays in Mississippi and Nevada, but by common consent the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving, and Christmas are observed as holidays in Mississippi. In Kansas Decoration Day, Labor Day, and Washington's Birthday are the only legal holidays by legislative enactment; other legal holidays are so only by common consent. In New Mexico Decoration Day, Labor Day, and Arbor Day are holidays when so designated by the Governor.

ARBOR DAY is a legal holiday in Arizona, Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin, and Wyoming, the day being set by the Governor: in Texas, February 22; in Nebraska, April 22; Montana, May 8; Utah, April 16; Rhode Island, May 11; Florida, first Friday in February; Georgia, first Friday in December; Colorado (school holiday only), third Friday in April; Idaho (school holiday only), first Friday after May 1.

Every Saturday after 12 o'clock noon is a legal holiday in New York, New Jersey, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Tennessee, Virginia, and the city of New Orleans, and in Newcastle County, Del., except in St. George's Hundred; in Louisiana and Missouri in cities of 100,000 or more inhabitants; in Ohio in cities of 50,000 or more inhabitants; and June 1 to August 31 in Denver, Col. In the District of Columbia for all purposes respecting the presentation for payment or acceptance or the protesting of all commercial paper whatsoever. In Connecticut and Maine banks close at 12 noon on Saturdays.

There is no national holiday, not even the Fourth of July. Congress has at various times appointed special holidays. In the second session of the Fifty-third Congress it passed an act making Labor Day a public holiday in the District of Columbia and it has recognized the existence of certain days as holidays, for commercial purposes, but, with the exception named, there is no general statute on the subject. The proclamation of the President designating a day of Thanksgiving only makes it a legal holiday in those States which provide by law for it.

Old English Holidays.

THESE holidays, with their names, had their origin in mediæval England when the State religion was that of the Church of Rome, and they are still observed generally or in some parts of England, Scotland, and Ireland.

JANUARY 6. TWELFTH DAY, or Twelfth-tide, sometimes called Old Christmas Day, the same as Epiphany. The previous evening is Twelfth Night, with which many social rites have long been connected.

FEBRUARY 2. CANDELMAS: Festival of the Purification of the Virgin. Consecration of the lighted candles to be used in the church during the year.

FEBRUARY 14. OLD CANDELMAS: St. Valentine's Day.

MARCH 25. LADY DAY: Annunciation of the Virgin. April 6 is Old Lady Day.

JUNE 24. MIDSUMMER DAY: Feast of the Nativity of John the Baptist. July 7 is old Midsommer Day.

JULY 15. ST. SWITHIN'S DAY. There was an old superstition that if rain fell on this day it would continue forty days.

AUGUST 1. LAMMAS DAY Originally in England the festival of the wheat harvest. In the Church the festival of St. Peter's miraculous deliverance from prison. Old Lammas Day is August 13.

SEPTEMBER 29. MICHAELMAS: Feast of St. Michael, the Archangel. Old Michaelmas is October 11.

NOVEMBER 1. ALLHALLOWMAS: All-hallows, or All Saints' Day. The previous evening is All-hallow-e'en, observed by home gatherings and old-time festive rites.

NOVEMBER 2. ALL SOULS' DAY: Day of prayer for the souls of the dead.

NOVEMBER 11. MARTINMAS: Feast of St. Martin. Old Martinmas is November 23.

DECEMBER 28. CHILDERMAS: Holy Innocents' Day.

Lady Day, Midsommer Day, Michaelmas, and Christmas are quarter (rent) days in England, and Whitsunday, Martinmas, Candelmas, and Lammas Day in Scotland.

Shrove Tuesday, the day before Ash Wednesday, and Maundy Thursday, the day before Good Friday, are observed by the Church. Mothering Sunday is Mid-Lent Sunday, in which the old rural custom obtains of visiting one's parents and making them presents.

Astronomical Constants.

The mean obliquity of the ecliptic for the year 1900 is 23° 27' 8".26. Mean annual diminution, 0".46.

The present accepted value of the solar parallax is 8".81 at the earth's mean distance, which is 92,790,000 miles, with a probable error of about 75,000 miles more or less.

The eccentricity of the earth's orbit is 0.016771; we are therefore 3,112,560 miles nearer to the sun at perihelion (January 1) than at aphelion (about July 1).

Length of the sidereal year, 365 days, 6 hours, 9 minutes, 9.6 seconds of mean time.

Length of the tropical year (from equinox to equinox), 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, 46.07 seconds of mean time.

Mean distance from earth to moon, 238,850 miles.

at any place whose latitude is  $l$ , is  $39.01254 + 0.20827 \sin^2 l$  inches. At New York it is 39.1013 inches.

The acceleration of gravity in one second of mean solar time is  $32.086528 + 0.171293 \sin^2 l$  feet. The half of this is the distance through which a body falls (in a vacuum) in one second.

The velocity of light is 186,330 miles per second. Light requires 8 minutes and 18 seconds to pass from the sun to the earth when at its mean distance, as given above; therefore, when we look at the sun we see him not where he actually is, but where he was about 8 minutes and 18 seconds ago; his true place is then always in advance of his apparent place.

From June 16 to August 1 both the upper and lower transits take place during daylight. The azimuth at the time of greatest eastern or western elongation can be easily computed from the formula:

$$\sin A = \frac{\sin p}{\cos l}$$

where  $A$  denotes the azimuth,  $p$  the polar distance, and  $l$  the latitude of the place.

DATE OF GREATEST ELONGATION.

To find the time of greatest eastern or western elongation, let  $H$  denote the hour angle, and  $l$  and  $p$  as before, then we shall have

$$\cos H = \tan p \tan l.$$

And the hour angle in mean time is

$$H_m = H^o \times 0.0664846.$$

This quantity,  $H_m$ , added to or subtracted from the time of transit given above, according to the elongation required, will give the mean time of the greatest elongation at any place whose north latitude is  $l$ .

To find the time of the star's transit add or subtract, according to the sign, the numbers in the second column of figures to the date of the transit of the pole star given above. Thus, for  $\alpha$  Andromedæ February 1. Lower Transit of Polar Star is 4 h. 37.9 m. A. M., to which add 10 h. 40 m. and we have 3 h. 17.9 m. P. M.; for December 1, we find 7 h. 22.2 m. P. M., etc.

The Fixed Stars.

SPECTROSCOPIC and other observations show the fixed stars to be self-luminous bodies—suns or other systems of planets. An analysis of their light indicates the presence of the same chemical elements that exist in our own sun and the earth, together with others unknown in our solar system.

Owing to their prodigious distance from us, they present no appreciable disc when viewed through the most powerful telescopes. So far as we know, Alpha Centauri—a brilliant star of the Southern Hemisphere—is our nearest neighbor, yet its distance is so great that light which travels 186,330 miles per second requires about  $3\frac{1}{2}$  years to reach us. This distance is approximately 224,000 times the radius of the earth's orbit, or about 20,720,000,000 miles, and yet this is a mere trifle compared with the distance which intervenes between us and other stars whose parallax has been approximately determined.

Thus, light requires 21 $\frac{1}{4}$  years to come from Sirius, 25 $\frac{1}{4}$  years from Arcturus, 48.3 years from Polaris, while the time required from the telescopic stars is immensely greater. An English astronomer, Halley, in 1718, was the first to discover that the so-called fixed stars have a proper motion of their own, which displaces them slightly with reference to each other. This motion is very small—a fraction of a second in a year on an average. About 150 stars have a motion of one second annually. The largest proper motion known is that of 1830 Groombridge, of the seventh magnitude, and sometimes called the "runaway" star; it has an annual drift of seven seconds, sufficient to enable it to complete the circuit of the heavens in 185,000 years.

The star 61 Cygni (sixth magnitude) has an annual proper motion of 5 $''$ .2; Alpha Centauri, 3 $''$ .7; Arcturus, 2 $''$ .1, and Sirius, 1 $''$ .1.

Since the time of Ptolemy, Arcturus has moved more than a degree, and Sirius about half that amount. The direction of motion is in general different for each star, but the angular observed "proper motion" can furnish but little information of what the real or linear motion through space is. Arcturus is rushing toward us at the rate of nearly sixty miles per second and Sirius receding from us at the rate of nineteen miles per second, and similar results are found for many other stars; thus, of the seven bright stars forming the "Great Dipper" in Ursa Major, the one nearest the pole is approaching, while the remainder are rapidly receding from us.

REMARKABLE STARS.

Many stars have disappeared, or have ceased to emit light enough to render them visible. Thus, the 55th of Hercules was observed by Herschell in 1781 to be of a ruby red color, but in 1791 it disappeared and has not been seen since.

Changes in the brightness of certain stars have been observed in a dozen or more; thus, in the time of Eratosthenes, the star in the claw of the Scorpion (now known as Beta Libri) was the brightest in the constellation, but at the present time it is a whole magnitude below Antares, which ranks as a first magnitude star. The two stars Castor and Pollux, in the constellation Gemini, were catalogued by Beyer as Alpha and Beta respectively, the former being the brighter, but now the latter is notably the brighter of the two.

Another conspicuous example is Eta Argus (not visible in this country); it varies from the first to the seventh magnitude. In 1543 it was nearly as bright as Sirius, but at present it is of the seventh magnitude, scarcely visible to the naked eye. This star is situated in the midst of a nebula which, probably in some unknown manner, influences its brightness. Alpha Orionis and Alpha Cassiopeiae also show variations of brightness, but in a far less degree. In 1866, May 10-12, a star in the constellation Northern Crown blazed out as of the second magnitude, remained so for some four or five days, and then during five or six weeks gradually faded away to its original brightness, for it was before the outburst, and is now, only a ninth or tenth magnitude star, not visible without telescopic aid. During its maximum brightness its spectrum exhibited the bright lines of hydrogen—like our own sun. Some mighty conflagration of incandescent hydrogen was evidently going on on its surface. In 1876 a similar phenomenon appeared in the constellation Cygnus. In this instance the star attained the second magnitude, at which it remained for a few days, and then gradually faded away to the fifteenth magnitude.

The last temporary star was very peculiar; it suddenly appeared in the great nebula of Andromeda in the year 1885. It never rose above the fifth magnitude, but in six months it absolutely disappeared; no trace of it can now be found.

VARIABLE STARS.

The most notable of this class of stars is Mira Stella, or the wonderful star in the constellation Cetus, or the Whale. It has been known since 1596, is a faint twelfth magnitude star, but once every eleven months it runs up to the third or second magnitude, and then back again, occupying about 100 days in its rise and fall. The star Algol, or Beta Persei, is another conspicuous example. Its period of variation is 2 days 20 hours 48.9 minutes. During most of the time the star remains of the second magnitude; it falls to the fourth magnitude in about 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  hours; remains at its minimum brightness for about 20 minutes, and then in 3 $\frac{1}{2}$  hours returns to its original condition.

No satisfactory explanation has yet been found to account for these stellar phenomena. In the case of Algol, however, it evidently appears to suffer a partial eclipse by the interposition of a huge dark companion revolving around it. If such is the case, the mass of Algol must be absolutely prodigious compared with our sun in order to cause so rapid a revolution of the attendant dark body.

DOUBLE AND MULTIPLE STARS.

Many stars which appear single to the naked eye are found to be double when viewed through a telescope of even moderate power. About 10,000 such couples are known, and the number is increasing. In a few instances three or four such stars are found so close together that they appear to the unaided eye as a single star. Of the most familiar doubles we may mention Castor, Zeta Ursae Majoris, or the star in the middle of the handle of the Great Dipper; Gamma Virginis, Beta Cygni, and Alpha Herculis, and, as examples of multiple stars, Theta Orionis (the trapezium of Orion), Zeta Concri, and Epsilon Lyrae.

Two stars may, and many of them do, lie on or nearly the same straight line from the earth, and thus appear as one star. Such stars are called "optically double," but no real connection exists between them.

Stars which are very near each other and come under the influence of their mutual attraction are called "Binary Stars." In such cases the stars revolve around their common centre of gravity, but, as is frequently the case, one of the stars is comparatively very small, and may be regarded as revolving around the larger one. Among the notable binary stars whose periods have been determined may be mentioned Sirius, Alpha Geminorum (Castor), Alpha Centauri, 61 Cygni, Zeta Ursae Majoris, Polaris, and probably Procyon. The first five have periods of 44, 997 (?), 77, 450 (?), and 61 years respectively. The companion of Procyon has not yet been discovered, but there is no doubt of its existence, because the position of Procyon is disturbed by some attracting body to such a degree that it must be taken into account in computing the position of the star as given in the nautical almanacs.

Of the multiple stars we have space only to mention three. Zeta Concri, the two large stars of which revolve around their common centre of gravity in nearly circular orbits less than 2'' in diameter and in a period of about sixty years, while the third star, very small and more distant, revolves around the closed pair in an orbit not yet well determined. In the case of Epsilon Lyrae, we have two pairs physically connected and revolving around their common centre of gravity in a period of thousands of years. In Theta Orionis we have another group, not in pairs, but at nearly equal distance from each other and forming a very complicated system.

STAR CLUSTERS.

There are also many groups of stars, called clusters, containing from a hundred to many thousand stars; some of these are well known and visible to the naked eye, as the Pleiades and Hyades; some require telescopic aid to resolve them into stars, as Praesepe in Cancer and the cluster in the sword handle of Perseus, while others appear as faint white patches and are resolved into stars by the most powerful telescopes. The galaxy or Milky Way is an enormous cluster encircling the heavens and composed of stars from the tenth magnitude down. Scattered also apparently at random throughout the illimitable regions of space are great numbers of faintly shining bodies of prodigious magnitude and known as "nebulae." Some 12,000 of these have been already catalogued.

Two or three are visible to the naked eye, for instance, the nebula in the girdle of Andromeda, in which the temporary star of 1885 appeared; the great nebula in Orion, which in its great variety of details far surpasses all others. No telescope has or ever will resolve these into stars, for the reason that they are not composed of stars. The spectroscope informs us that they are for the most part incandescent gaseous bodies, in which the work of creation of stars (suns) and planetary systems is doubtless going on.

Large Telescopes.

WITH the view of solving the problems of sidereal astronomy, several gigantic telescopes are in course of construction. The largest ever made is now being erected in Paris, France, for the exhibition of 1900. It has two object glasses, each 4 feet in diameter and each weighing 1,600 pounds, one for visual observations and the other for photographic work. The tube is nearly 200 feet long and made of steel about 1-10th of an inch in thickness and weighs 21 tons; its diameter in the largest part is 59 inches, and is composed of 24 separate pieces screwed together.

It would be practically impossible to mount this monster instrument in the ordinary way, owing to its great weight and the consequent instability and flexure to which it would be subject, not to mention the huge dome which would be required to protect it. The tube is therefore placed in a horizontal position, ranging north and south, and resting on eight cast-iron pillars supported on masonry. In order to obviate the effects of expansion by heat, the supports can slide on a system of rails attached to the piers. In front of the mirror is a large plane mirror or siderostat, so mounted that when moved by clock mechanism it will reflect into the telescope the rays falling upon it from a celestial body. The observer is thus enabled to view the object at his ease.

The siderostat weighs 6½ tons; the diameter of the great mirror is 78 inches. Assuming the lenses to be correctly figured, this telescope will, in light-grasping power, exceed the great Yerkes telescope in the ratio of 36 to 25, and the Lick in the ratio of 16 to 9, but owing to the loss of light by reflection from the siderostat these ratios will be considerably reduced. The instrument will doubtless render good service in astronomical photography, in resolving very close double stars, and in other delicate problems of observational astronomy.

Another monster telescope is in course of construction for the new Allegheny Observatory. The object glass is to be 32 inches in diameter, and to be ground and figured by Mr. Brashear, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Other large telescopes, already mounted, are as below:

The list of those from 18 to 6 inches aperture is now too numerous to tabulate.

The Ancient Hour.

THE early Egyptians divided the day and night each into twelve hours, a custom adopted by the Jews or Greeks probably from the Babylonians. The day is said to have first been divided into hours from B. C. 293, when a sun-dial was erected in the temple of Quirinus, at Rome. Previous to the invention of water-clocks, B. C. 158, the time was called at Rome by public criers. In early England one expedient for measuring time was by wax candles, three inches burning an hour. The first perfect mechanical clock was not made until about A. D. 1250. Day began at sunrise among most of the Northern nations, at sunset among the Athenians and Jews, at midnight among the Romans, as with us.

The Earth's Atmosphere.

THE earth's sensible atmosphere is generally supposed to extend some forty miles in height, probably farther, but becoming at only a few miles from the surface of too great a tenuity to support life. The condition and motions of this aerial ocean play a most important part in the determination of climate, modifying, by absorbing, the otherwise intense heat of the sun, and, when laden with clouds, hindering the earth from radiating its acquired heat into space. The amount of heat absorbed in its passage through the atmosphere will depend upon the thickness of the stratum which the rays have to penetrate, and this on the meridian altitude of the sun. — Whittaker.

The Twentieth Century.

THE first century began with the first day of the year 1 and ended with the last day of the year 100. It could not end with the last day of the year 99, for 100, not 99, years make a century. The Nineteenth Century, therefore, ends at midnight on December 31, 1900, and the Twentieth Century then begins.

Moonlight Chart, 1900.

EXPLANATION. —The white spaces indicate the amount of moonlight each night. Thus, January 8, February 7, etc., the moon sets at or near midnight, when the former half only of the night has moonlight; January 15, February 14, etc., the time of full moon, when for two or three nights in succession moonlight lasts all night; January 22, February 21, etc., when the moon rises at or near midnight and the latter half of the night has moonlight, and January 30, March 1, etc., the time of new moon, when for two or three nights in succession there is no moonlight.

The number of asteroids discovered up to present date is about 430. A number of these small planets have not been observed since their discovery, and are practically lost. Consequently it is now sometimes a matter of doubt, until the elements have been computed, whether the supposed new planet is really new, or only an old one rediscovered.

"It is supposed that  $\alpha$  Centauri, one of the brightest stars of the Southern Hemisphere, is the nearest of the fixed stars to the earth. The researches on its parallax by Henderson and Maclear gave, for its distance from the earth, in round numbers, 20,720,000,000,000 miles. At the inconceivably rapid rate at which light is propagated through space, it would require about  $3\frac{1}{2}$  years to reach the earth from this star."—Whitaker.

The Moon.

THE mean distance of the Moon from the Earth is 238,850 miles; its mean sidereal revolution round the Earth is 27 days, 7 hours, 43 minutes, 11.46 seconds; its mean synodical revolution, or the period from new moon to new moon, is 29 days, 12 hours, 44 minutes, 2.87 seconds; the eccentricity of its orbit is 0.0549, and its diameter is 2,162 miles. The Earth being taken as unity, the density is .61; mass, 1-81; volume, 1-50, and gravity, 1-6; that is to say, the Earth would weigh as much as 81 Moons, is 50 times larger, and a pound of matter at the Moon's surface would, if transferred to the Earth, weigh 6 pounds.

Meteorites.

THESE bodies are now considered to be the débris of disintegrated comets, since the greater number of them, and especially the showers, revolve around the sun in orbits which are identical with those of comets no longer visible. Omitting sporadic meteors, which can be seen on almost any clear night, and which appear to be describing independent orbits of their own, the principal meteoric groups are those of August and November. The orbit of the former extends to an unknown distance beyond the orbit of Neptune, while the latter reaches only a slight distance beyond the orbit of Uranus. Meteors are not uniformly distributed around their entire orbit, but occur in groups of such immense size that it sometimes takes a year or two for the swarm to pass a given point, although moving with planetary velocity. The principal groups, or showers, are known as the Leonids, Andromedes, and Perseids; the first have a period of about thirty-three years; the second of thirteen years, and the third are not limited to any date, but appear more or less abundant for a week or two about the 1st of August every year. Many great showers are on record, but the most notable one in recent times occurred in November, 1833; others took place November 13-14, 1866 and 1867, and another may be expected about the 14th or 15th of November, 1900.

When a meteor enters the earth's atmosphere it becomes intensely heated, owing to the resistance and friction, and, if small, is completely consumed; but if large enough its passage is accompanied by a continuous roar, with tremendous explosions, which can be heard for distances of forty or fifty miles. Meteors vary in size from mere grains of sand to several tons, and consist for the most part of iron and nickel, but no fewer than twenty-four terrestrial elements have been found in them.

We may confidently expect a meteoric shower about the 14th of November, 1900, and it is hoped that observers throughout the country will be on the alert during this time, for if the shower at all approaches that of 1833 it will form one of the grandest sights that is likely to greet mortal vision.

The French Revolutionary Era.

In September, 1793, the convention decreed that the common era should be abolished in all civil affairs, and that the new French era should begin on September 22, 1792, the day of the true autumnal equinox, and that each succeeding year should begin at the midnight of the day on which the true autumnal equinox falls. The year was divided into twelve months of thirty days each. In ordinary years there were five extra days, from the 17th to the 21st of our September, and at the end of every fourth year was a sixth complimentary day. This reckoning was first used on November 22, 1793, and was continued until December 31, 1805, when it was discontinued, and the Gregorian calendar, used throughout the rest of Europe, was resumed. The following were the dates for the year 1804, the last complete year of this style of reckoning:

| Vendemiaire (Vintage), | September 23 to October 22. |
| Brumaire (Foggy),      | October 23 to November 22.  |
| Frimaire (Sleety),     | November 22 to December 21. |
| Nivose (Snowy),        | December 22 to January 21.  |
| Pluviose (Rainy),      | January 21 to February 20.  |
| Ventose (Windy),       | February 20 to March 19.    |

|---------------------|----------------------------|
| Germinal (Budding), | March 22 to April 21.      |
| Floral (Flowery),   | April 21 to May 20.        |
| Prairial (Pasture), | May 21 to June 20.         |
| Messidor (Harvest), | June 20 to July 19.        |
| Thermidor (Hot),    | July 20 to August 19.      |
| Fructidor (Fruit),  | August 19 to September 18. |

The months were divided into three decades of ten days each, but to make up the 365 five were added at the end of September: Primiidi, dedicated to Virtue; Duodi, to Genius; Tridi, to Labor; Quartiidi, to Opinion, and Quintiidi, to Rewards. To Leap Year, called Olympic, a sixth day, September 22 or 23, Sextiidi, "the day of the Revolution," was added.

To each tenth day, thirty-six in all, were assigned thirty-six "Fetes Decadaires," decreed by the National Convention on the eighteenth Prairial, in honor of the Supreme Being and Nature, the Human Race, the French People, Benefactors of Humanity, Martyrs for Liberty, Liberty and Equality, the Republic, Liberty of the World, Love of Country, Hatred of Tyrants and Traitors, Truth, Justice, Modesty, Glory and Immortality, Friend ship, Frugality, Courage, Good Faith, Heroism, Disinterestedness, Stoicism, Love, Conjugal Fidelity, Paternal Love, Maternal Tenderness, Filial Piety, Infancy, Childhood, Manhood, Old Age, Sickness, Agriculture, Industry, Our Ancestors, Our Posterity, Goodness.

DIRECTIONS.—1. In the Table of Centuries find the first two figures of the year desired, and in the Table of Years find the last two figures of that year. The letter at the intersection of the columns of the two tables is the Year Letter. 2. Under the Year Letter in the Table of Months find the Key Figure opposite the month desired. 3. The day of the week desired can then be found in the Table of Days at the intersection of the columns of the Key Figure and the day of the month.*

*EXAMPLE.—To find the day of the week on which July 4, 1901, falls: Find 19 in the Table of Centuries and 01 in the Table of Years. The Year Letter at the intersection of their columns is A. In the Table of Months the key figure at the intersection of the A and July columns is 2. In the Table of Days the day of the week at the intersection of the key figure (2) and day of the month (4th) columns is Thursday, which gives the information desired.

LEAP YEARS.—For Leap Years use January and February at the top of the Table of Months opposite the words "Leap Year." In the Table of Years leap years are underlined. Years ending in 00 in Old Style dates are leap years; in New Style dates only when the Year Letter is F.

NOTE.—The letters in the list of "Years from 1753 to 1952," refer to the table headed with the Months, the figures in which refer to the same figures at the head of the table of Days. For example: To know on what day July 4, 1900, will fall look for 1900 in the table of Years. The letter g is attached. Look for the same letter in the table of Months and in a parallel line under July is the figure 7, which directs to column 7 in the table of Days below, in which it will be seen that July 4 falls on Wednesday.

Ritualistic Calendar.

COLORS FOR THE ALTAR IN USE IN RITUALISTIC EPISCOPAL CHURCHES IN THE UNITED STATES.

White.—From the First Service (First Vespers) of Christmas Day to the Octave of Epiphany, inclusive (except on the Feasts of Martyrs); on Maundy Thursday (for the celebration); from the First Service of Easter Day to the Vigil of Pentecost (except on Feasts of Martyrs and Rogation Days); on Trinity Sunday, Conversion of St. Paul, Purification, Annunciation, St. John Baptist, St. Michael, St. Luke, All Saints, Saints who are not Martyrs, and Patron Saints (Transfiguration and Dedication of Church).

Red.—From First Vespers of Pentecost to the First Vespers of Trinity Sunday (which includes Ember Days), Holy Innocents (if on a Sunday), and Feasts of all Martyrs.

Violet.—From Septuagesima to Maundy Thursday (Easter Eve); Advent Sunday to Christmas Eve; Vigils, Ember Days (except in Whitsun Week), and Rogation Days; Holy Innocents (unless on Sunday).

Black.—Good Friday and at funerals. Green.—All other days.

These regulations as to colors are general. A more minute code changing with each year is published in the church almanacs.

MARRIAGES should not be celebrated from Advent Sunday till eight days after Epiphany; Septuagesima till eight days after Easter; Rogation till Trinity Sunday.

*Peculiar to Russia.

The statement has been published that on and after 1901 the Russian Government will abandon the old or Julian style and adopt the Gregorian. At present Russian dates are twelve days behind those now in universal use—a very serious inconvenience in civil and scientific matters, and one which has caused much annoyance and confusion.

The above estimate was made by Ernest George Ravenstein, F.R.G.S., the geographer and statistician, and is for 1890.

An estimate of population of the earth, made by Drs. Wagner and Supan, editors of "Bevölkerung der Erde" (Perthes, Gotha, 1891), is as follows: Europe, 357,379,000; Asia, 825,954,000; Africa, 163,953,000; America, 121,713,000; Australia, 3,230,000; Oceanic Islands, 7,420,000; polar regions, 80,400. Total, 1,479,729,400. The estimate of area of the continents and islands by the same authorities is 52,821,684.

Ravenstein's estimate of the earth's fertile region, in square miles, is 28,269,200; steppe, 13,901,000; desert, 4,180,000; polar region, 4,888,800.

The population of the earth at the death of the Emperor Augustus, estimated by Bodio, was 54,000,000. The population of Europe hardly exceeded 50,000,000 before the fifteenth century.—Mulhall.

The area and cubic contents of the earth, according to the data of Clark, given above, are: Surface, 196,971,984 square miles; cubic contents, 259,944,035,515 cubic miles.

Murray (Challenger expedition) states the greatest depth of the Atlantic Ocean at 27,366 feet; Pacific Ocean, 30,000 feet; Indian Ocean, 18,582 feet; Southern Ocean, 25,200 feet; Arctic Ocean, 9,000 feet. The Atlantic Ocean has an area, in square miles, of 24,536,000; Pacific Ocean, 50,309,000; Indian Ocean, 17,084,000; Arctic Ocean, 4,781,000; Southern Ocean, 30,592,000. The highest mountain is believed to be Deodhunga, one of the Himalayas, 29,002 feet.

For population of the earth according to creed, see RELIGIOUS STATISTICS.

The human family is subject to forty-four principal governments. As to their form they may be classified as follows: Absolute monarchies, China, Korea, Morocco, Persia, Russia, Siam, Turkey; Limited monarchies, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, British Empire, Denmark, Germany, Greece, Italy, Japan, Netherlands, Portugal, Roumania, Servia, Sweden and Norway, Spain; Republics, Argentine Republic, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Ecuador, France, Guatemala, Hayti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Orange Free State, Paraguay, Peru, Salvador, San Domingo, Switzerland, Transvaal, United States of America, Uruguay, Venezuela. Besides these are the undefined despotisms of Central and South Africa, and a few insignificant independent States.

The average duration of human life is about 33 years. One-quarter of the people on the earth die before age 6, one-half before age 16, and only about 1 person of each 100 born lives to age 65. The deaths are calculated at 67 per minute, 97,790 per day, and 35,639,835 per year; the births at 70 per minute, 100,800 per day, and 36,792,000 per year.

These estimates by Mulhall (1891) exhibit the superior growth of the English language in the last ninety years. Another authority (see "English-Speaking Religions Communities") estimates the number using the English language in 1895 at over 124,130,000. English is fast becoming the polite tongue of Europe.

The weight of a cubic foot of distilled water at a temperature of 60° F. is 1,000 ounces Avoirdupois, very nearly, therefore the weight (in ounces, Avoirdupois) of a cubic foot of any of the substances in the above table is found by multiplying the specific gravities by 10, thus:—one cubic foot of oak weighs 1,170 ounces; one cubic foot of marble 2,700 ounces, and so on. * Compared with water.

The Geological Strata.

THE strata composing the earth's crust is divided by most geologists into two great classes: 1. Those generally attributed to the agency of water. 2. To the action of fire; which may be subdivided as follows: (a) Aqueous formations, stratified, rarely crystalline (sedimentary or fossiliferous rocks; metamorphic or unfossiliferous). (b) Igneous formations, unstratified, crystalline (volcanic, as basalt; plutonic, as granite).

The geological record is classified into five main divisions or periods: 1. The Archæan, lifeless and dawn of life. 2. The Palæozoic (ancient life). 3. The Mesozoic (middle life). 4. The Cenozoic (recent life). 5. Quaternary, the age in which man's first appearance is indicated.

Table of Magnetic Declinations,

OR VARIATIONS OF THE COMPASS FOR THE EPOCH JANUARY, 1900—WITH THE ANNUAL CHANGE FROM 1895 TO 1900 FOR THE PRINCIPAL PLACES IN THE UNITED STATES.

A plus (+) sign denotes West Declination; a minus (−) sign East Declination. For the annual change a plus sign denotes increasing West or decreasing East declination, and a minus sign the reverse.

(Specially prepared for THE WORLD ALMANAC from reports of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey.)

A RISING BAROMETER.

A RAPID rise indicates unsettled weather.
 A gradual rise indicates settled weather.
 A rise with dry air and cold increasing in Summer indicates wind from the northward; and if rain has fallen, better weather may be expected.
 A rise with moist air and a low temperature indicates wind and rain from the northward.
 A rise with southerly winds indicates fine weather.

A STEADY BAROMETER.

With dry air and seasonable temperature indicates a continuance of very fine weather.

A FALLING BAROMETER.

A rapid fall indicates stormy weather.
 A rapid fall with westerly wind indicates stormy weather from the northward.
 A fall with a northerly wind indicates storm, with rain and hail in Summer, and snow in Winter.
 A fall with increased moisture in the air, and heat increasing, indicates wind and rain from the southward.

A fall with dry air and cold increasing in Winter indicates snow.
 A fall after very calm and warm weather indicates rain with squally weather.

The barometer rises for northerly winds, including from north-west by north to the eastward for dry, or less wet weather, for less wind, or for more than one of these changes, except on a few occasions, when rain, hail, or snow comes from the northward with strong wind.

The barometer falls for southerly wind, including from south-east by south to the westward, for wet weather, for stronger wind or for more than one of these changes, except on a few occasions, when moderate wind, with rain or snow, comes from the northward.

The above printed rules are in use by the Seawanbaka-Corinthian Yacht Club of New York.

STRENGTH OF ICE.

Recently formed ice (and on the surface) one inch and a half thick will support a man; four inches thick will support cavalry; five inches thick will support an eighty-four pound cannon; ten inches thick will support an army; eighteen inches thick will support a railroad train.

Loss by Lightning in the United States.

THE Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture in 1895 issued a bulletin giving these facts: That for the five years ending December 31, 1894, there were 1,120 lives lost from lightning in the United States, an average of 224 per year, nearly all in the six months from April to September, the maximum death rate being in June and July.

In the nine years ending December 31, 1893, there were 4,175 fires caused by lightning, with a property loss of $14,309,150.

Weather Signals

OF THE WEATHER BUREAU, U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

THE Weather Bureau furnishes, when practicable, for the benefit of the general public and those interests dependent to a greater or less extent upon weather conditions, the "Forecasts" which are prepared daily, at 10 A. M. and 10 P. M., for the following day. These weather forecasts are telegraphed to observers at stations of the Weather Bureau, railway officials, and many others, and are so worded as to be readily communicated to the public by means of flags or steam-whistles. The flags adopted for this purpose are five in number, and of the form and dimensions indicated below:

EXPLANATION OF FLAG SIGNALS.

|-----------------------|----------------------|--------------------------------|----------------------------------|---|

Clear or fair weather.    Rain or snow.    Local rains or snow.    Temperature signal.    Cold wave.

When number 4 is placed above number 1, 2, or 3, it indicates warmer; when below, colder; when not displayed, the temperature is expected to remain about stationary. During the late Spring and early Fall the cold-wave flag is also used as a frost-warning flag to indicate anticipated frosts.

When displayed on poles, the signals should be arranged to read downward; when displayed from horizontal supports, a small streamer should be attached to indicate the point from which the signals are to be read.

WHISTLE SIGNALS.

The warning signal, to attract attention, will be a long blast of from fifteen to twenty seconds duration. After the warning signal has been sounded long blasts (of from four to six seconds duration) refer to weather, and short blasts (of from one to three seconds duration) refer to temperature; those for weather to be sounded first.

|                 |                     |                  |                     |
|-----------------|---------------------|------------------|---------------------|
| Blasts.         | Indicate.           | Blasts.          | Indicate.           |
| One long.....   | Fair weather.       | One short.....   | Lower temperature.  |
| Two long.....   | Rain or snow.       | Two short.....   | Higher temperature. |
| Three long..... | Local rain or snow. | Three short..... | Cold wave.          |

By repeating each combination a few times, with an interval of ten seconds between, possibilities of error in reading the signals will be avoided, such as may arise from variable winds or failure to hear the warning signal.

Communications with reference to the display of these symbols and signals should be addressed to the Director of the Climate and Crop Section of the State or Territory in which the station is located, or to the Chief of the Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C. (For wind signals, see next page.)

The several States and Territories (with headquarters) in which sections of the Climate and Crop Services of the Weather Bureau are in operation, are as follows:

The Ancient and Modern Year.

THE Athenians began the year in June, the Macedonians in September, the Romans first in March and afterward in January, the Persians on August 11, the ancient Mexicans on February 23, the Mohammedans in July. The Chinese year, which begins early in February, is similar to the Mohammedan in having 12 months of 29 and 30 days alternately; but in every nineteen years there are seven years which have 13 months. This is not quite correct, and the Chinese have therefore formed a cycle of 60 years, in which period 22 intercalary months occur.

Storm Signals.—A red flag with a black centre indicates that a storm of marked violence is expected. The pennants displayed with the flags indicate the direction of the wind; red, easterly (from northeast to south); white, westerly (from southwest to north). The pennant above the flag indicates that the wind is expected to blow from the northerly quadrants; below, from the southerly quadrants.

By night a red light indicates easterly winds, and a white light above a red light westerly winds. Information Signal.—Red or white pennant displayed alone.—When displayed at stations on the Great Lakes indicates that winds are expected which may prove dangerous to tows and smaller classes of vessels, the red pennant indicating easterly and the white pennant westerly winds.

When displayed at stations on the Atlantic, Pacific, and Gulf coasts indicates that the local observer has received information from the Central Office of a storm covering a limited area, dangerous only for vessels about to sail to certain points, and serves as a notification to shipmasters that information will be given them upon application to the local observer. Only the red pennant is displayed on the coasts. No night information or hurricane signals are displayed.

Hurricane Signal.—Two red flags with black centres, displayed one above the other, indicate the expected approach of tropical hurricanes, and also of those extremely severe and dangerous storms which occasionally move across the Lakes and Northern Atlantic coast.

NOTE.—The above table was prepared for THE WORLD ALMANAC by the Geographic Branch of the United States Geological Survey. It should be stated in connection with this table that it presents only points whose heights are matters of record, and that in several cases in the high mountain region of the far West and the Pacific Slope it is well known that there are higher points within the State or Territory whose heights are not yet known with accuracy, and consequently cannot be given.

This table was revised by the United States Geological Survey to November 1, 1899.

DOMESTIC RATES OF POSTAGE.

ALL mailable matter for transmission by the United States mails within the United States is divided into four classes, under the following regulations:

First-Class Matter.—This class includes letters, postal cards, and anything sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, or anything containing writing not allowed as an accompaniment to printed matter under class three.

Rates of letter postage to any part of the United States, two cents per ounce or fraction thereof.

Rates on local or drop letters at free delivery offices, two cents per ounce or fraction thereof. At offices where there is no free delivery by carriers, one cent per ounce or fraction thereof.

Rates on postal cards, one cent (double or "reply" cards, two cents). Nothing must be added or attached to a postal card, except that a printed address slip may be pasted on the address or message side. The addition of anything else subjects the card to letter postage. A card containing any threat, offensive dun, or any scurrilous or indecent communication will not be forwarded. The rule that has heretofore existed excluding from the face of a postal card words indicating the occupation or business of the addressee has been revoked. In future these additions, or others of a like general character, will be held to be constructively a part of the address, and therefore permissible. Cards that have been spoiled in printing or otherwise will not be redeemed.

"PRIVATE MAILING CARDS" bearing written messages may be transmitted in the mails, domestic and foreign, at the rate of a cent apiece, stamps to be affixed by the sender; such cards to be sent openly in the mails, to be no larger, and to be approximately of the same form, quality, and weight as the stamped postal card now in general use in the United States.

To be entitled to the privileges given by this act of Congress, mailing cards must conform to the following conditions:

1. Each card must be an unfolded piece of cardboard, not exceeding  $3\frac{1}{4}$  by  $5\frac{1}{2}$  inches, and not less than 2 15-16 by 4 15-16 inches in size.
2. The quality and weight must be substantially that of the Government postal card of like size.
3. They may be of any color which does not interfere with the legibility of the address.
4. Each card must bear these words at the top of the address side: "Private Mailing Card—Authorized by act of Congress of May 19, 1898," placed thereon by means of printing or hand-stamp.
5. Cards conforming to the conditions of paragraphs 1 to 4, inclusive, are admissible for transmission in the domestic mails, including Porto Rico, Guam, and the Philippine Islands, and to places in Canada and Mexico, at the postage rate of one cent each, prepaid by stamps affixed.
6. Cards conforming to the conditions of paragraphs 1 to 4, inclusive, will be rendered admissible to the Postal Union mails by the addition of the words "Postal Card—Carte Postale" on the face near the top, either by writing, printing, or hand-stamp, at the postage rate of two cents each, prepaid by stamps affixed.
7. The message on the cards may be in writing or in print, and the message side may bear advertisements and illustrations in any color.
8. The face of the cards shall be reserved for postage stamps, postmarks, and addresses, which letter may be in writing, printing, or by means of a stamp or adhesive label of not more than three-fourths of an inch by two inches in size; provided that the sender may in the same manner place his name and address on the back or the face of the card, and that advertisements and illustrations may be printed on the face of the cards if they do not interfere with a perfectly distinct address and postmark.
9. When Private Mailing Cards are prepared by printers and stationers for sale, they should, in addition to conforming to all the conditions of paragraphs 1 to 4, inclusive, bear on the face near the top the words "Postal Card—Carte Postale," which addition will render them admissible to the Postal Union, as well as the domestic mails. Such cards should also bear in the upper right-hand corner of the face an oblong diagram containing the words "Place postage stamp here," and across the bottom the words "This side for the address."
10. The words "Private Mailing Card" are permissible only on cards that conform to the conditions prescribed by this order; other cards bearing these words, or otherwise purporting to be issued under authority of the act of May 19, 1898, are inadmissible to the mails.
11. The privilege given by the act is not intended to work a discontinuance of the Government postal cards. These will be issued and sold the same as heretofore.

Rates on specially delivered letters, ten cents on each letter in addition to the regular postage. This entitles the letter to immediate delivery by special messenger. Special delivery stamps are sold at post-offices, and must be affixed to such letters. An ordinary ten-cent stamp affixed to a letter will not entitle it to special delivery. The delivery, at carrier offices, extends to the limits of the carrier routes. At non-carrier offices it extends to one mile from the post-office. Postmasters are not obliged to deliver beyond these limits, and letters addressed to places beyond must await delivery in the usual way, notwithstanding the special delivery stamp.

Prepayment by stamps invariably required. Postage on all letters should be fully prepaid, but if prepaid one full rate and no more, they will be forwarded, and the amount of deficient postage collected on delivery; if wholly unpaid, or prepaid with less than one full rate and deposited at a post-office, the addressee will be notified to remit postage; and if he fails to do so, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office; but they will be returned to the sender if he is located at the place of mailing, and if his address be printed or written upon them.

Letter rates are charged on all productions by the typewriter or manifold process, and on all printed imitations of typewriting or manuscript, unless such reproductions are presented at post-office windows in the minimum number of twenty identical copies.

Letters (but no other class of mail matter) will be returned to the sender free, if a request to that effect is printed or written on the envelope. There is no limit of weight for first-class matter.

Prepaid letters will be reforwarded from one post-office to another upon the written request of the person addressed, without additional charge for postage. The direction on forwarded letters may be changed as many times as may be necessary to reach the person addressed.

Second-Class Matter.—This class includes all newspapers, periodicals, or matter exclusively in print and regularly issued at stated intervals as frequently as four times a year, from a known office of publication or news agency, to actual subscribers or news agents, and transient newspapers and publications of this character mailed by persons other than publishers. Also periodical publications of benevolent and fraternal societies, etc. This applies to all reports and the like made by officers of societies organized under the lodge system and having a membership of a thousand persons, and of the bulletins and proceedings of strictly professional, literary, historical, and scientific associations and institutions, trade unions, etc., provided only that these be published not less often than four times a year, and that they be printed on and be bound in paper. Publishers who wish to avail themselves of the privileges of the act are required to make formal application to the department through the postmaster at the place of publication, producing satisfactory evidence that the organizations represented come within the purview of the law, and that the object of the publications is to further the objects and purposes of the organizations.

Rates of postage to publishers, one cent a pound or fractional part thereof, prepaid in currency. Publications designed primarily for advertising or free circulation, or not having a legitimate list of subscribers, are excluded from the pound rate, and pay third-class rates.

Whenever the general character and manner of issue of a periodical publication is changed in the interest of the publisher, or of an advertiser or other person, by the addition of unusual quantities of advertisements, or of matter different from that usually appearing in the publication, or calculated to give special prominence to some particular business or businesses, or otherwise—especially where large numbers of copies are circulated by or in the interest of particular persons, or where there is to be an excessive number of alleged sample copies mailed, or where the issue is to be sold at a special and different price than that charged for the customary issues, the second-class rates of postage will be denied that issue; and if there be repeated instances of such irregularities, the publication will be excluded from the mails as second-class matter.

Such "Christmas," "New Year's," and other special issues, including "Almanacs," as are excluded from second-class privileges by the terms above specified may be transmitted by mail only when prepaid by postage stamps at the rate applicable to third-class matter—one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

Publications sent to actual subscribers in the county where published are free, unless mailed for local delivery at a letter-carrier office.

Rates of postage on transient newspapers, magazines, or periodicals, one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof. It should be observed that the rate is one cent for each four ounces, not one cent for each paper contained in the same wrapper. Second-class matter will be entitled to special delivery when special delivery ten-cent stamps are affixed in addition to the regular postage.

Transient second-class matter must be so wrapped as to enable the postmaster to inspect it. The sender's name and address may be written in them, but any other writing subjects the matter to letter postage. The name and address of the sender may also be written on the wrapper.

Third-Class Matter.—Mail matter of the third class includes printed books, pamphlets, engravings, circulars (in print or by the hectograph, electric-pen, or similar process), and other matter wholly in print, proof-sheets, corrected proof-sheets, and manuscript copy accompanying the same.

The rate on matter of this class is one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

* Manuscript unaccompanied by proof-sheets must pay letter rates.

Third-class matter must admit of easy inspection, otherwise it will be charged letter rates on delivery. It must be fully prepaid, or it will not be forwarded.

The limit of weight is four pounds, except single books in separate packages, on which the weight is not limited. It is entitled, like matter of the other classes, to special delivery when special delivery stamps are affixed in addition to the regular postage.

Upon matter of the third-class, or upon the wrapper or envelope inclosing the same, or the tag or label attached thereto, the sender may write his own name, occupation, and residence or business address, preceded by the word "from," and may make marks other than by written or printed words to call attention to any word or passage in the text, and may correct any typographical errors. There may be placed upon the blank leaves or cover of any book, or printed matter of the third-class, a simple manuscript dedication or inscription not of the nature of a personal correspondence. Upon the wrapper or envelope of third-class matter, or the tag or label attached thereto, may be printed any matter available as third-class, but there must be left on the address side a space sufficient for the legible address and necessary stamps.

Fourth-Class Matter.—Fourth-class matter is all available matter not included in the three preceding classes which is so prepared for mailing as to be easily withdrawn from the wrapper and examined. It embraces merchandise and samples of every description, and coin or specie.

Rate of postage, one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof (except seeds, roots, bulbs, cuttings, cions, and plants, the rate on which is one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof). This matter must be fully prepaid, or it will not be forwarded. The affixing of special delivery ten-cent stamps in addition to the regular postage entitles fourth-class matter to special delivery. (See remarks under "first-class matter.")

Articles of this class that are liable to injure or deface the mails, such as glass, sugar, needles, nails, pens, etc., must be first wrapped in a bag, box, or open envelope and then secured in another outside tube or box, made of metal or hard wood, without sharp corners or edges, and having a sliding clasp or screw lid, thus securing the articles in a double package. The public should bear in mind that the first object of the department is to transport the mails safely, and every other interest is made subordinate.

Such articles as poisons, explosives, or inflammable articles, live animals, insects, or substances exhaling a bad odor will not be forwarded in any case.

Firearms may only be sent in detached parts.

The regulations respecting the mailing of liquids are as follows: Liquids, not ardent, vinous, spirituous, or malt, and not liable to explosion, spontaneous combustion, or ignition by shock or jar, and not inflammable (such as kerosene, naphtha, or turpentine), may be admitted to the mails for transportation within the United States. When in glass bottles or vials, such bottles or vials must be strong enough to stand the shock of handling in the mails, and must be inclosed in a metal, wooden, or papier mache block or tube, not less than three-sixteenths of an inch thick in the thinnest part, strong enough to support the weight of mails piled in bags and resist rough handling; and there must be provided, between the bottle and said block or tube, a cushion of cotton, felt, or some other absorbent sufficient to protect the glass from shock in handling; the block or tube to be closed by a tightly fitting lid or cover, so adjusted as to make the block or tube water tight and to prevent the leakage of the contents in case of breaking the glass. When inclosed in a tin cylinder, metal case, or tube, such cylinder, case, or tube should have a lid or cover so secured as to make the case or tube water tight, and should be securely fastened in a wooden or paper mache block (open only at one end), and not less in thickness and strength than above described. Manufacturers or dealers intending to transmit articles or samples in considerable quantities should submit a sample package, showing their mode of packing, to the postmaster at the mailing office, who will see that the conditions of this section are carefully observed. The limit of admissible liquids and oils is not exceeding four ounces, liquid measure.

Limit of weight of fourth-class matter (excepting liquids), four pounds.

The name and address of the sender, preceded by the word "from," may also any marks, numbers, names, or letters for the purpose of description, such as prices, quantity, etc., may be written on the wrapper of fourth-class matter without additional postage charge. A request to the delivering postmaster may also be written asking him to notify the sender in case the package is not delivered.

Registration.—All kinds of postal matter may be registered at the rate of eight cents for each package in addition to the regular rates of postage, to be fully prepaid by stamps. Each package must bear the name and address of the sender, and a receipt will be returned from the person to whom addressed. Mail matter can be registered at all post-offices in the United States.

An indemnity—not to exceed $10 for any one registered piece, or the actual value of the piece, if it is less than $10—shall be paid for the loss of first-class registered matter.

Domestic Money Orders.—Domestic money orders are issued by money-order post-offices for any amount up to $100, at the following rates:

For sums not exceeding $2.50, 3 cents; over $2.50 to $5, 5 cents; over $5 to $10, 8 cents; over $10 to $20, 10 cents; over $20 to $30, 12 cents; over $30 to $40, 15 cents; over $40 to $50, 18 cents; over $50 to $60, 20 cents; over $60 to $75, 25 cents; over $75 to $100, 30 cents; two cents is added to each fee for war tax.

Stamped Envelopes.—Embossed stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers of several denominations, sizes, and colors are kept on sale at post-offices, singly or in quantities, at a small advance on the postage rate. Stamps cut from stamped envelopes are valueless; but postmasters are authorized to give good stamps for stamped envelopes or newspaper wrappers that may be spoiled in directing, if presented in whole condition and with satisfactory evidence.

All matter concerning lotteries, gift concerts, or schemes devised to defraud the public, or for the purpose of obtaining money under false pretences, is denied transmission in the mails.

Applications for the establishment of post-offices should be addressed to the First Assistant Postmaster-General, accompanied by a statement of the necessity therefor. Instructions will then be given and blanks furnished to enable the petitioners to provide the department with the necessary information.

The franking privilege was abolished July 1, 1873, but the following mail matter may be sent free by legislative saving clauses, viz.:

1. All public documents printed by order of Congress, the Congressional Record and speeches contained therein, franked by Members of Congress, or the Secretary of the Senate, or Clerk of the House.

2. Seeds transmitted by the Secretary of Agriculture, or by any Member of Congress, procured from that Department.

3. All periodicals sent to subscribers within the county where printed.

4. Letters and packages relating exclusively to the business of the Government of the United States, mailed only by officers of the same, publications required to be mailed to the Librarian of Congress by the Copyright law, and letters and parcels mailed by the Smithsonian Institution. All these must be covered by specially printed "penalty" envelopes or labels.

5. The Vice-President, Members and Members-elect and Delegates and Delegates-elect to Congress may frank any mail matter, not over two ounces in weight, upon official or departmental business.

All communications to Government officers and to Members of Congress are required to be prepaid by stamps.

Suggestions to the Public (from the United States Official Postal-Guide).—Mail all letters, etc., as early as practicable, especially when sent in large numbers, as is frequently the case with newspapers and circulars.

All mail matter at large post-offices is necessarily handled in great haste and should therefore in all cases be so PLAINLY addressed as to leave NO ROOM FOR DOUBT AND NO EXCUSE FOR ERROR on the part of postal employes. Names of States should be written in full (or their abbreviations very distinctly written) in order to prevent errors which arise from the similarity of such abbreviations as Cal., Col.; Pa., Va., Vt.; Me., Mo., Md.; Ioa., Ind.; N. H., N. M., N. Y., N. J., N. C., D. C.; Miss., Minn., Mass.; Nev., Neb.; Penn., Tenn., etc., when hastily or carelessly written. This is especially necessary in addressing mail matter to places of which the names are borne by several post-offices in different States.

Avoid as much as possible using envelopes made of flimsy paper, especially where more than one sheet of paper, or any other article than paper, is enclosed. Being often handled, and even in the mail-bags subject to pressure, such envelopes not infrequently split open, giving cause of complaint.

Never send money or any other article of value through the mail except either by means of a money order or in a registered letter. Any person who sends money or jewelry in an unregistered letter not only runs a risk of losing his property, but exposes to temptation every one through whose hands his letter passes, and may be the means of ultimately bringing some clerk or letter-carrier to ruin.

See that every letter or package bears the full name and post-office address of the writer, in order to secure the return of the letter, if the person to whom it is directed cannot be found. A much larger portion of the undelivered letters could be returned if the names and addresses of the senders were always fully and plainly written or printed inside or on the envelopes. Persons who have large correspondence find it most convenient to use "special request envelopes;" but those who only mail an occasional letter can avoid much trouble by writing a request to "return if not delivered," etc., on the envelope.

When dropping a letter, newspaper, etc., into a street mailing-box, or into the receptacle at a post-office, always see that the packet falls into the box and does not stick in its passage; observe, also, particularly, whether the postage stamps remain securely in their places.

Postage stamps should be placed on the upper right-hand corner of the address side of all mail matter.

The street and number (or box number) should form a part of the address of all mail matter directed to cities. In most cities there are many persons, and even firms, bearing the same name. Before depositing any package or other article for mailing, the sender should assure himself that it is wrapped and packed in the manner prescribed by postal regulations; that it does not contain unmailable matter nor exceed the limit of size and weight as fixed by law; and that it is fully prepaid and properly addressed. The postage stamps on all mail matter are necessarily cancelled at once, and the value of those affixed to packages that are afterward discovered to be short-paid or otherwise unmailable is therefore liable to be lost to the senders.

It is unlawful to send an ordinary letter by express or otherwise outside of the mails unless it be inclosed in a Government-stamped envelope. It is also unlawful to inclose a letter in an express package unless it pertains wholly to the contents of the package.

It is forbidden by the regulations of the Post-Office Department for postmasters to give to any person information concerning the mail matter of another, or to disclose the name of a box-holder at a post-office.

Letters addressed to persons temporarily sojourning in a city where the Free Delivery System is in operation should be marked "Transient" or "General Delivery," if not addressed to a street and number or some other designated place of delivery.

Foreign books, etc., infringing United States copyright are undeliverable if received in foreign mails, or mailed here.

The foregoing rates, rules, and suggestions apply to postal matters in the United States.

Foreign Mails.

POSTAGE RATES AND CONDITIONS.

THE rates of postage to all foreign countries and colonies (except Canada and Mexico) are as follows:

|   |          |
|---|----------|
| Letters, per 15 grams ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce).....   | 5 cents. |
| Postal cards, each.....   | 2 cents. |
| Newspapers and other printed matter, per 2 ounces.....  | 1 cent.  |
| Commercial papers (such as legal and insurance papers, deeds, bills of lading, invoices, manuscript for publication, etc.)..... | 5 cents. |
| Samples of merchandise.....   | 1 cent.  |
| Registration fee on letters or other articles.....  | 8 cents. |

(Packets not in excess of 10 ounces. Packets in excess of 10 ounces, for each 2 ounces or fraction thereof. Packets not in excess of 4 ounces. Packets in excess of 4 ounces, for each 2 ounces or fraction thereof.)

Ordinary letters for countries of the Postal Union (except Canada and Mexico) will be forwarded, whether any postage is prepaid on them or not. All other mailable matter must be prepaid at least partially. Mail matter for Hawaii and Cuba, if addressed to persons in the service of the United States, should be prepaid at Domestic Rates, and at Postal Union Rates if addressed to other persons. Domestic rates apply to Porto Rico, Guam, and the Philippine Islands.

CANADA.

|---|----------|
| Letters, per ounce, prepayment compulsory.....                              | 2 cents. |
| Postal cards, each.....   | 1 cent.  |
| Newspapers, per 4 ounces.....   | 1 cent.  |
| Merchandise, not exceeding 4 pounds (samples 1c. per 2 oz.), per ounce..... | 1 cent.  |
| Commercial papers, same as to other Postal Union countries.....             | 1 cent.  |
| Registration fee.....   | 8 cents. |

Any article of correspondence may be registered. Packages of merchandise are subject to the regulations of either country to prevent violations of the revenue laws; must not be closed against inspection, and must be so wrapped and inclosed as to be easily examined. Samples must not exceed 12 ounces in weight. No sealed packages other than letters in their usual and ordinary form may be sent by mail to Canada.

Mails for and via United States Postal Agency at Shanghai go at domestic rates and conditions, except letters (5 cents) and postal cards (2 cents). Sealed packages prohibited.

MEXICO.

Letters, newspapers, and printed matter are now carried between the United States and Mexico at same rates as in the United States. Samples are 1 cent for 2 ounces; limit of weight, 12 ounces. Merchandise other than samples may only be sent by Parcels Post. No sealed packages other than letters in their usual and ordinary form may be sent by mail to Mexico, nor any package over 4 pounds 6 ounces in weight.

SAMPLES.

Packages of samples of merchandise are admissible up to 350 grams (12 ounces) in weight, and the following dimensions apply to all Postal Union countries: 30 centimetres (12 inches) in length, 20 centimetres (8 inches) in width, and 10 centimetres (4 inches) in depth, or if they are in the form of a roll, 12 inches in length and 6 inches in diameter. Merchandise of salable value and goods not in execution of orders, or as gifts, must be paid at full letter rate.

PARCELS POST.

Unsealed packages of mailable merchandise may be sent by Parcels Post to Jamaica (including Turk's Island), Barbadoes, the Bahamas, British Honduras, Mexico, the Hawaiian Islands (Sandwich Islands), the Leeward Islands, the Republic of Colombia, Costa Rica, Salvador, British Guiana, Danish West Indies (St. Thomas, St. Croix, and St. John) and the Windward Islands (St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Grenada, and the Grenadines), Trinidad, including Tobago, Chile (20 cents per pound), and Newfoundland, Honduras (Republic of), and Germany, at the following postage rate: For a parcel not exceeding one pound in weight, 12 cents; for each additional pound or fraction thereof, 12 cents. The maximum weight allowed is eleven pounds—the extreme dimensions allowed for Mexico, Costa Rica, and Colombia being two feet length by four feet girth, and for the other countries not more than three feet six inches in length, nor more than six feet in length and girth combined. Parcels must be wrapped so as to permit their contents to be easily examined by postmasters. Poisonous, explosive, and inflammable substances are excluded. Parcels may be registered for 8 cents each to any of the above places, except Barbadoes.

Rates and conditions to countries not in the Universal Postal Union are now the same as those to Universal Postal Union countries.

GENERAL REGULATIONS RESPECTING FOREIGN MAILS.

Postage can be prepaid upon articles only by means of the postage stamps of the country in which the articles are mailed. Hence articles mailed in one country addressed to another country which bear postage stamps of the country to which they are addressed are treated as if they had no postage stamps attached to them.

Unpaid letters received from the Postal Union are chargeable with 10 cents per 15 grams ( $\frac{3}{8}$  ounce). Insufficiently prepaid correspondence of all kinds is chargeable with double the amount of the deficient postage.

Matter to be sent in the mails at less than letter rates must be so wrapped that it can be readily examined at the office of delivery, as well as the mailing office, without destroying the wrapper.

Newspapers and periodicals sent in the mails to foreign countries other than those of the Postal Union should be wrapped singly. Those sent by publishers to regular subscribers in Canada and Mexico are transmissible as in domestic mails except that packages addressed to Mexico must not exceed 4 pounds 6 ounces in weight.

The United States two-cent postal card should be used for card correspondence with foreign countries (except Canada and Mexico, to which countries the one-cent card is transmissible), but where these cards cannot be obtained, it is allowable to use for this purpose the United States one-cent postal card with a one-cent United States adhesive postage stamp attached thereto. Private cards can now be used if conforming in size, etc., to government cards and bearing words "Postal Card—Carte Postale."

Mail matter of all kinds received from any country of the Postal Union is required to be re-forwarded at the request of the addressee, from one post-office to another, or to any foreign country embraced in the Postal Union, without additional charge for postage.

All articles prohibited from domestic mails are also excluded from circulation in the mails to and from foreign countries. Postal cards or letters addressed to go around the world will not be forwarded, being prohibited.

The act of March 3, 1883, imposes a duty of 25 per cent ad valorem on all printed matter not therein otherwise provided for, without regard to mode of importation. Under said act all printed matter, except newspapers and periodicals, and except printed matter other than books imported in the mails for personal use, is subject to the regular duty of 25 per cent ad valorem.

FOREIGN (INTERNATIONAL) MONEY ORDERS.

There are now in operation postal conventions for the exchange of money orders between the United States and the following countries, viz.: Switzerland, Great Britain and Ireland, Germany, France, Italy, Canada and Newfoundland, Jamaica, New South Wales, Victoria, New Zealand, Queensland, the Cape Colony, the Windward Islands, the Leeward Islands, Belgium, Portugal, Tasmania, Hawaii, Sweden, Norway, Japan, Denmark, Netherlands, Dutch East Indies, the Bahamas, Trinidad and Tobago, British Guiana, Republic of Honduras, Austria, Hungary, Hong Kong, Salvador, Bermuda, Luxembourg, South Australia, Cuba, Porto Rico, Chile, British Honduras, Egypt, Finland, and Korea.

Upon receiving an international money order from the issuing postmaster the remitter must send it, at his own cost to the payee, if the latter resides in Canada, Great Britain and Ireland, Queensland, Cape Colony, France and Algeria, New Zealand, New South Wales, Victoria, Tasmania, Hawaii, Jamaica, Leeward and Windward Islands and Constantinople, Bahamas, Trinidad and Tobago, British Guiana, Hong Kong, Bermuda, South Australia, Cuba, Porto Rico, and British Honduras.

But the order should be retained by the remitter if the intended beneficiary live in any of the following named countries: Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Italy, Belgium, Portugal, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, British India, Egypt, Japan, Salvador, Luxembourg, Chile, Finland, and Korea, in which case it is of no value except as evidence of deposit of the sum therein mentioned. Another and different form of order will be forwarded to the payee by the exchange office in the country of payment.

The rates of commission or fees charged for the issue of all international money orders are as follows: For sums not exceeding $10, 10 cents; over $10 and not exceeding $20, 20 cents; over $20 and not exceeding $30, 30 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, 40 cents; over $40 and not exceeding $50, 50 cents; over $50 and not exceeding $60, 60 cents; over $60 and not exceeding $70, 70 cents; over $70 and not exceeding $80, 80 cents; over $80 and not exceeding $90, 90 cents; over $90 and not exceeding $100, one dollar.

Domestic rates and regulations apply to money orders for Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippine Islands.

Metric System of Weights and Measures.

THE METRIC SYSTEM has been adopted by Mexico, Brazil, Chile, Peru, etc., and except Russia and Great Britain, where it is permissive, by all European nations. Various names of the preceding systems are, however, frequently used: In Germany,  $\frac{1}{2}$  kilogram = 1 pound; in Switzerland, 3-10 of a metre = 1 foot, etc. If the first letters of the prefixes deka, hecto, kilo, myria, from the Greek, and deci, centi, mili, from the Latin, are used in preference to our plain English, 10, 100, etc., it is best to employ capital letters for the multiples and small letters for the subdivisions, to avoid ambiguities in abbreviations: 1 dekametre or 10 metres = 1 Dm.; 1 decimetre or 1-10 of a metre = 1 dm.

The METRE, unit of length, is nearly the ten-millionth part of a quadrant of a meridian, of the distance between Equator and Pole. The International Standard Metre is, practically, nothing else but a length defined by the distance between two lines on a platinum-iridium bar at 0° Centigrade, deposited at the International Bureau of Weights and Measures, Paris, France.

The LITRE, unit of capacity, is derived from the weight of one kilogram pure water at greatest density, a cube whose edge is one-tenth of a metre and, therefore, the one-thousandth part of a metric ton.

The GRAM, unit of weight, is a cube of pure water at greatest density, whose edge is one-hundredth of a metre, and, therefore, the one-thousandth part of a kilogram, and the one-millionth part of a metric ton.

One silver dollar weighs 25 grams, 1 dime =  $2\frac{1}{2}$  grams, 1 five-cent nickel = 5 grams.

The Metric System was legalized in the United States on July 28, 1866, when Congress enacted as follows:

"The tables in the schedule hereto annexed shall be recognized in the construction of contracts, and in all legal proceedings, as establishing, in terms of the weights and measures now in use in the United States, the equivalents of the weights and measures expressed therein in terms of the metric system, and the tables may lawfully be used for computing, determining, and expressing in customary weights and measures the weights and measures of the metric system."

The following are the tables annexed to the above:

MEASURES OF LENGTH.

| Metric Denominations and Values.   | Equivalents in Denominations in Use.   |
|------------------------------------|--|
| Myriametre..... 10,000 metres.     | 6 2137 miles.                          |
| Kilometre..... 1,000 metres.       | 0.62137 mile, or 3,280 feet 10 inches. |
| Hectometre..... 100 metres.        | 328 feet 1 inch.                       |
| Dekametre..... 10 metres.          | 393.7 inches.                          |
| Metre..... 1 metre.                | 39.37 inches.                          |
| Decimetre..... 1-10 of a metre.    | 3.937 inches.                          |
| Centimetre..... 1-100 of a metre.  | 0.3937 inch.                           |

MEASURES OF SURFACE.

|------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| Hectare..... 10,000 square metres. | 2.471 acres.                         |
| Are..... 100 square metres.        | 119.6 square yards.                  |
| Centare..... 1 square metre.       | 1,550 square inches.                 |

THE METRIC SYSTEM SIMPLIFIED.

The following tables of the metric system of weights and measures have been simplified as much as possible for THE WORLD ALMANAC by omitting such denominations as are not in practical, everyday use in the countries where the system is used exclusively.

TABLES OF THE SYSTEM.

Length.—The denominations in practical use are millimetres (mm.), centimetres (cm.), metres (m.), and kilometres (km.).

10 mm. = 1 cm.; 100 cm. = 1 m.; 1,000 m. = 1 km. NOTE.—A decimetre is 10 cm.

1,000 g. = 1 kg. 1,000 kg. = 1 metric ton.

1,000 c. c. = 1 l. NOTE.—A hectolitre is 100 l. (seldom used).

Relation of capacity and weight to length: A cubic decimetre is a litre, and a litre of water weighs a kilo.

APPROXIMATE EQUIVALENTS.

A metre is about a yard; a kilo is about 2 pounds a litre is about a quart; a centimetre is about 1/8 inch; a metri ton is about same as a ton; a kilometre is about 1/2 mile; a cubic centimetre is about a thimbleful; a nickel weighs about 5 grams.

SALT.—Weight per bushel, as adopted by different States range from 50 to 80 pounds. Coarse salt in Pennsylvania is reckoned at 8 pounds, and in Illinois at 50 pounds per bushel. Fine salt in Pennsylvania is reckoned at 6 1/2 pounds, in Kentucky and Illinois at 55 pounds per bushel.

Measures and Weights of Great Britain.

THE measures of length and the weights are nearly, practically, the same as those in use in the United States. The English ton is 2,240 lbs. avoirdupois, the same as the long ton, or shipping ton of the United States. The English hundredweight is 112 lbs. avoirdupois, the same as the long hundredweight of the United States. The metre has been legalized at 39.37079 inches, but the length of 39.370432 inches, as adopted by France, Germany, Belgium, and Russia, is frequently used. The Imperial gallon, the basis of the system of capacity, involves an error of about 1 part in 1,836: 10 lbs. of water = 277.123 cubic inches.

Domestic Weights and Measures.

Apothecaries' Weight: 20 grains = 1 scruple; 3 scruples = 1 dram; 8 drams = 1 ounce; 12 ounces = 1 pound.

Avoirdupois Weight (short ton): 27 11-32 grains = 1 dram; 16 drams = 1 ounce; 16 ounces = 1 pound; 25 pounds = 1 quarter; 4 quarters = 1 cwt.; 20 cwt. = 1 ton.

Avoirdupois Weight (long ton): 27 11-32 grains = 1 dram; 16 drams = 1 ounce; 16 ounces = 1 pound; 112 pounds = 1 cwt.; 20 cwt. = 1 ton.

Troy Weight: 24 grains = 1 pennyweight; 20 pennyweights = 1 ounce; 12 ounces = 1 pound. Circular Measure: 60 seconds = 1 minute; 60 minutes = 1 degree; 30 degrees = 1 sign; 12 signs = 1 circle.

Cubic Measure: 1,728 cubic inches = 1 cubic foot; 27 cubic feet = 1 cubic yard. Dry Measure: 2 pints = 1 quart; 8 quarts = 1 peck; 4 pecks = 1 bushel.

Liquid Measure: 4 gills = 1 pint; 2 pints = 1 quart; 4 quarts = 1 gallon; 3 1/2 gallons = 1 barrel; 2 barrels = 1 hoghead.

Long Measure: 12 inches = 1 foot; 3 feet = 1 yard; 5 1/2 yards = 1 rod or pole; 40 rods = 1 furlong; 8 furlongs = 1 statute mile; 3 miles = 1 league.

Mariner's Measure: 6 feet = 1 fathom; 1.0 fathoms = 1 cable length; 7 1/4 cable lengths = 1 mile; 5,280 feet = 1 statute mile; 6,085 feet = 1 nautical mile.

Square Measure: 144 square inches = 1 square foot; 9 square feet = 1 square yard; 30 3/4 square yards = 1 square rod or perch; 40 square rods = 1 rood; 4 roods = 1 acre; 640 acres = 1 square mile; 36 square miles (6 miles square) = 1 township.

Time Measure: 60 seconds = 1 minute; 60 minutes = 1 hour; 24 hours = 1 day; 7 days = 1 week; 365 days = 1 year; 366 days = 1 leap year.

FOREIGN MONIES.

English Money: 4 farthings = penny (d); 12 pence = 1 shilling (s); 20 shillings = 1 pound (£).

French Money: 10 centimes = 1 decime; 10 decimes = 1 franc.

Austro-Hungarian Money: 100 Kreuzer = 1 florin.

For United States equivalents, see tables of "Value of Foreign Coins in U. S. Money."

NOTE.—France, Belgium, Greece, Italy, and Switzerland constitute what is known as the "Latin" Union, and their coins are alike in weight and fineness, occasionally differing, however, in name. The same system has been in part adopted by Spain, Servia, Bulgaria, Russia, and Roumania, but they have not joined the Union. Francs and centimes of France, Belgium, and Switzerland are respectively designated lire and centesimi in Italy; drachmai and lepta in Greece; dinars and paras in Servia; peseta and centimos in Spain; leys and banis in Roumania; leya and stotinks in Bulgaria. Similarly the Scandinavian countries, Norway and Sweden and Denmark, employ coins of the same weight and fineness, their names being also alike. Most of the South American States possess a standard coin, equal in weight and fineness to the silver 5-franc piece generally termed a "peso." —Whitaker.

At what age does one become "old"? Five centuries ago a man was old at fifty. But the hale and hearty gentlemen of to-day who has just turned sixty would probably protest against being classed among old people, even if famous. That his susceptibilities may not be wounded, therefore, a separating dash has been discreetly introduced after age sixty-five.

The Venezuelan Award.

THE Anglo-Venezuelan Boundary Arbitration Commission, after a session at Paris, France (beginning June 15, 1899), on October 3, 1899, rendered the following award by unanimous agreement.

The arbitrators were (Chief Justice Fuller, Associate Justice Brewer, Lord Chief Justice Russell of Killowen, Sir Richard Henn Collins, and Professor Martens. Ex-President Harrison, General B. F. Tracy, M. Mallet-Prevost, and the Marquis de Rojas were counsel for Venezuela, and Attorney-General Sir Richard Webster and Sir Robert Reed for Great Britain.

The undersigned, by these presents, give and publish our decision determining and judging, touching and concerning the questions that have been submitted to us by said arbitrators; and, in conformity with said arbitration, we decide, declare, and pronounce definitely that the line of frontier of the colony of British Guiana and the United States of Venezuela is as follows:

Starting on the coast at Point Playa, the frontier shall follow a straight line to the confluence of the Barima and the Maruima; thence following the thalweg of the latter to the source of the Cerenin; thence likewise called the Cutari River.

Thence it shall proceed to the confluence of the Itai-wa and the Amakuru; thence following the thalweg of the Amakuru to its source in the Plain of Imataka; thence in a southwesterly direction along the highest ridge of the Imataka Mountains to the highest point of the Luatuka Chain, opposite the source of the Barima and the principal chain of the Imataka Mountains; thence in a southeast direction to the source of the Acarabisi.

Following the thalweg of the Acarabisi to the Cuyuni, the northern bank of which it shall follow in a westerly direction to the confluence of the Cuyuni and the Vaanam; thence along the thalweg of the Vaanam to its westernmost source; thence in a straight line to the summit of Mount Koraima; thence to the source of the Cotings.

From this point the frontier shall follow the thalweg of the Cotinga to its confluence with the Takutu; thence along the thalweg of the Takutu to its source; thence in a straight line to the most western point of the Akarai Mountains, the highest ridge of which it shall follow to the source of the Corentiu, whence it will follow the course of the river.

It is stipulated that the frontier hereby delineated reserves and in no way prejudices questions actually existing or that may hereafter arise between Great Britain and the Republic of Brazil, or between the Republic of Brazil and Venezuela. In fixing the above delimitation, the arbitrators consider and decide that, in time of peace, the Rivers Amakuru and Barima shall be open to navigation by the merchant shipping of all nations, due reserve being made with regard to equitable regulations and the payment of like dues and other like imposts, on condition that the dues levied by Venezuela and British Guiana on ships traversing the parts of those rivers owned by them respectively shall be imposed in accordance with the same tariff on Venezuelan and British vessels. These tariffs are not to exceed those of all other countries. The award proceeds also upon the condition that neither Venezuela nor British Guiana shall impose any customs duty on goods carried in vessels, ships, or boats passing through these rivers, such customs being levied only on goods landed upon Venezuelan territory or on the territory of Great Britain respectively.

Soldiers' Homes.

LOCATIONS OF HOMES FOR DISABLED UNITED STATES SOLDIERS AND SAILORS, AND REGULATIONS FOR ADMISSION TO THEM.

NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS.

President of the Board of Managers.....General William B. Franklin, Hartford, Ct.
Secretary.....General Thomas J. Henderson, Princeton Ill.
General Treasurer.....Major J. M. Birmingham, Hartford, Ct.

There are branches of the National Home at Dayton, O.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Togus, Me.; Hampton, Va.; Leavenworth, Kan.; Santa Monica, Cal.; Marion, Ind., and Danville, Ill. The aggregate number of inmates is about 27,000.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

1. An honorable discharge from the United States service.
2. Disability which prevents the applicant from earning his living by labor.
3. Applicants for admission will be required to stipulate and agree to abide by all the rules and regulations made by the Board of Managers, or by its order; to perform all duties required of them, and to obey all the lawful orders of the officers of the Home. Attention is called to the fact that by the law establishing the Home the members are made subject to the Rules and Articles of War, and will be governed thereby in the same manner as if they were in the Army of the United States.
4. A soldier or sailor must forward with his application for admission his Discharge Paper, and when he is a pensioner, his Pension Certificate, and if he has been a member of a State Home, his discharge from that Home, before his application will be considered, which papers will be retained at the branch to which the applicant is admitted, to be kept there for him, and returned to him when he is discharged. This rule is adopted to prevent the loss of such papers and certificates, and to hinder fraudulent practices; and no application will be considered unless these papers are sent with it. If the original discharge does not exist, a copy of discharge, certified by the War or Navy Department, or by the Adjutant-General of the State, must accompany the application.

Soldiers or sailors whose pensions exceed $16 a month are not eligible to the Home unless the reasons are peculiar, and are explained to the manager and are satisfactory to him. Those who have been members of State Homes must have been discharged from those Homes at least six months before they can be admitted to a branch of the National Home, except by a vote of the Board of Managers. Applicants are requested to conform strictly to the above requirements.

There are State Homes for disabled volunteer soldiers provided by the States of California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

UNITED STATES HOME FOR REGULAR ARMY SOLDIERS.

The United States Soldiers' Home in the District of Columbia receives and maintains discharged soldiers of the regular army. All soldiers who have served twenty years as enlisted men in the army (including volunteer service, if any), and all soldiers of less than twenty years' service who have incurred such disability, by wounds, disease, or injuries in the line of duty while in the regular army, as unfit them for further service, are entitled to the benefits of the Home.

A pensioner who enters the Home may assign his pension, or any part of it, to his child, wife, or parent, by filing written notice with the agent who pays him. If not so assigned, it is drawn by the treasurer of the Home and held in trust for the pensioner, to whom it is paid in such sums as the commissioners deem proper while he is an inmate of the Home, the balance being paid in full when he takes his discharge and leaves the Home.

Inmates are subject to the Rules and Articles of War, the same as soldiers in the army. They are comfortably lodged, fed, and clothed, and receive medical attendance and medicine, all without cost to them. There are 1,250 men now receiving the benefits of the Home.

The Board of Commissioners consists of "the General-in-Chief commanding the army, the Surgeon-General, the Commissary-General, the Adjutant-General, the Quartermaster-General, the Judge-Advocate-General, and the Governor of the Home."

Applications for admission to the Home may be addressed to the "Board of Commissioners, Soldiers' Home, War Department, Washington City, D. C.," and must give date of enlistment and date of discharge, with letter of company and number of regiment for each and every term of service, and rate of pension, if any, and must be accompanied by a medical certificate showing nature and degree of disability if any exists.

Gettysburg was the greatest battle of the war. Antietam the bloodiest. The largest army was assembled by the Confederates at the seven days' fight; by the Unionists at the Wilderness.

The Treaty of Peace with Spain.

THE treaty of peace between the United States and Spain was signed by the members of the Joint Commission at Paris, December 10, 1898. The full text of the treaty is as follows :

The United States of America and Her Majesty the Queen Regent of Spain, in the name of her august son, Don Alfonso XIII., desiring to end the state of war now existing between the two countries, have for that purpose appointed as plenipotentiaries :

The President of the United States:
William R. Day, Cushman K. Davis, William P. Frye, George Gray, and Whitelaw Reid, citizens of the United States:

And Her Majesty the Queen Regent of Spain:
Don Eugenio Montero Rios, President of the Senate ; Don Buenaventura de Abarzuza, Senator of the Kingdom and ex-Minister of the Crown ; Don José de Garnica, Deputy to the Cortes and Associate Justice of the Supreme Court ; Don Wenceslao Ramirez de Villa Urrutia, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Brussels, and Don Rafael Cerero, General of Division.

Who, having assembled in Paris and having exchanged their full powers, which were found to be in due and proper form, have, after discussion of the matters before them, agreed upon the following articles:

ARTICLE I.

Spain relinquishes all claim of sovereignty over and title to Cuba.

And as the island is, upon its evacuation by Spain, to be occupied by the United States, the United States will, so long as such occupation shall last, assume and discharge the obligations that may under international law result from the fact of its occupation for the protection of life and property.

ARTICLE II.

Spain cedes to the United States the island of Porto Rico and other islands now under Spanish sovereignty in the West Indies, and the island of Guam, in the Mariannes or Ladrones.

ARTICLE III.

Spain cedes to the United States the archipelago known as the Philippine Islands, and comprehending the islands lying within the following lines :

A line running from west to east along or near the twentieth parallel of north latitude, and through the middle of the navigable channel of Bachtí, from the one hundred and eighteenth to the one hundred and twenty-seventh degree meridian of longitude east of Greenwich, thence along the one hundred and twenty-seventh degree meridian of longitude east of Greenwich to the parallel of four degrees and forty-five minutes north latitude, thence along the parallel of four degrees and forty-five minutes north latitude to its intersection with the meridian of longitude one hundred and nineteen degrees and thirty-five minutes east of Greenwich, thence along the meridian of longitude one hundred and nineteen degrees and thirty-five minutes east of Greenwich to the parallel of latitude seven degrees and forty minutes north, thence along the parallel of latitude seven degrees and forty minutes north to its intersection with the one hundred and sixteenth degree meridian of longitude east of Greenwich, thence by a direct line to the intersection of the tenth degree parallel of north latitude with the one hundred and eighteenth degree meridian of longitude east of Greenwich, and thence along the one hundred and eighteenth degree meridian of longitude east of Greenwich to the point of beginning.

The United States will pay to Spain the sum of $20,000,000 within three months after the exchange of the ratifications of the present treaty.

ARTICLE IV.

The United States will, for ten years from the date of exchange of ratifications of the present treaty, admit Spanish ships and merchandise to the ports of the Philippine Islands on the same terms as ships and merchandise of the United States.

ARTICLE V.

The United States will, upon the signature of the present treaty, send back to Spain, at its own cost, the Spanish soldiers taken as prisoners of war on the capture of Manila by the American forces. The arms of the soldiers in question shall be restored to them.

Spain will, upon the exchange of the ratifications of the present treaty, proceed to evacuate the Philippines, as well as the island of Guam, on terms similar to those agreed upon by the Commissioners appointed to arrange for the evacuation of Porto Rico and other islands in the West Indies under the protocol of August 12, 1898, which is to continue in force till its provisions are completely executed.

The time within which the evacuation of the Philippine Islands and Guam shall be completed shall be fixed by the two Governments. Stands of colors, uncaptured war vessels, small arms, guns of all calibres, with their carriages and accessories, powder, ammunition, live stock, and materials and supplies of all kinds belonging to the land and naval forces of Spain in the Philippines and Guam remain the property of Spain. Pieces of heavy ordnance, exclusive of field artillery, in the fortifications and coast defences shall remain in their emplacements for the term of six months, to be reckoned from the exchange of ratifications of the treaty; and the United States may in the mean time purchase such material from Spain if a satisfactory agreement between the two Governments on the subject shall be reached.

ARTICLE VI.

Spain will, upon the signature of the present treaty, release all prisoners of war and all persons detained or imprisoned for political offences in connection with the insurrections in Cuba and the Philippines and the war with the United States.

Reciprocally the United States will release all persons made prisoners of war by the American forces, and will undertake to obtain the release of all Spanish prisoners in the hands of the insurgents in Cuba and the Philippines.

The Government of the United States will at its own cost return to Spain, and the Government of Spain will at its own cost return to the United States, Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippines, according to the situation of their respective homes, prisoners released or caused to be released by them, respectively, under this article.

ARTICLE VII.

The United States and Spain mutually relinquish all claims for indemnity, national and individual, of every kind, of either Government, or of its citizens or subjects, against the other Government which may have arisen since the beginning of the late insurrection in Cuba and prior to the exchange of ratifications of the present treaty, including all claims for indemnity for the cost of the war. The United States will adjudicate and settle the claims of its citizens against Spain relinquished in this article.

ARTICLE VIII.

In conformity with the provisions of Articles I., II., and III. of this treaty, Spain relinquishes in Cuba and cedes in Porto Rico and other islands in the West Indies, in the island of Guam, and in the Philippine Archipelago all the buildings, wharves, barracks, forts, structures, public highways, and other immovable property which in conformity with law belong to the public domain and as such belong to the Crown of Spain.

And it is hereby declared that the relinquishment or cession, as the case may be, to which the preceding paragraph refers, cannot in any respect impair the property or rights which by law belong to the peaceful possession of property of all kinds of provinces, municipalities, public or private establishments, ecclesiastical or civil bodies, or any other associations having legal capacity to acquire and possess property in the aforesaid territories, renounced or ceded, or of private individuals, of whatsoever nationality such individuals may be.

The aforesaid relinquishment or cession, as the case may be, includes all documents exclusively referring to the sovereignty relinquished or ceded that may exist in the archives of the peninsula. Where any document in such archives only in part relates to said sovereignty a copy of such part will be furnished whenever it shall be requested. Like rules shall be reciprocally observed in favor of Spain in respect of documents in the archives of the islands above referred to.

In the aforesaid relinquishment or cession, as the case may be, are also included such rights as the Crown of Spain and its authorities possess in respect of the official archives and records, executive as well as judicial, in the islands above referred to, which relate to said islands or the rights and property of their inhabitants. Such archives and records shall be carefully preserved, and private persons shall, without distinction, have the right to require, in accordance with the law, authenticated copies of the contracts, wills, and other instruments forming part of notarial protocols or files, or which may be contained in the executive or judicial archives, be the latter in Spain or in the islands aforesaid.

ARTICLE IX.

Spanish subjects, natives of the peninsula, residing in the territory over which Spain by the present treaty relinquishes or cedes her sovereignty, may remain in such territory or may remove therefrom, retaining in either event all their rights of property, including the right to sell or dispose of such property or of its proceeds; and they shall also have the right to carry on their industry, commerce, and professions, being subject in respect thereof to such laws as are applicable to other foreigners. In case they remain in the territory they may preserve their allegiance to the Crown of Spain by making, before a court of record, within a year from the date of the exchange of ratifications of this treaty, a declaration of their decision to preserve such allegiance; in default of which declaration they shall be held to have renounced it and to have adopted the nationality of the territory in which they may reside.

The civil rights and political status of the native inhabitants of the territories hereby ceded to the United States shall be determined by the Congress.

ARTICLE X.

The inhabitants of the territories over which Spain relinquishes or cedes her sovereignty shall be secured in the free exercise of their religion.

ARTICLE XI.

The Spaniards residing in the territories over which Spain by this treaty cedes or relinquishes her sovereignty shall be subject in matters civil as well as criminal to the jurisdiction of the courts of the country wherein they reside, pursuant to the ordinary laws governing the same; and they shall have the right to appear before such courts and to pursue the same course as citizens of the country to which the courts belong.

ARTICLE XII.

Judicial proceedings pending at the time of the exchange of ratifications of this treaty in the territories over which Spain relinquishes or cedes her sovereignty shall be determined according to the following rules:

First—Judgments rendered either in civil suits between private individuals, or in criminal matters, before the date mentioned, and with respect to which there is no recourse or right of review under the Spanish law, shall be deemed to be final, and shall be executed in due form by competent authority in the territory within which such judgments should be carried out.

Second—Civil suits between private individuals which may on the date mentioned be undetermined shall be prosecuted to judgment before the court in which they may then be pending, or in the court that may be substituted therefor.

Third—Criminal actions pending on the date mentioned before the Supreme Court of Spain against citizens of the territory which by this treaty ceases to be Spanish shall continue under its jurisdiction until final judgment; but, such judgment having been rendered, the execution thereof shall be committed to the competent authority of the place in which the case arose.

ARTICLE XIII.

The rights of property secured by copyrights and patents acquired by Spaniards in the Island of Cuba, and in Porto Rico, the Philippines, and other ceded territories, at the time of the exchange of the ratifications of this treaty, shall continue to be respected. Spanish scientific, literary, and artistic works not subversive of public order in the territories in question shall continue to be admitted free of duty into such territories for the period of ten years, to be reckoned from the date of the exchange of the ratifications of this treaty.

ARTICLE XIV.

Spain shall have the power to establish consular officers in the ports and places of the territories the sovereignty over which has either been relinquished or ceded by the present treaty.

ARTICLE XV.

The Government of each country will, for the term of ten years, accord to the merchant vessels of the other country the same treatment in respect to all port charges, including entrance and clearance dues, light dues, and tonnage duties, as it accords to its own merchant vessels not engaged in the coastwise trade.

THE TREATY OF PEACE WITH SPAIN—Continued.

This article may at any time be terminated on six months' notice given by either Government to the other.

ARTICLE XVI.

It is understood that any obligations assumed in this treaty by the United States with respect to Cuba are limited to the time of its occupancy thereof; but it will upon the termination of such occupancy advise any Government established in the island to assume the same obligations.

ARTICLE XVII.

The present treaty shall be ratified by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof, and by Her Majesty the Queen Regent of Spain; and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Washington within six months from the date hereof, or earlier if possible.

In faith whereof we, the respective plenipotentiaries, have signed this treaty and have hereunto affixed our seals.

Done in duplicate at Paris, the tenth day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight.

The President signed the treaty February 10, and it was transmitted to Spain and received the signature of the Queen Regent March 17. The copy of the treaty belonging to the United States was received here early in April, and on April 11 following the official exchange of ratifications the President issued his proclamation of peace, which was in the following terms:

Whereas, A treaty of peace between the United States of America and Her Majesty the Queen Regent of Spain, in the name of her august son, Don Alfonso XIII, was concluded and signed by their respective plenipotentiaries at Paris on the tenth day of December, 1898, the original of which, in the Spanish language, is word for word as follows:

[Here text of treaty is included.]

And, Whereas, The said convention has been duly ratified on both parts, and the ratifications of the two Governments were exchanged in the city of Washington on the eleventh day of April, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine;

Now, therefore be it known, that I, William McKinley, President of the United States of America, have caused the said convention to be made public, to the end that the same and every article and clause thereof may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States and the citizens thereof.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this eleventh day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-third.

By the President: JOHN HAY, Secretary of State.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

DATES.—The Spanish-American War began April 21, 1898; Peace Protocol signed August 10, President appointed United States Peace Commissioners August 26; joint sessions of the United States and Spanish Commissioners began in Paris October 1; the treaty was signed by the Joint Commissioners December 10; transmitted to the Senate by the President January 4, 1899; ratified by the Senate February 6; signed by the President February 10; signed by the Queen Regent March 17; ratifications exchanged April 11.

The Philippine Islands.

The Philippine group, lying off the southern coast of Asia, between longitude 120 and 130 and latitude 5 and 20 approximately, number about 2,000 islands, great and small, in a land and sea area of 1,200 miles of latitude and 2,400 miles of longitude. The actual land area is about 140,000 miles. The six New England States, New York, and New Jersey have about an equivalent area. The island of Luzon, on which the capital city (Manila) is situated, is the largest member of the group, being about the size of the State of New York. Mindanao is nearly as large, but its population is very much smaller. The latest estimates of areas of the largest islands are as follows: Luzon, 44,400; Mindanao, 34,000; Samar, 4,800; Panay, 4,700; Mindoro, 4,000; Leyte, 3,800; Negros, 3,300; Cebu, 2,400.

The estimates of population vary from 7,500,000 to 10,000,000. A conservative estimate is 8,000,000. The late Spanish masters had never caused a census to be taken, and, indeed, some parts of the islands are yet unexplored and inhabited by tribes nearly savage. Racially the inhabitants are principally Malays. The country has been in the possession of Spain since 1565, and the religion introduced by the proprietors has long been that of the natives. The church has been a strong ruling power and the priesthood numerous. There are thirty different races, all speaking a different dialect.

The following memoranda was prepared by Major-General F. V. Greene for the Government:

CLIMATE.

The climate is one of the best known in the tropics. The islands extend from 5° to 21° north latitude, and Manila is in 14° 35'. The thermometer during July and August rarely goes below 79° or above 85°. The extreme ranges in a year are said to be 61° and 97°, and the annual mean 81°. There are three well-marked seasons, temperate and dry from November to February, hot and dry from March to May, and temperate and wet from June to October. The rainy season reaches its maximum in July and August, when the rains are constant and very heavy. The total rainfall has been as high as 114 inches in one year.

Yellow fever appears to be unknown. The diseases most fatal among the natives are cholera and small-pox, both of which are brought from China. Low malarial fever is brought on by sleeping on the ground or being chilled by remaining without exercise in wet clothes; and diarrhoea is produced by drinking bad water or eating excessive quantities of fruit. Almost all of these diseases are preventable by proper precautions even by troops in campaign. The sickness in our troops was very small, much less than in the cold fogs at camp in San Francisco.

MINERAL WEALTH.

Very little is known concerning the mineral wealth of the islands. It is stated that there are deposits of coal, petroleum, iron, lead, sulphur, copper, and gold in the various islands, but little or nothing has been done to develop them. A few concessions have been granted for working mines, but the output is not large. The gold is reported on Luzon, coal and petroleum on Cebu and Iloilo, and sulphur on Leyte.

AGRICULTURE.

Although agriculture is the chief occupation of the Filipinos, yet only one-ninth of the surface is under cultivation. The soil is very fertile, and even after deducting the mountainous areas it is probable that the area of cultivation can be very largely extended and that the islands can support population equal to that of Japan (42,000,000).

The chief products are rice, corn, hemp, sugar, tobacco, coconuts, and cacao. Coffee and cotton were formerly produced in large quantities—the former for export and the latter for home consumption; but the coffee plant has been almost exterminated by insects and the home-made cotton cloths have been driven out by the competition of those imported from England. The rice and corn are principally produced in Luzon and Mindoro and are consumed in the islands. The rice crop is about 765,000 tons. It is insufficient for the demand, and 45,000 tons of rice were imported in 1894, the greater portion from Saigon and the rest from Hong Kong and Singapore; also 8,669 tons (say 60,000 barrels) of flour, of which more than two-thirds came from China and less than one-third from the United States. The cacao is raised in the southern islands, the best quality of it at Mindanao. The sugar cane is raised in the Visayas. The crop yielded in 1894 about 235,000 tons of raw sugar, of which one-tenth was consumed in the islands, and the balance, or 210,000 tons, valued at $11,000,000, was exported, the greater part to China, Great Britain, and Australia. The hemp is produced in Southern Luzon, Mindoro, the Visayas, and Mindanao. It is nearly all exported in bales. In 1894 the amount was 96,000 tons, valued at $12,000,000. Tobacco is raised in all the islands, but the best quality and greatest amount in Luzon. A large amount is consumed in the islands, smoking being universal among women as well as the men, but the best quality is exported. The amount in 1894 was 7,000 tons of leaf tobacco, valued at $1,750,000. Coconuts are grown in Southern Luzon and are used in various ways.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

The Bureau of Foreign Commerce of the State Department gives the following figures, partly for 1896 and partly for 1897:

THE PHILIPPINE WAR OF 1899.

February 4—The Filipinos, under Aguinaldo, attacked the American defences at Manila. The Americans assumed the offensive the next day, and in the fighting which ensued for several days the American loss was 57 killed and 215 wounded. Five hundred Filipinos were killed, 1,000 wounded, and 500 captured.

February 10—Battle of Calocan. In all the engagements which followed to the end of the year in a warfare largely desultory the Americans were almost uniformly successful, the enemy retreating after making a more or less determined stand.

March 13-19—General Wheaton attacked and occupied Pasig.

March 21-30—General MacArthur advanced toward and captured Malolos.
 April 25-May 5—General MacArthur captured Calumpit and San Fernando.
 April 22-May 17—General Lawton led an expedition to San Isidro.
 June 10-19—Generals Lawton and Wheaton advanced south to Imus.
 June 26—General Hall took Calamba.

Military operations were partially suspended during the rainy season, but General MacArthur captured Angeles August 16.

Meanwhile the southern islands were occupied by the American forces. Iloilo by General Miller February 11, Cebu by the Navy March 27, and Negros, Mindanao, and the smaller islands subsequently.

A treaty was concluded with the Sultan of Sulu, in which his rights were guaranteed, and he acknowledged the supremacy of the United States.

The Philippine Commission appointed by the President, and composed of President J. G. Schurman, of Cornell University; Professor Dean Worcester, Charles Denby, late Minister to China; Admiral Dewey, and General Otis, began its labors at Manila March 20 and continued until ordered home in September. The Commission prepared and submitted its preliminary report to the President at Washington November 2. The Commission issued a proclamation to the people of the Philippine Islands on April 4, the conditions of which were, in substance, as follows:

1. The supremacy of the United States must and will be enforced throughout every part of the archipelago, and those who resist can accomplish nothing except their own ruin.
2. The amplest liberty of self-government will be granted which is reconcilable with the just, stable, effective, and economical administration, and compatible with the sovereign rights and obligations of the United States.
3. The civil rights of the Filipinos will be guaranteed and protected, their religious freedom will be assured, and all will have equal standing before the law.
4. Honor, justice, and friendship forbid the exploitation of the people of the islands. The purpose of the American Government is the welfare and advancement of the Philippine people.
5. It guarantees an honest and effective civil service, in which, to the fullest extent practicable, natives shall be employed.
6. The collection and application of taxes and other revenues will be put upon a sound, honest, and economical basis. The public funds, raised justly and collected honestly, will be applied only to defraying the proper expenses of the establishment and maintenance of the Philippine Government, and such general improvements as public interests demand. Local funds collected for local purposes shall not be diverted to other ends. With such prudent and honest fiscal administration it is believed the needs of the Government will in a short time become compatible with a considerable reduction in taxation.
7. The establishment of a pure, speedy, and effective administration of justice, by which the evils of delay, corruption, and exploitation will be effectually eradicated.
8. The construction of roads, railroads, and other means of communication and transportation, and other public works of manifest advantage to the people, will be promoted.
9. Domestic and foreign trade and commerce and other industrial pursuits and the general development of the country in the interest of its inhabitants will be the constant object of solicitude and fostering care.
10. Effective provision will be made for the establishment of elementary schools, in which the children of the people will be educated. Appropriate facilities will also be provided for higher education.
11. Reforms in all departments of the Government, all branches of the public service, and all corporations closely touching the common life of the people must be undertaken without delay and effected conformably with common right and justice, in a way to satisfy the well-founded demands and the highest sentiments and aspirations of the Philippine people.

With the advance of the dry season military operations on a much larger scale than heretofore were begun, the army of occupation having been reinforced by 30,000 men.

September 23—General MacArthur, after several days' fighting, occupied Porac.

October 1-10—General Schwan's column operated in the south part of Luzon, and captured Rosario and Malabon.

November 7—A military expedition on board transports, under General Wheaton, captured Dagupan.

November 14—Major Bell entered Tarlac.

November 14—Brisk fighting near San Jacinto. Major John A. Logan was killed.

November 24—General Otis announced to the War Department that the whole of Central Luzon was in the hands of the United States authorities; that the President of the Filipino Congress, the Filipino Secretary of State, and Treasurer were captured, and that only small bands of the enemy were in arms, retreating in different directions, while Aguinaldo, a fugitive with a small escort, was being pursued toward the mountains.

November 26—The Navy captured Vigan on the coast.

December 11—The President directed General Otis to open the ports of the Philippines to commerce.

December 19—General Lawton was killed in attacking San Mateo.

 Secretary to the President.

The Colonial Possessions of the United States.

THE PHILIPPINES AND TUTUILA.

For an account of the Philippine Islands see page 90. For Tutuila, the island of the Samoan group ceded to the United States, see page 97.

HAWAII.

Hawaii was annexed to the United States by joint resolution of Congress July 6, 1898. A bill to create Hawaii a territory of the United States is before Congress. Meanwhile the old government continues. The text of the joint resolution of annexation was printed in THE WORLD ALMANAC for 1899, page 96.

The area of the several islands of the Hawaiian group is as follows: Hawaii, 4,210 square miles; Maui, 760; Oahu, 600; Kauai, 590; Molokai, 270; Lanai, 150; Niuhau, 97; Kahoolawe, 63. Total, 6,740 square miles.

At the time of the discovery of the islands by Captain Cook in 1778 the native population was about 200,000. This has steadily decreased, so that at the last census the natives numbered but 31,019, which was less than that of the Japanese and Chinese immigrants settled in the islands. A census taken early in 1897 revealed a total population of 109,020, distributed according to race as follows:

|                     | Males. | Females. | Total  |                 | Males. | Females. | Total. |
| Hawaiians.....      | 16,399 | 14,620   | 31,019 | Portuguese..... | 8,202  | 6,898    | 15,100 |
| Part Hawaiians..... | 4,249  | 4,236    | 8,485  | Americans.....  | 1,975  | 1,111    | 3,086  |
| Japanese.....       | 19,212 | 5,195    | 24,407 | British.....    | 1,406  | 844      | 2,250  |
| Chinese.....        | 19,167 | 2,449    | 21,616 |                 |        |          |        |

The remainder were Germans, French, Norwegians, South Sea Islanders, and representatives of other nationalities. The American population is 2.73 per cent of the whole.

There are 71 miles of railroad and about 250 miles of telegraph in the islands. Honolulu, the capital, with a population of 28,061, is lighted by electricity, and has most of the local features of an enterprising American city. The bulk of the business is done by Americans and Europeans.

Of sugar, of which it is said the Hawaiian Islands are much more productive in a given area than those of the West Indies, the exportation was 520,158,232 pounds in 1897. Of coffee, the exportation was 337,158 pounds in 1897; of rice, the exportation was 5,499,499 pounds in 1897. In the matter of imports, nearly all of the necessities of life, aside from sugar, fruits, and vegetables, are imported, the products of the United States being given the preference in nearly all cases.

PORTO RICO.

The island of Porto Rico, over which the flag of the United States was raised in token of formal possession on October 18, 1898, is the most eastern of the Greater Antilles in the West Indies and is separated on the east from the Danish island of St. Thomas by a distance of about fifty miles, and from Hayti on the west by the Mona passage, seventy miles wide. Distances from San Juan, the capital, to important points are as follows: New York, 1,420 miles; Charleston, S. C., 1,200 miles; Key West, Fla., 1,050 miles; Havana, 1,000 miles.

The island is a parallelogram in general outline, 108 miles from the east to the west, and from 37 to 43 miles across, the area being about 3,600 square miles, or somewhat less than half that of the State of New Jersey (Delaware has 2,050 square miles and Connecticut 4,990 square miles). The population according to an enumeration made in 1887 was 798,565, of whom 474,933 were whites, 246,647 mulattoes, and 76,905 negroes. The present estimated population is 900,000.

Porto Rico is unusually fertile, and its dominant industries are agriculture and lumbering. In elevated regions the vegetation is temperate, the temperate zone is not unknown. There are more than 500 varieties of trees found in the forests, and the plains are full of palm, orange, and other trees. The principal crops are sugar, coffee, tobacco, cotton, and maize, but bananas, rice, pineapples, and many other fruits are important products. The largest article of export from Porto Rico is coffee, which is over 63 per cent of the whole. The next largest is sugar, 28 per cent. The other exports in order of amount are tobacco, honey, molasses, cattle, timber, and hides.

The principal minerals found in Porto Rico are gold, carbonates, and sulphides of copper and magnetic oxide of iron in large quantities. Lignite is found at Utuado and Moca, and also yellow amber. A large variety of marbles, limestones, and other building stones are deposited on the island, but these resources are very undeveloped. There are salt works at Guanica and Salinae on the south coast, and at Cape Rojo on the west, and these constitute the principal mineral industry in Porto Rico.

There are 137 miles of railway, with 170 miles under construction, and 470 miles of telegraph lines. These connect the capital with the principal ports south and west. Submarine cables run from San Juan to St. Thomas and Jamaica. The principal cities are Ponce, 40,000 inhabitants; Arecibo with 30,000, and San Juan, the capital, with 25,000.

At present Porto Rico is governed as a military department of the United States.

GUAM.

The island of Guam, the largest of the Mariana or Ladrone Archipelago, was ceded by Spain to the United States by Article 2 of the Treaty of Peace, concluded at Paris December 10, 1898. It lies in a direct line from San Francisco to the southern part of the Philippines, and is 5,200 miles from San Francisco, and 900 miles from Manila. It is about 32 miles long and 100 miles in circumference, and has a population of about 9,000, of whom about 6,000 are in Agana, the capital. The inhabitants are mostly immigrants or descendants of immigrants from the Philippines, the original race of the Ladrone Islands being extinct. The prevailing language is Spanish. Nine-tenths of the islanders can read and write. The island is thickly wooded, well watered and fertile, and possesses an excellent harbor.

Commander Taussig, of the United States gunboat Bennington, took possession of the island and raised the United States flag over Fort Santa Cruz on February 1, 1899. The President appointed Captain Richard P. Leary, U. S. Navy, Governor of Guam, and he arrived there in July, 1899, and issued a proclamation to the inhabitants announcing the establishment of the authority of the United States, which would be exerted for the security of their persons and property and the confirmation of all their private rights.

The United States flag was hoisted over Wake Island in February, 1899, by Commander Taussig, of the Bennington, while proceeding to Guam. It is a small island in the direct route from Hawaii to Hong Kong, about 2,000 miles from the first, and 3,000 miles from the second.

The South African War.

THE COUNTRIES AND COLONIES INVOLVED IN THE WAR.

THE BOER REPUBLICS.

THE two Boer republics of South Africa lie in the southern part of Africa, directly north of Cape Colony, and nearly surrounded by British territory, which stretches along their entire western and northern boundaries and occupies one-half of the space between their eastern boundary and the Indian Ocean, while the other half is occupied by the territory of Portuguese East Africa. Their territory is thus entirely in the interior, having no port on the ocean, although the distance from their eastern boundary to the Indian Ocean is less than 200 miles. They were originally populated by Dutch residents of Cape Colony and Natal who became dissatisfied with British rule.

ORANGE FREE STATE.

The Orange Free State is the older of the two organizations, having been founded originally by Boers who quitted Cape Colony in 1836.

The area of the Orange Free State is estimated at 48,326 square miles, and the population, according to the census of 1890, 77,716 whites and 129,787 natives. The chief industry is agriculture and stock raising, the territory consisting of undulating plains, which afford excellent grazing. Diamond and gold mines are worked, the diamond production being of considerable value. The great Kimberley diamond mines are located just outside and west of the territory of the Orange Free State. A railway, constructed by the Cape Colony Government, connects Bloemfontein, the capital of the Orange Free State, with the ports of Cape Colony and Natal, also with the capital of the South African Republic, which lies at the north.

SOUTH AFRICAN REPUBLIC.

The South African Republic, or the Transvaal, as it is frequently termed, lies immediately north of the Orange Free State, and was formed by a party of Boers who left Cape Colony in 1835 for Natal, but withdrew from that colony on its annexation to the British Crown.

The area of the republic is 119,139 square miles; the white population, estimated, for 1898, is 345,397, and the native population, 748,759. The seat of government is Pretoria, with a white population of 10,000. The largest town is Johannesburg, the mining centre of Witwatersrand gold fields, having a population within a radius of three miles, according to the census of 1896, of 102,078 persons, of which number 50,907 were whites, 952 Malays, 4,807 coolies and Chinese, 42,533 Kaffirs, and 2,879 of mixed race. One-third of the population of the republic is estimated to be engaged in agriculture, the lands of the republic generally, outside the mining districts, being extremely productive, and the demand for farm products in the mining regions very great, even in excess of the local products at the present time. The gold mines are now the most productive in the world, and have already turned out gold to the value of more than $300,000,000, and, according to the estimate of experts, have still $3,500,000,000 "in sight." The republic is connected with the ports of Cape Colony, Natal, and Lorenzo Marquez (the latter in Portuguese East Africa) by rail.

CAPE COLONY.

Cape Colony, which occupies the most southerly part of Africa, came under British control in 1796. It was originally a colony of Holland and was conquered by the British in war with that country in 1796, was restored to the Dutch in 1803, again occupied by the British in 1806 and formally ceded by treaty to Great Britain in 1814, forming a part of the whole of South Africa which has been claimed by the British as their territory under the treaty.

The area of Cape Colony is variously stated at from 277,000 to 292,000 square miles, the length from north to south being nearly 600 miles and the breadth about 450 miles, though this statement of area and length includes British Bechuanaland, which was incorporated with Cape Colony in 1895, and whose area alone was 51,425 square miles. The total population of the colony is now given as 2,011,305, of which number about 400,000 are white the greater number being of Dutch descent. The principal events since the British came finally into control are: The first Kaffir war, in 1834; the removal of a portion of the Boers to Natal and the Orange Free State, in 1836; the second Kaffir war, in 1847; introduction of representative government, in 1853; first diamond discovery, in 1867; introduction of responsible government, in 1872; incorporation of Transkei territories with the colony, in 1885; annexation of Pondoland, in 1894; and annexation of Bechuanaland, in 1895. The minerals include extremely rich deposits of copper, yielding a percentage of from 32 to 36 per cent, the exports of 1887 amounting to 27,329 tons, valued in round terms at $1,500,000. Coal of considerable value is also produced. The most valuable mineral product, however, is that of diamonds, already referred to, which are chiefly found at Kimberley, which lies well at the north of Cape Colony territory and immediately adjacent to the territory of the Orange Free State. The total exportation of rough diamonds from Cape Colony from 1867 to 1897 is stated as £83,311,087. These mines employ large numbers of people, the importation of articles required by them and the exportation of products of the mines mostly passing through Cape Town, the chief city of the colony.

NATAL.

The British colony of Natal lies northeast of Cape Colony and was settled by the Dutch. Great Britain claimed the territory and took military possession of it in 1843. Including Zululand the colony has an estimated area of 35,000 square miles and had a population in 1898 of 829,000, of which 61,000 are Europeans. The principal crop for export is sugar, though quantities of corn, wheat, oats, and other cereals are grown, while tea planting, which has been recently introduced, occupies 2,664 acres, the yield for 1897 being 849,000 pounds. The coal fields of the colony are of large extent and of considerable importance, the output in 1897 being 244,000 tons. Large forests of valuable timber abound.

The railroads in operation are 487 miles in length, and are all constructed and operated by the Government. The main line extends from the port of Durban to Pietermaritzburg, the capital, and thence to the border of the South African Republic, 307 miles distant from the port of Durban (Port Natal), with an extension from the border of Johannesburg, the centre of the great gold-mining interests, and Pretoria, the capital of the South African Republic, and from Pretoria a railroad line also extends eastward to Lorenzo Marquez on Delagoa Bay, in Portuguese territory.

The province of Zululand, which is now a part of Natal, comprises about two-thirds of the country formerly under Zulu kings, and is chiefly populated by natives. The population of Zululand and British Anatonaland is given as 180,000.

EVENTS IN THE WAR TO DECEMBER 15, 1899.

May 31, 1899—A conference between Sir Alfred Milner, Governor of Cape Colony, and the Presidents of the Dutch Republics was held at Bloemfontein, in which terms for the adjustment of the claims of the Outlanders were discussed, but no agreement was reached.

June 1-October 10—Negotiations proceeded between the Governments of Great Britain and the Transvaal, while the Legislature of the latter adopted laws regarding the franchise which were not acceptable to the former. Meanwhile both countries prepared energetically for war, and the Orange Free State announced its determination to support the Transvaal in case of hostilities.

October 10—The Transvaal sent the following ultimatum to the British Government:

First—That all points of mutual difference be regulated by friendly recourse to arbitration, or by whatever amicable way may be agreed upon by this Government and Her Majesty's Government.

Second—That all troops on the borders of this Republic shall be instantly withdrawn.

Third—That all reinforcements of troops which have arrived in South Africa since June 1, 1899, shall be removed from South Africa within a reasonable time to be agreed upon with this Government and with the mutual assurance and guarantee on the part of this Government that no attack upon or hostilities against any portion of the possessions of the British Government shall be made by this Republic during the further negotiations, within a period of time to be subsequently agreed upon between the Governments; and this Government will, on compliance therewith be prepared to withdraw the armed burghers of this Republic from the borders.

Fourth—That Her Majesty's troops which are now on the high seas shall not be landed in any part of South Africa.

This Government presses for an immediate and affirmative answer to these four questions and earnestly requests Her Majesty's Government to return an answer before or upon Wednesday, October 11, 1899, not later than 5 o'clock p. m.

It desires further to add that in the unexpected event of an answer not satisfactory being received by it within the interval, it will with great regret be compelled to regard the action of Her Majesty's Government as a formal declaration of war and will not hold itself responsible for the consequences thereof, and that, in the event of any further movement of troops occurring within the above-mentioned time in a nearer direction to our borders, this Government will be compelled to regard that also as a formal declaration of war.

October 12—The British reply being unsatisfactory the Transvaal Boers invaded Natal, advancing toward Newcastle, where the British under Generals White and Symons were on the defensive.

October 13—The British evacuated Newcastle and fell back on Ladysmith, where there was a strong British force.

October 20—The siege of Kimberley by the Boers began.

October 20—Battle of Dundee in Natal, in which the British repulsed the Boers; British loss, 215 in killed and wounded.

October 21—Battle of Elandslaagte; General French captured the Boers' position; British loss in killed and wounded, 257.

October 24—General White repulsed a Free State force at Rietfontein, near Ladysmith.

October 29—The siege of Ladysmith by the Boers began.

October 30—In a sortie near Ladysmith the British were entrapped and defeated, and the Boers captured 870 prisoners.

November 2—Communication with Ladysmith was cut off by the Boers.

November 3—The British evacuated Colenso in Natal.

November 6—The Boers shelled Mafeking, and an attack on the British position was repulsed.

November 9—The first British transport carrying re-enforcements reached Cape Town and proceeded to Durban.

November 16—A British armored train near Eastcourt, Natal, was wrecked by Boers, and 56 prisoners, including Winston Churchill, were captured.

November 23—Near Gras Pan Lord Methuen attacked the Boers and drove them from their position.

November 26—Battle of Modder River, a sanguinary British victory.

December 10—The British under General Gatacre were led into a Boer ambush near Stormberg Junction, and lost 1,000 men, including 672 captured.

December 10-11—Lord Methuen failed to take the Boer positions at Spytfontein after desperate fighting and lost heavily. General Wauchope being killed.

December 15—General Buller was severely defeated while attempting to force the Tugela River, near Colenso; his loss was over 1,000 men and eleven guns. British losses to date in killed, wounded, and missing, 7,630.

The Anglo-American League.

The Anglo-American League was organized by British gentlemen at a meeting held at Stafford House, London, July 13, 1898, the Duke of Sutherland presiding. The avowed purpose of the League is the promotion of friendly feeling between the two English-speaking peoples, those of the United States and the British Empire. The League is not political in its aims, and does not contemplate the advocacy of a political alliance. The following Executive Committee was appointed at the meeting:

The Right Hon. James Bryce, M. P., Chairman; the Duke of Sutherland, Honorary Treasurer; the Earl of Jersey, Earl Grey, the Earl of Crewe, Lord Coleridge, Horace Plunkett, M. P.; Sir Stafford Northcote, Bart., M. P.; Sir William Holdsworth, Bart., M. P.; Thomas Burt, M. P.; John E. Ellis, M. P.; Percy W. Bunting, H. W. Massingham, Alfred C. Harmsworth, George Wyndham, M. P.; E. J. C. Morton, M. P.; Sir David Dale, Bart.; Sir Walter Besant, Sir W. Martin Conway, Thomas H. Ismay, Rev. C. A. Berry, D. D.; Professor J. Westlake, Professor A. V. Dicey, W. T. Stead, T. Fisher Unwin (with power to add to their number). The temporary offices are at 6 King's Bench Walk Temple, E. C., London.

The American response to the action of the League appears in the following declaration which was signed in August, 1898, by numerous citizens of the United States:

We, citizens of the United States of America, desire to express our most hearty appreciation of the recent demonstrations of sympathy and fellowship with this country on the part of citizens of the various countries comprised in the British Empire. We earnestly reciprocate these sentiments, recognizing as we do that the same language and the same principles of ordered liberty should form the basis of an intimate and enduring friendship between these kindred peoples—a friendship destined to hasten the day of peace and good-will among all the nations of the earth.

The promoters of the declaration were the following gentlemen:

The Samoan Settlement.

It was officially announced at Berlin and London on November 8, 1899, that an agreement, subject to the approval of the United States, had been concluded between Great Britain and Germany, by virtue of which the Samoan act was repealed, and the islands of Upolu, Savaii, and the small adjacent islands went to Germany as free property, and the island of Tutuila and its subsidiary islands to the United States. Great Britain renounced any claim to the Samoan Islands, and Germany, in turn, renounced any claim to the Tonga Islands and to Savage Island in favor of Great Britain, and also ceded Choiseul and San Isabel, the two easterly islands of the Solomon group, with their insular surroundings, to Great Britain.

The consular representatives of the two powers in Samoa and the Tonga Islands were to be withdrawn for the present, and German subjects were to have the same rights as British subjects in regard to free and unimpeded enlistment of native laborers in the whole of the Solomon group in the possession of Great Britain, including Choiseul and San Isabel.

A further agreement concluded between Germany, Great Britain, and the United States was to the effect that the question of compensation for claims for damages during the late trouble was to be submitted to an imperial court of arbitration, which will decide all claims. King Oscar of Sweden and Norway was selected as the arbitrator. The treaty is subject to ratification by the United States Senate.

TUTUILA AND THE HARBOR OF PAGO-PAGO.

Tutuila, the Samoan island which, with its attendant islets, becomes a possession of the United States, in case the tri-partite treaty is ratified by the Senate, covers, according to the Bureau of Statistics of the Treasury Department, fifty-four square miles, and has 4,000 inhabitants. It possesses the most valuable island harbor, Pago-Pago, in the South Pacific, and perhaps in the entire Pacific Ocean. Commercially the island is unimportant at present, but it is extremely valuable in its relation to the commerce of any nation desiring to cultivate transpacific commerce. Mr. Goward, who was sent by the United States Government to arrange for a treaty for the harbor of Pago-Pago, said:

The capacity of this harbor is sufficient for the accommodation of large fleets; landlocked, it is safe from hurricanes and storms, and could easily be defended from land or sea at a small expense. In a naval point of view it is the key position to the Samoan group, and likewise to Central Polynesia, and is especially located for protection of American commerce. The Samoan Archipelago is, by reason of its geographical position in Central Polynesia, lying in the course of vessels from San Francisco to Auckland, from Panama to Sydney, and from Valparaiso to China and Japan, and from being outside the hurricane track, the most valuable group in the South Pacific. Situated half way between Honolulu and Auckland, Pago-Pago would be a most convenient stopping place or coaling station for vessels or steamers, either for supplies or the exchange of commodities. With the Pacific mail steamers making it a port for coaling, it would necessarily become the controlling commercial place in that part of Polynesia.

Ex-Chief Justice Chambers, of Samoa, says of Pago-Pago that "The harbor could hold the entire naval force of the United States, and is so perfectly arranged that only two vessels can enter at the same time. The coaling station being surrounded by high bluffs cannot be reached by shells from outside."

The Samoan Islands in the South Pacific are fourteen in number, and lie in a direct line drawn from San Francisco to Auckland, New Zealand. They are 4,000 miles from San Francisco, 2,200 miles from Hawaii, 1,900 miles from Auckland, 2,000 miles from Sydney, and 4,200 miles from Manila. The inhabitants, numbering 34,000, are native Polynesians and Christians of different denominations. There are about 500 Europeans resident in the islands. Schools are attached to the churches. Apia, on the island of Upolu, has been the capital.

In 1889 Great Britain, Germany, and the United States signed an act as protectors of the island, but recognizing the independence of the Samoan Government, and the right of the natives to elect their chief or king, and to choose a form of Government according to their own laws and customs. A supreme court was established, consisting of one judge, and this court had jurisdiction in all civil suits concerning property, and all suits between foreigners and natives. The troubles in Samoa which have disturbed the island for several years have arisen from trade rivalry among the foreigners, and the claims of rival chieftains among the natives for the kingship. In 1898 Mataafa and Mahetoa Tanu were at war, and in a battle in January, 1899, the latter was overthrown. He was, however, supported by the Americans and British, and in the course of subsequent events their naval forces were brought in conflict with Mataafa and his followers, and there was one battle in April in which officers and men of both forces lost their lives. The German officials and residents were favorable to Mataafa.

In June, 1899, the three signatory powers appointed a commission to proceed to Samoa and adjust the difficulties there. The High Commissioners appointed were Bartlett Tripp on the part of the United States, C. N. E. Elliott on that of Great Britain, and H. Sternberg on that of Germany. At Apia July 25 a treaty was signed by the commission which abolished the kingship and established a government composed of an administrator to be chosen by a disinterested power, who would be assisted by a council of delegates from the three signatory powers, and to this government a liberal measure of authority was given. Pending the ratification of this arrangement by the United States, Great Britain, and Germany, those powers concluded the agreement by which the Samoan group, with the exception of Tutuila, became German territory, Tutuila the property of the United States, and Great Britain withdrew from all territorial interest, receiving compensation from Germany elsewhere.

The United States Light-House Establishment.

The following are the members of the Light-House Board:

Hon. Lyman J. Gage, Secretary of the Treasury and ex officio President of the Board, Washington, D. C.
Commodore Francis J. Higginson, U. S. Navy, Chairman Washington, D. C.
Colonel Walter S. Franklin, Baltimore, Md.
Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, Superintendent U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington D. C.
Colonel George L. Gillespie, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, New York City.
Captain Yates Stirling, U. S. Navy, Washington D. C.
Lieutenant Colonel A. Mackenzie, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army Washington, D. C.
Captain Thomas Perry, U. S. Navy, Naval Secretary, Washington, D. C.
Major R. L. Hoxie, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, Engineer Secretary Washington, D. C.

At the close of the fiscal year there were under the control of the Light-House Establishment: Light-houses and lighted beacons, 1,739; light-vessels in position 46; light-vessels for relief, 7; electric and gas buoys in position, 78; fog-signals operated by steam or hot air, 160; fog-signals operated by clock-work, 217; post-lights on Western rivers, 141; day or unlighted beacons 475; whistling-buoys in position, 70; bell-buoys in position 116.

The Universal Peace Conference of 1899.

THE Rescript of the Emperor of Russia, proposing an international conference to consider terms of universal and permanent peace throughout the world, was printed in THE WORLD ALMANAC for 1899, page 106.

The Peace Conference assembled at The Hague, Netherlands, May 18, 1899, and continued in session until the day of final adjournment, July 29, 1899.

The following were the nations represented at the Conference at its opening, with the names of their delegates:

Austria-Hungary.—Count von Welsersheimb, First Secretary of the Austrian Foreign Office, Ambassador Extraordinary; M. Okolicsanyó Okalicon, Minister at the Court of The Hague; Court and Ministerial Councillor Mőrey.

Belgium.—M. Beernaert, Minister for Foreign Affairs; Chevalier Descamp-David, Senator; Count de Grelle-Rogier, Minister at The Hague.

China.—Yang Yu, Minister at the Court of St. Petersburg.

Denmark.—Fr. E. de Bille, Minister at the Court of St. James; Col. Van Schnack, a former Minister of War.

France.—M. Bourgeois, a former Premier; M. Bihourd, Minister at The Hague; Baron Estournelles de Constant, Deputy; Vice-Admiral Pephan; Brig.-Gen. Mounier; Louis Renault, Professor of Law.

Germany.—Count Münster, Ambassador at Paris; Baron von Stengel, of the Munich University; Prof. Dr. Zorn, of the University of Königsberg; Capt. Siegel, Naval Attaché at the German Embassy in Paris; Col. Gross von Schwarzhoff, commanding the Ninety-fourth Regiment of Infantry.

Great Britain.—The Right Hon. Sir Julian Pauncefote, Her Majesty's Ambassador at Washington; Sir Henry Howard, Minister at The Hague; Vice-Admiral Sir John Fisher; Major-Gen. Sir John Ardagh.

Italy.—Count Nigra, Minister at the Court of Vienna; Count Zernini, Minister at The Hague; Gen. Zuccari; Capt. Bianca, of the navy.

Japan.—Baron Hayashi, Minister at the Court of St. Petersburg; Col. Uyehara; Capt. Sakamoto, of the navy; J. Monoto, Ambassador at Brussels.

Netherlands.—Sir A. P. C. van Karnebeck, a former Foreign Minister and Deputy; Major-Gen. den Beer Poortugael, Privy Councillor, a former War Minister; Prof. Asser, Privy Councillor, and M. E. N. Rabusen, member of the Upper House.

Norway and Sweden.—Baron Bildt, Minister at the Court of Rome.

Persia.—Gen. Mirza Riza-Khan, Minister at the Court of St. Petersburg.

Portugal.—Count de Macedo, Minister at Madrid; Angostino d'Ornellas, Minister at St. Petersburg; Count de Selir, Minister at The Hague.

Roumania.—M. Al Beldiman, Ambassador at the Court of Berlin; M. T. Papinin, Minister at The Hague; Col. C. Coanda.

Russia.—Baron de Staal, Col. Jilinsky, Col. Count Barantzew, Capt. Scheine, of the navy; Lieut. Outchinnekow, of the navy; Prof. de Martens.

Servia.—M. Myatovitch, Minister in London.

Siam.—Phya Suriya, Ambassador; Dr. Ch. Corragioni d'Orelli, Secretary of Legation; M. E. Rolin, Consul-General in Belgium.

Spain.—The Duke de Tetuan, M. de Villa Urrutia, Ambassador at Brussels; M. de Bageur, Minister at The Hague.

Switzerland.—Dr. S. Roth, Minister at the Court of Berlin; Col. A. Kuzli and M. E. Odier, both members of the National Council.

Turkey.—Turkhan Pasha, Privy Councillor; Nourey Bey, Secretary-General of the Foreign Office; Abdulla Pasha, Lieutenant-General; Rear-Admiral Mehemed Pasha.

United States of America.—Seth Low, President of Columbia University; Andrew D. White, Ambassador at Berlin; Stanford Newel, Minister at The Hague; Capt. William Crozier, of the Ordnance Department, U. S. A.; Capt. A. T. Mahan, of the navy, and Frederick Hollis as Secretary.

Subsequently delegates also appeared at the Conference from Greece, Luxembourg, Montenegro, Bulgaria, and Mexico, making the total number of countries represented twenty-six.

The work of the Conference had been previously outlined by the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, Count Muravieff, as follows:

1. An understanding not to increase for a fixed period the present effective of the armed military and naval forces, and at the same time not to increase the budgets pertaining thereto; a preliminary examination of the means by which a reduction might even be effected in future in the forces and budgets above mentioned.

2. To prohibit the use in the armies and fleets of any new kind of firearms whatever, and of new explosives, or any powders more powerful than those now in use either for rifles or cannon.

3. To restrict the use in military warfare of the formidable explosives already existing, and to prohibit the throwing of projectiles or explosives of any kind from balloons or by any similar means.

4. To prohibit the use in naval warfare of submarine torpedo boats or plungers, or other similar engines of destruction; to give an undertaking not to construct vessels with rams in the future.

5. To apply to naval warfare the stipulations of the Geneva Convention of 1864, on the basis of the articles added to the Convention of 1868.

6. To neutralize ships and boats employed in saving those overboard during or after an engagement.

7. To revise the declaration concerning the laws and customs of war elaborated in 1864 by the Conference of Brussels, which has remained unratified to the present day.

8. To accept in principle the employment of the good offices of mediation and facultative arbitration in cases lending themselves thereto, with the object of preventing armed conflicts between nations; an understanding with respect to the mode of applying these good offices, and the establishment of a uniform practice in using them.

It is well understood that all questions concerning the political relations of States and the order of things established by treaties, as generally all questions which do not directly fall within the programme adopted by the Cabinets, must be absolutely excluded from the deliberations of the Conference.

The Conference was opened by Queen Wilhelmina, as hostess, and Baron de Staal as the representative of the Emperor of Russia and as President of the Conference made a formal statement of its business. Three committees were constituted: 1. On Armaments; 2. On Rules of War; 3. On Arbitration. These were subsequently divided into sections to which separate subjects were referred.

On following days presidents and vice-presidents of the committees were chosen. The sections met and considered their subjects and reported to the committees. These in turn accepted or rejected the results of the sections and reported to the Conference, which acted upon their conclusions.

THE RESULTS.

In reference to armaments, the opinion of the Conference was expressed in the following words: "The Conference considers that the limitation of military charges, weighing upon the world at the present time, is greatly to be desired in the interest of an increase of the material and moral welfare of humanity," and also, "The Conference is of the opinion that the governments—taking into account the propositions made in this Conference—should make a study of the possibility of an agreement concerning the limitation of armed forces on land and sea and of naval budgets."

In the revision of the Laws of War, the following results, among others, were reached: The absolute prohibition of pillage and of the destruction or confiscation of works of art; an elaborate and humane system of regulations concerning the rights, duties, and privileges of prisoners of war; the extension of the Geneva Red Cross rules to naval warfare; the adoption and extension of the laws formulated by the Brussels Conference for the conduct of land warfare.

The proposition of the American delegates that private property, not contraband of war, shall be excepted from capture on the high seas, was not adopted by the Conference. The prohibition of the use of asphyxiating shells and expanding bullets in war was voted for by all the nations except the United States and Great Britain (Portugal abstaining from voting), and, therefore, was not adopted.

THE COURT OF ARBITRATION.

The most important achievement of the Conference was based on the report of the third committee, which was accepted by the Conference after several modifications—a treaty which, when ratified by the Senate of the United States, constitutes and establishes a court for the arbitration of disputes between nations.

The Arbitration Treaty consists of sixty-one articles, divided into four titles: First, On the Maintenance of General Peace, consisting of one declaratory article; second, On Good Offices and Mediation; third, On International Commissions of Inquiry; fourth, On International Arbitration.

The following is a summary of the treaty:

Article 1.—With the object of preventing, as far as possible, recourse to force in international relations, the signatory powers agree to use all endeavors to effect by pacific means a settlement of the differences which may arise among them.

Article 2.—The signatory powers decide that in cases of serious differences or conflict they will, before appealing to arms, have recourse, so far as circumstances permit, to the good offices or mediation of one or several friendly powers.

Article 3.—Independently of this, the signatory powers deem it useful that several of the powers not committed to the arbitration scheme shall, on their own initiative, offer, as far as circumstances permit, their good offices or mediation to the contending States. The right of offering their good offices belongs to powers not connected with the conflict, even during the course of hostilities, which act can never be regarded as an unfriendly act.

Article 4.—The part of mediator consists in reconciling conflicting claims and appeasing resentment which may have arisen between contending States.

Article 5.—The functions of mediator cease from the moment it may be stated by one of the contending parties, or by the mediator himself, that the compromise or basis of an amicable understanding proposed by him has not been accepted.

Article 6.—Good offices and mediation have the exclusive character of counsel, and are devoid of obligatory force.

Article 7.—The acceptance of mediation, unless otherwise stipulated, may have the effect of interrupting the obligation of preparing for war. If the acceptance supervenes after the opening of hostilities it shall not interrupt, unless by a convention of a contrary tenor, military operations that may be proceeding.

Article 8.—The signatory powers agree in recommending the application of special mediation in the event of threatened interruption of peace between members. Contending States may each choose a power to which they will intrust the mission of entering into a negotiation with a power chosen by the other side with the object of preventing a rupture of pacific relations, or, in the event of hostilities, of restoring peace.

Articles 9 to 14 provide for the institution of an international Commission of Inquiry for the verification of facts in cases of minor disputes not affecting the vital interest or honor of States, but impossible of settlement by ordinary diplomacy. The report of an Inquiry Commission will not force an arbitral judgment, leaving the contending parties full liberty to either conclude an amicable arrangement on the basis of the report or have recourse ulteriorly to mediation or arbitration.

Articles 15 to 19 set forth the general object of and benefits it is hoped to derive from the arbitration court, and declare that signing the convention implies an undertaking to submit in good faith to arbitral judgment. The summary of the proposed treaty continues:

Article 20.—With the object of facilitating an immediate recourse to arbitration for international differences not regulated by diplomatic means the signatory powers undertake to organize in the following manner a permanent Court of Arbitration, accessible at all times and exercising its functions, unless otherwise stipulated, between the contending parties in conformity with the rules of procedure inserted in the present convention.

Article 21.—This court is to have competency in all arbitration cases, unless the contending parties come to an understanding for the establishment of special arbitration jurisdiction.

Article 22.—An international bureau established at The Hague and placed under the direction of a permanent Secretary-General will serve as the office of the court. It will be the intermediary for communications concerning meetings. The court is to have the custody of archives and the management of all administrative affairs.

Article 23.—Each of the signatory powers shall appoint within three months of the ratification of the present article not more than four persons of recognized competence in questions of international law, enjoying the highest moral consideration, and prepared to accept the functions of arbitrator. The persons thus nominated will be entered as members of the court on a list, which will be communicated by the bureau to all the signatory powers. Any modification of the list will be brought by the bureau to the knowledge of the signatory powers. Two or more powers may agree together regarding the nomination of one or more members, and the same person may be chosen by different powers. Members of the court are to be appointed for the term of six years. The appointments are renewable. In case of the death or resignation of a member of the court, the vacancy is to be filled in accordance with the regulations made for the original nomination.

Article 24.—The signatory powers who desire to apply to the court for a settlement of differences shall select from the general list a number of arbitrators, to be fixed by agreement. They will notify the bureau of their intention of applying to the court, and give the names of the arbitrators they may have selected. In the absence of a convention to the contrary an arbitral tribunal is to be constituted in accordance with the rules of Article 1. Arbitrators thus nominated to form an arbitral tribunal for a matter or question will meet on the date fixed by the contending parties.

Article 25.—The tribunal will usually sit at The Hague, but may sit elsewhere by consent of the contending parties.

Article 26.—The powers not signing the convention may apply to the court under the conditions prescribed by the present convention.

Article 27.—The signatory powers may consider it their duty to call attention to the existence of the permanent court to any of their friends between whom a conflict is threatening, which must always be regarded as a tender of good offices.

The United States delegates attached to their acceptance of Article 27 the following declaration: "Nothing contained in this convention shall be so construed as to require the United States of America to depart from its traditional policy of not intruding upon, interfering with, or entangling itself in the political questions or internal administration of any foreign State; nor shall anything contained in said convention be so construed as to require the relinquishment by the United States of America of its traditional attitude toward purely American questions."

Article 28.—A permanent council, composed of the diplomatic representatives of the signatory powers residing at The Hague and the Netherlands Foreign Minister, who will exercise the functions of President, will be constituted at The Hague as soon as possible after the ratification of the present act. The council will be charged to establish and organize an international bureau, which will remain under its direction and control. The council will notify the powers of the constitution of the court and arrange its installation, draw up the standing orders and other necessary regulations, will decide questions likely to arise in regard to the working of the tribunal, have absolute powers concerning the appointment, suspension, or dismissal of functionaries or employees, will fix the emoluments and salaries, and control the general expenditure. The presence of five members at duly convened meetings will constitute a quorum. Decisions are to be taken by a majority of the votes. The council will address annually to the signatory powers a report of the labors of the court, the working of its administrative services, and of its expenditure.

Article 29.—The expenses of the bureau are to be borne by the signatory powers in the proportion fixed for the International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union.

Article 30.—The powers who accept arbitration will sign a special act, clearly defining the object of the dispute, as well as the scope of the arbitrators. The powers' act confirms the undertaking of the parties to submit in good faith to the arbitration judgment.

Article 31.—Arbitration functions may be conferred upon a single arbitrator, or on several arbitrators designated by the parties at their discretion, or chosen from among the members of the permanent court established by the present act. Unless otherwise decided, the formation of the arbitration tribunal is to be effected as follows: Each party will appoint two arbitrators, who will choose a chief arbitrator. In case of a division, the selection is to be intrusted to a third power, whom the parties will designate. If an agreement is not effected in this manner, each party is to designate a different power, and the choice of a chief arbitrator is to devolve upon them.

Article 32.—When an arbitrator is a sovereign, or head of a State, the arbitral procedure depends exclusively on his august decision.

Article 33.—The chief arbitrator is President de jure. When the tribunal does not contain a chief of arbitration, the tribunal may appoint its own President. He may be designated by the contending parties, or, failing this, by the arbitration tribunal.

Articles 34 to 50 provide for the appointment of Councilors, the selection of the languages to be employed, and the rules of procedure in the court, whose sittings are to be behind closed doors.

Article 51 provides that a judgment agreed to by a majority vote is to be set forth in writing, giving the full reasons, and is to be signed by each member, the minority recording its dissent and signing it. Articles 52 and 53 direct that the decision of the court shall be read at a public sitting in the presence of the agents or counsel of the contending parties, who shall finally decide the matter at issue and close the arbitration proceedings.

The concluding clauses relate to the revision of proceedings in the case of the discovery of a new fact, and provide that each power shall bear its own expenses and agreed share of the cost of the tribunal without reliance to the penalties imposed.

The Senate of the United States will have to act on the Arbitration Treaty before its acceptance is conclusive as to this country.

TEXT OF THE AGREEMENT FOR THE TEMPORARY SETTLEMENT OF THE ALASKA BOUNDARY LINE.

THE following is the text of the modus vivendi negotiated between the State Department of the United States and the British Foreign Office, the Anglo-American Joint High Commission to adjust all outstanding questions between the United States and the Dominion of Canada having been unable to reach a conclusion at the time of the adoption of this agreement, October 20, 1899:

It is hereby agreed between the Governments of the United States and of Great Britain that the boundary line between Canada and the Territory of Alaska, in the region about the head of Lynn Canal, shall be provisionally fixed without prejudice to the claims of either party in the permanent adjustment of the international boundary, as follows:

In the region of the Dalton Trail, a line beginning at the peak west of Porcupine Creek, marked on the Map No. 10 of the United States Commission, December 31, 1895, and on Sheet No. 18 of the British Commission, December 31, 1895, with the number 6,500; thence running to the Klehini (or Klahaela) River, in the direction of the peak north of the river, marked No. 5,020 on the aforesaid United States map and No. 5,025 on the aforesaid British map; thence following the high or right bank of the said Klehini River to the junction thereof with the Chilkat River, a mile and a half, more or less, north of Klukwan, provided that persons proceeding to or from Porcupine Creek shall be freely permitted to follow the trail between the said creek and the said junction of the rivers into and across the territory on the Canadian side of the temporary line wherever the trail crosses to such side, and subject to such reasonable regulations for the protection of the revenue as the Canadian Government may prescribe, to carry with them over such part or parts of the trail between the said points as may lie on the Canadian side of the temporary line such goods and articles as they desire, without being required to pay any customs duties on such goods and articles, and from said junction to the summit of the peak east of the Chilkat River, marked on the aforesaid Map No. 10 of the United States Commission with the number 5,410, and on the Map No. 17 of the aforesaid British Commission with the number 5,490.

On the Drea and Skaguay trails, the summits of the Chilkoot and White passes.

It is understood, as formerly set forth in communications of the Department of State of the United States, that the citizens or subjects of either power found by this arrangement within the temporary jurisdiction of the other shall suffer no diminution of the rights and privileges which they now enjoy.

The Government of the United States will at once appoint an officer or officers, in conjunction with the officer or officers to be named by the Government of Her Britannic Majesty, to mark the temporary line agreed upon by the erection of posts, stakes, or other appropriate temporary marks.

THE JOINT HIGH COMMISSION.

THE following are the members of the United States and British Joint High Commission for the settlement of the outstanding questions between this country and Canada. Since the adoption of the modus vivendi by the direct action of the Governments of the United States and Great Britain the Commission has held no further sessions, but its duties continue:

On the Part of Great Britain and Canada.—Baron Russell of Killowen, Lord Chief Justice of England, Chairman; Sir Wilfred Laurier, Premier of Canada; Sir Richard J. Cartwright, Minister of Trade and Commerce; Sir Louis G. Davies, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; John Charlton, M. P., and Sir James S. Winter, Premier of Newfoundland.

On the Part of the United States.—United States Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, Chairman; United States Senator Charles J. Faulkner, of West Virginia; Representative Sereno D. Payne, of New York; John W. Foster, former Secretary of State and ex-Minister to Spain, Russia, and Mexico; John A. Kasson, of Iowa, former Minister to Germany and Austria, and T. Jefferson Coolidge, of Massachusetts, former Minister to France.

Baron Russell succeeded Lord Herschell, an original member, who died in March, 1899. Senator Fairbanks succeeded Senator Gray, of Delaware, who resigned September, 1898, and Mr. Payne succeeded Mr. Dingley, of Maine, who died January, 1899.

* Not given in 1890. † Reports discontinued after 1885. ‡ Includes Central and South America for 1889.

As the reports for British North American Provinces and for Mexico have been discontinued since 1885 by the Treasury Department, the figures here represented only cover five years of the decade. An estimate based upon the immigration of the years from 1881 to 1885, inclusive, would give 785,604 to British North America for the decade from 1881 to 1890, and 3,826 to Mexico, making the aggregate for America 817,563, instead of 422,848.

Mullhall estimates the number of individuals who emigrated from Europe in 73 years, 1816 to 1888, at 27,205,000. Of these, 15,000,000 went to the United States. From 1890 to 1896 he gives 5,995,000 emigrants, of which 2,924,000 went to the United States.

The United States Census of 1900.

The following was specially prepared for THE WORLD ALMANAC for 1900 by the Census Office: The next census, to be taken in July, 1900, will be the Twelfth Census of the United States since the adoption of the Constitution. The act providing for taking the Twelfth Census was passed during the closing days of the Fifty-fifth Congress, and became a law March 3, 1899.

The first and second censuses, taken in 1790 and 1800 respectively, were simply an enumeration of the population for the purpose of determining the basis of representation in Congress. Since 1810 the census has been extended in scope in compliance with the demands of the public for statistics concerning various subjects, until in 1890 it covered fifteen or sixteen general topics.

The act providing for the taking of the Twelfth Census makes considerable change in the methods heretofore pursued. In the first place, it will be well to call attention to the fact that the act of March 3, 1899, recognizes and makes a proper division of the work into administrative and statistical branches. The act provides for a general staff to take charge of the work, namely, a Director, an Assistant Director, five Chief Statisticians, a Chief Clerk, a Disbursing Clerk, and Geographer. The act does not require that the Director of the Census shall be a statistician, but provides that the Assistant Director shall be an experienced, practical statistician, and it is contemplated by the act that he shall practically supervise the gathering of the statistics and their proper publication under the superintendence of the Director.

THE DIRECTOR OF THE CENSUS AND HIS OFFICIAL STAFF.

The following general officers have been appointed to superintend the taking of the census: Hon. William R. Merriam, of St. Paul, Minn., Director; Dr. F. H. Wines, of Illinois, Assistant Director; Mr. W. C. Hunt, of the District of Columbia, Chief Statistician in charge of the Population Division; Mr. L. G. Powell, of Minnesota, Chief Statistician in charge of the Agricultural Division; Mr. S. N. D. North, of Massachusetts, Chief Statistician in charge of Manufactures; Mr. W. A. King, of the District of Columbia, Chief Statistician in charge of Vital Statistics; Prof. W. A. Wilcox, of Cornell University, Chief Statistician in charge of Methods and Results; Mr. Edward McCauley, District of Columbia, Disbursing Clerk; Mr. A. F. Childs, District of Columbia, Chief Clerk, and Mr. Henry Gannett, District of Columbia, Geographer.

The Chief Statisticians will have immediate charge of the work in connection with the collection and publication of the statistics concerning the subjects assigned to them. The Geographer's most important duty is to divide the country into enumerators' districts.

THE SCOPE OF THE CENSUS.

The subjects to be covered by the Twelfth Census are not as numerous as those undertaken by the Eleventh Census. The census proper will be limited to four general subjects, namely, population, agriculture, mortality, and manufactures, being those in which the information to be obtained must be secured either wholly or for the greater part by house-to-house canvasses of the enumerators. The act provides that the reports of these subjects shall be designated as and constitute the "Census Reports," and requires that such reports shall be published not later than the 1st of July, 1902. A number of subjects of investigation in the Tenth and Eleventh Censuses are omitted, but only those upon which statistics are collected and published by other branches of the Government, such as railroad transportation, information in regard to fisheries, water power, etc.

After the work on the four general subjects above referred to is completed the Director of the Census is authorized to collect statistics relating to special classes, including the insane, feeble-minded, deaf, dumb, and blind; to crime, pauperism, and benevolence, including prisoners, paupers, juvenile delinquents, and inmates of benevolent and reformatory institutions; to deaths and births in registration areas; to social statistics of cities; to public indebtedness, valuation, taxation, and expenditures; to religious bodies; to electric light and power, telephone, and telegraph business; to transportation by water, express business, and street railways; to mines, mining, and minerals. The reports relating to mines, mining, and minerals must be published on or before July 1, 1903. The reports on these subjects shall be designated as "Special Reports of the Census Office."

On all subjects of inquiry the subjects will be simplified as much as possible, and much matter which has heretofore been included, but which never reached any practical statistical results, will be dropped, and the work concentrated upon lines which will produce statistics of recognized value.

THE LOCAL SUPERVISORS.

The enumeration will be superintended by three hundred local supervisors, two of whom have been appointed for the district of Alaska and one for the Hawaiian Islands. The Census act does not contemplate a census of the Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, nor Cuba. The census which is now being taken in Cuba and Porto Rico is being done under the direction of the War Department, as the islands are being governed by the military arm of the Government. Each supervisor will have charge of a certain territory or district, consisting of a number of counties, or, in some cases, one county only, and in others a whole State.

The Geographer of the Census Office, as before suggested, has charge of the division of the supervisors' districts into enumerators' districts, and at the present writing has completed the division of the 300 supervisors' districts. The law provides that each Supervisor of Census shall be charged with the performance, within his own district, of the following duties: To consult with the Director of the Census in regard to the division of his district into sub-divisions most convenient for the purpose of enumeration; to designate to the Director suitable persons and, with the consent of the Director, to employ such persons as enumerators within his district; to communicate to enumerators the necessary instructions and directions relating to their duties; to examine and scrutinize the returns of the enumerators, and in event of discrepancies or deficiencies appearing in the returns for his district, to use all diligence in causing the same to be corrected and supplied; to forward to the Director of the Census the completed returns for his district in such time and manner as shall be prescribed by the Director, and to make up and forward to the Census Office the accounts required for ascertaining the amount of compensation due to each enumerator in his district. The compensation of the supervisors will be not less than the sum of $1,000, which sum is to be in full compensation for all services rendered and expenses incurred by them. There are only three or four supervisors in the country who will make more than $1,000.

THE ENUMERATORS.

The sub-divisions assigned to the enumerators will generally agree with the minor civil divisions of the country, such as townships, villages, election districts, wards, precincts, etc., as they are variously designated in different States; and while the supervisors prepare the original scheme for the creation of enumeration districts, the office must, in the mean time, ascertain the correct description of every one of the minor civil divisions referred to in the whole country, and be prepared to correct, if necessary, the work of the supervisors in this direction. This part of the work forms practically the basis of the whole enumeration.

The enumerator will be charged with the collection in his sub-division of the facts and statistics required by the population schedule and such other schedules as the Director of the Census may determine shall be used by him in connection with the taking of the census. The enumerators, as is well known, make a house-to-house canvass to obtain the information desired by the Census Bureau. In the largest cities of the country the collection of statistics concerning manufacturing establishments will be withdrawn from the enumerators and placed in charge of special agents. It is desired by the Census Office that these special agents shall be men who are familiar with the particular subject or subjects assigned to them, and as far as possible have a technical knowledge of the same.

The industries of the country have been grouped into sixteen classes, such as, first, food and kindred products; second, textiles; third, iron and steel and their products; fourth, lumber and its manufactures; fifth, leather and its finished products, etc. An expert special agent, who has a thorough knowledge of the subject, will be placed in charge of one of these groups, and he will have general supervision of the work in connection with his sub-division, under the direction of the Chief Statistician in charge of manufactures.

COMPENSATION OF THE ENUMERATORS.

The compensation of the enumerators will be ascertained and fixed by the Director of the Census, in the following manner: In sub-divisions where he shall deem such allowance sufficient, an allowance of not less than two nor more than three cents for each living inhabitant and for each death reported; not less than 15 nor more than 20 cents for each farm; and not less than 20 nor more than 30 cents for each establishment of productive industry enumerated and returned may be given in full compensation for all services. For all other sub-divisions per diem rates shall be fixed by the Director of the Census, according to the difficulty of enumeration, having reference to the nature of the region to be canvassed and the density or sparseness of settlement, or other considerations pertinent thereto; but the compensation allowed to any enumerator in any such district shall not be less than $3 nor more than $6 per day of ten hours' actual field work each. The sub-divisions to which the several rates of compensation shall apply shall be designated by the Director of the Census at least two weeks in advance of the enumeration. No claim for mileage or travelling expenses shall be allowed any enumerator in either class of sub-divisions, except in extreme cases, and then only when authority has been previously granted by the Director of the Census, and the decision of the Director as to the amount due any enumerator shall be final. The special agent will receive a compensation of $4 to $6 per day and actual necessary travelling expenses, and an allowance in lieu of subsistence not exceeding $3 per day during his necessary absence from his usual place of residence.

HOW THE CENSUS WILL BE CANVASSED.

The returns from the supervisors will commence to come in by the middle of July, 1900, and as the canvass approaches completion, will be received by the carload. As the schedules are received, they must be sorted, arranged, counted, and stored ready for tabulation by the different divisions; the delinquent enumerators and missing schedules must be hunted up and looked after; the accounts of the supervisors and enumerators closed and paid, and the odds and ends of the work finished.

The information on the enumerators' sheets will be transferred in the Census Office to cards, about three by six inches in size. This is done for the purpose of tabulating the information in the electrical counting or tabulating machines. Briefly, the plan is first to prepare a card for each person enumerated, showing all the characteristics of such person. The cards used for this purpose are about three by six inches and are printed with letters and symbols arranged so that by punching holes in the proper spaces a description is obtained of the race, sex, color, age, conjugal condition, birthplace of person, of father, mother, years in the United States, occupation, school attendance, etc. These cards, though only seven-thousandths of an inch in thickness, would form a stack, if piled one on the other, about nine miles high and will weigh about two hundred tons.

This transcript of the original returns of the enumerators to the punched cards will be done with small machines something like a typewriter, called "keyboard-punches." About one thousand of these keyboard punches will be used and the entire work of transcribing the seventy-five millions or more individual records will be done in about one hundred working days, or nearly four months. These punched record cards are then counted or tabulated in the electrical tabulating machines. These machines are provided with a circuit-closing device into which the cards are rapidly fed one by one. The holes in the cards control the electric circuits through a number of counters which will as desired count the simple facts as to the number of males, of females, etc., or the most complicated combination which the statistician may ask for. After the cards for a given district are thus passed through the tabulating machines we know the number of native-born white males of voting age; we know the number of white children under five years of age born in this country with both parents native-born, or the number of such children with one or both parents foreign-born. In short, it is simply a question for the statisticians to decide the information wanted and the electrician to make the proper connection from the counters and relays to the circuit-controlling device into which the cards are fed. The methods employed for checking the proper working of the machines are ingenious and interesting. If the card is not completely punched, or if some item has been overlooked, or if it is not properly fed to the machine, or is placed upside down, or, in fact, if everything is not all right, the machine refuses to work and the card is rejected; neither will the machine work if the circuit-controlling device is operated without a card in place. It is hoped by the means suggested to count the seventy-three or four million of people and give the results to the country by the last days of the year 1900. There will be about 1,850 clerks employed in handling the cards and in using the tabulating machines, preparing the work to go to the printing office.

A CENSUS OFFICE BUILDING.

A contract has been entered into between the Director of the Census and a citizen of the District of Columbia, for the construction of a building in which the Census Office will be located. In the last census the office force was scattered among nine or ten buildings, which, of course, precluded a proper and efficient handling of the office force. It was deemed proper to obtain a building which would contain the entire force, as the law requires that the census work proper shall be finished in two years, and this necessitates the hardest and most efficient kind of work. It is expected that the building will be completed about January 1, 1900, and soon after the first of the year the headquarters of the Census Office will be moved into the new building.

The absolute necessity of having no delay with the printing and binding of the Census Report makes it requisite that the Census Bureau should have its own printing office. Provision has, therefore, been made in the new building for a printing department.

The task of counting and tabulating the census returns will require an enormous office force. It is expected that nearly 2,800 people will be employed in the Census Bureau for some time after July, 1900. The Census act provides that all persons employed in the bureau, above the grade of skilled laborers, shall be appointed subject to an examination. A series of examinations is being conducted in various cities of the country for the purpose of obtaining a competent clerical force, and it is sincerely hoped that the results obtained will be such as to justify the large expenditure which will be made in taking the enumeration and publishing the returns.

United States Executive Civil Service.

(Revised for this issue of THE WORLD ALMANAC by the Secretary of the Civil Service Commission.)

THE purpose of the Civil Service act, as declared in its title, is "to regulate and improve the Civil Service of the United States." It provides for the appointment of three Commissioners, a chief Examiner, a Secretary, and other employes, and makes it the duty of the Commissioners to aid the President as he may request in preparing suitable rules for carrying the act into effect; to make regulations to govern all examinations held under the provisions of the act, and to make investigations and report upon all matters touching the enforcement and effect of the rules and regulations. The address of the Commission is Washington, D. C.

EXTENT OF THE SERVICE.

The number of positions in the Executive Civil Service of the United States on June 30, 1896, was 178,884, of which 79,983 were classified competitive positions, and 98,896 were unclassified or excepted. By the President's order of May 29, 1899, all deputy collectors of internal revenue were excepted from competitive examination, and all office and field deputies in offices of United States marshals were excluded from classification. These and other exceptions and exclusions under the order above mentioned, together with the growth of the service, from natural causes and the exigencies of the Spanish-American war, will alter these figures somewhat; but complete data of a later date is not available.

DIVISIONS OF THE SERVICE.

The rules require that all that part of the Executive Civil Service of the United States which has been or may hereafter be classified under the Civil Service act shall be arranged in branches as follows: The Departmental Service, the Customs Service, the Postal Service, the Government Printing Service, and the Internal Revenue Service.

The Departmental Service includes all officers and employes who on the one hand are not appointed subject to the consent of the Senate, and on the other hand are above the grade of laborer, and who are serving in or on detail from the Departments, Commissions, and Offices in the District of Columbia, the Railway Mail Service, the Indian Service, the Pension Agencies, the Steamboat Inspection Service, the Marine Hospital Service, the Light-House Service, the Life-Saving Service, the Revenue Cutter Service, the Mints and Assay offices, the Sub-Treasuries, the Engineer Department at large, the Ordnance Department at large, the Land Office Service, and the force employed under Custodians of Public Buildings, and in the U. S. Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan. In addition to these are included all other employes (except laborers and persons whose appointments are subject to the consent of the Senate) whose duties are clerical or medical, or who serve as watchmen, messengers, draughtsmen, engineers, firemen, computers, or as superintendents of construction, superintendents of repairs, or foremen under the Supervising Architect of the Treasury, or who are in any branch of the Treasury Department not enumerated above. The Customs Service includes all officers and employes between the extremes before mentioned who are serving in any customs district. The Postal Service includes all similar offices and employes at free-delivery post-offices. The Government Printing Service and the Internal Revenue Service cover all like positions in the branches indicated by their designations.

APPLICATIONS.

Persons seeking to be examined must file an application blank. The blank for the Departmental Service at Washington, Railway Mail Service, the Indian School Service, and the Government Printing Service should be requested directly of the Civil Service Commission at Washington. The blank for the Customs, Postal, or Internal Revenue Service must be requested in writing of the Civil Service Board of Examiners at the office where service is sought. These papers should be returned to the officers from whom they emanate.

Applicants for examination must be citizens of the United States, and of the proper age. No person using intoxicating liquors to excess may be appointed. No discrimination is made on account of sex, color, or political or religious opinions. The limitations of age vary with the different services, but do not apply to any person honorably discharged from the military or naval service of the United States by reason of disability resulting from wounds or sickness incurred in the line of duty.

EXAMINATIONS.

The applicants to enter the services designated are examined as to their relative capacity and fitness. For ordinary clerical places in the Departmental, Customs, and Internal Revenue Services the examination is confined to orthography, penmanship, copying, letter-writing, and simple arithmetic. Patent examiners are examined in physics and technics, mathematics, chemistry, and mechanical drawing. Meat inspectors are examined in letter-writing, veterinary anatomy and physiology, veterinary pathology, and meat inspection. One of the tests for post-office and railway mail clerks is an exercise in reading manuscript addresses. Specimen sets of questions will be furnished by the Commission upon request. Examinations are held twice a year in every State and Territory at fixed times and places. All examinations relate as nearly as possible to the duties to be performed, and, wherever practicable, include experience and practical tests. No applicant is admitted to an examination in any one of the different recognized trades, such as those in the Government Printing Office, unless he has had five years' experience in his trade, one year of which must have been as a journeyman. This information is obtained by personal questions relating to the applicant's experience at his trade and the certificates of persons who have employed him. No one is certified for appointment whose standing in any examination is less than 70 per centum of complete proficiency, except applicants whose claims for military or naval preference under Section 1754 R. S. have been admitted. These need obtain but 65. The law also prescribes competitive examinations for promotion in the service. A certificate is given to each person examined, stating whether he passed or failed to pass. For positions in the classified service where technical qualifications are needed special examinations are held. In the Departmental Service they are held for the State Department, the Pension, Patent, and Weather Bureaus, Geological and Coast Surveys, Engineer Department at large, Ordnance Department at large, etc. For places which do not require technical qualifications the number of applicants is usually excessive, and only those who are in high grades have a good chance for appointment. There is always a good demand for male stenographers.

UNITED STATES EXECUTIVE CIVIL SERVICE—Continued.

EXCEPTED PLACES.

Among the places excepted from examination or subject only to non-competitive examination are the following: Two private secretaries or confidential clerks to the President and each of the heads of departments; one for each head of bureau appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, if authorized by law; all persons appointed solely by the President; attorneys, assistant attorneys, and special assistant attorneys. The excepted positions throughout the departments were increased in number by the President's order of May 29, 1899, but are too diverse to summarize and too numerous to mention here specifically.

APPOINTMENTS.

Upon the occurrence of a vacancy, the appointment to fill it, if not made by promotion, reduction, transfer, or reinstatement (for all of which provision is made by the Civil Service rules), must be made by selection from the eligibles of highest grade on the appropriate register. In the Executive Departments at Washington and in the Government Printing Office appointments are apportioned among the States and Territories on the basis of population. Every appointment is made for a probationary period of six months. Whenever there are no names of eligibles upon a register for any position in which a vacancy exists, and the public interest requires that it be filled before eligibles can be provided by the Commission, such vacancy may, subject to the approval of the Commission, be filled by appointment without examination and certification until an eligible can be provided by the Commission. The number of women applying for clerical places is greatly in excess of the calls of appointing officers. The positions to which the largest numbers of them are appointed are those of assistant microscopist in the branch offices of the Bureau of Animal Industry at the various stockyards throughout the country, and teachers, matrons, seamstresses, etc., in the Indian Service. A few receive appointments as stenographers and typewriters in the Departmental Service, and a few are appointed to technical and professional places.

PREFERENCE CLAIMANTS.

Persons who served in the military or naval service of the United States, and were discharged by reason of disabilities resulting from wounds or sickness incurred in the line of duty, are, under the Civil Service rules, given certain preferences. They are released from all maximum age limitations, are eligible for appointment at a grade of 65, while all others are obliged to obtain a grade of 70, and are certified to appointing officers before all others. Subject to the other conditions of the rules, a veteran of the rebellion or of the war with Spain, or the widow of any such person, or any army nurse of either war, may be reinstated without regard to the length of time he or she has been separated from the service.

PROVISIONS CONCERNING POLITICAL DISCRIMINATION, ASSESSMENTS, ETC.

The Civil Service rules provide that no person in the Executive Civil Service shall dismiss, or cause to be dismissed, or make any attempt to procure the dismissal of or in any manner change the official rank or compensation of any other person therein, because of his political or religious opinions or affiliations; that no removal shall be made from any position subject to competitive examination except for just cause and upon written charges filed with the head of the department or other appointing officer, and of which the accused shall have full notice and an opportunity to make defence; and that no person in the Executive Civil Service shall use his official authority or official influence for the purpose of interfering with an election or controlling the result thereof. Such rules also provide that any person in the Executive Civil Service who shall wilfully violate any provision of the Civil Service act or rules shall be dismissed from office.

The Civil Service act contains provisions forbidding any person in the service of the United States from levying upon or collecting from persons in the Executive Civil Service contributions to be devoted to political objects, the collection of such contributions by any person in any public building of the United States, or discrimination against persons who do not make such contributions or render political service. A violation of any of the provisions concerning political assessments, or their collection in a public building of the United States, is declared to be a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years, or by such fine and imprisonment both in the discretion of the court. The act also declares that when rules to carry its provisions into effect shall have been promulgated, "it shall be the duty of all officers of the United States in the departments and offices to which any such rules may relate, to aid, in all proper ways, in carrying said rules, and any modifications thereof, into effect."

POLITICAL ACTIVITY OF OFFICIALS.

An executive order of July 14, 1896, which is still in force, warns office-holders that, while individual interest and activity in political affairs are by no means condemned, they must bear in mind that their time and labor are due to the Government, and that they should scrupulously avoid, in their political action as well as in the discharge of their official duty, offending, by obtrusive partisanship, their neighbors who have relations with them as public officials.

THE UNCLASSIFIED EXECUTIVE CIVIL SERVICE.

The portion of the Executive Civil Service which is not classified embraces the following: All officers nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate, including members of the Cabinet, assistant secretaries, certain chiefs of bureaus, etc., in the Executive Departments at Washington, collectors, naval officers, surveyors, and appraisers in the Customs Service, collectors in the Internal Revenue Service, and first, second, and third class postmasters. Other unclassified positions are fourth class postmasters, the employés of the District of Columbia, the employés of the Library of Congress, clerks in post-offices not having free delivery, mere laborers and workmen, certain positions having a compensation of less than $300 a year, and the Consular Service. Examinations for positions in the service last named are non-competitive, and conducted by a board of the Department of State.

A considerable number of positions were excluded from classification by the President's order of May 29, 1899, principally in the Departments of the Interior, War, and Navy outside of Washington.

Acts of the Fifty-fifth Congress.

THIRD (SECOND REGULAR) SESSION.

THE principal bills of a public nature which became laws during the third session (the preceding session having been a special session, beginning March 15, 1897, and the first regular session beginning December 6, 1897) of the Fifty-fifth Congress were as follows:

An act providing for a National Exposition of American products and manufactures at the city of Philadelphia, for the encouragement of the export trade. December 21, 1898.

An act granting extra pay to officers and enlisted men of United States Volunteers. January 12, 1899.

An act providing for additional Circuit Judges in the Fifth and Sixth Judicial Circuits. January 25, 1899.

An act to establish a national military park to commemorate the campaign, siege, and defence of Vicksburg. February 21, 1899.

An act providing an additional Circuit Judge in the Third Judicial Circuit. February 23, 1899.

An act to provide for an appropriate national celebration of the establishment of the seat of government in the District of Columbia. February 28, 1899. The President was authorized to appoint a committee of citizens from the country at large to act with a committee appointed by Congress to prepare plans for the celebration, and $10,000 was appropriated for the purpose. [See page 153.]

An act to supplement and amend an act, entitled, "An act for the erection of a new Custom-House in the City of New York, and for other purposes," approved March 3, 1891. March 2, 1899. Authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to acquire the Bowling Green site and to prepare plans for a new Custom-House at a cost not to exceed $3,000,000. The present Custom-House property on Wall Street to be sold for not less than $3,000,000.

An act for the investigation of leprosy. March 2, 1899.

An act for increasing the efficiency of the Army of the United States, and for other purposes. March 2, 1899. [The Provisional Army act.]

An act making an appropriation to carry out the obligations of the treaty between the United States and Spain, concluded December 10, 1898. March 2, 1899.

An act to set aside a portion of certain lands in the State of Washington, now known as the Pacific Forest Reserve as a public park, to be known as the Mount Rainier National Park. March 2, 1899.

An act creating the office of Admiral of the Navy. March 2, 1899. The President was authorized to appoint an Admiral of the Navy, who shall not be placed on the retired list except upon his own application, and when the Admiral dies the office ceases to exist.

An act to reorganize and increase the efficiency of the personnel of the Navy and Marine Corps of the United States. March 3, 1899. (The Navy Personnel act.)

An act for the protection of birds, preservation of game, and for the prevention of its sale during certain closed seasons in the District of Columbia. March 3, 1899.

An act to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors on Sunday in the District of Columbia. March 3, 1899.

An act to provide for taking the twelfth and subsequent censuses. March 3, 1899.

State Legislation in 1899.

The following summary of the more important legislation effected by State Legislatures in 1899 is compiled from the address of the Hon. Charles F. Manderson, of Nebraska, presiding officer, before the American Bar Association in August, 1899:

- Alabama.—Primary elections are guarded and frauds thereat punished. Game laws of stringent character have been enacted and song birds are protected. A full system of quarantine is established. When receiver of corporations is appointed, labor wages shall be preferred claims. A dispensary law for the sale of liquor has been passed. Detaching or uncoupling trains, pulling bell cords or emergency valves, obstructing tracks, interfering with switches or signals without authority, stealing a ride, or discharging firearms from trains, are all made misdemeanors. A license tax on nearly all occupations has been provided for. Cotton and other agricultural products and pig iron are exempt from taxation in the hands of the producers or purchasers for prompt shipment.
- Arizona.—Age of consent has been raised from fourteen to seventeen years. Eminent domain may be exercised by pipe-line companies. Exemption to heads of families reduced from $1,000 to $500 personal property, and homesteads from $4,000 to $2,500. It is made a misdemeanor to deface or show disrespect to the National flag. Property acquired by either husband or wife during marriage is declared common property, and can only be alienated by both joining in the deed. Compulsory education in schools is required. Railroads commenced within one year and constructed at the rate of twenty-five miles each year are exempt from taxation for ten years, and when canals and reservoirs for distribution of water for mining, manufacturing, and agricultural purposes shall be commenced within one year they shall be exempt for fifteen years.
- Arkansas.—The people in 1900 vote upon an amendment authorizing surety companies to be taken on official bonds. Physicians and trained nurses cannot be compelled to testify as to information from a patient. Cigarettes must not be sold or given to any person under twenty-one years of age, nor tobacco to a minor under fifteen. Mills and factories must pay employes in currency, and for advance payments must not discount more than 10 per cent per annum. Coal must be weighed before screening as the basis for miners' pay. A railroad commission is established with power to fix rates and maintain control and supervision over railroads. Physiology and hygiene must be taught in schools with special reference to the effect of alcohol upon the human system. Marriage following seduction does not terminate prosecution, which shall be renewed if party abandons wife, who may be a witness against her husband. An anti-trust law was passed.
- California.—Constitutional amendments are to be submitted reducing the Supreme Court from seven to five Judges, providing three Courts of Appeal and defining the jurisdiction of said courts; giving the Legislature power to control primary elections; exempting Stanford University and Lick School, church property, and State, county, and district bonds from taxation. Much legislation was had in regard to the charters of municipalities. Prominent among them are the following, regarding San Francisco: The legislative power is lodged in eighteen supervisors elected at large. The Mayor presides and has the power of veto, but such veto may be overridden by fourteen votes. If 15 per cent of the voters petition for a particular ordinance to be voted upon, it must be submitted, and if a majority of votes favor it it becomes a law at once. Every ordinance granting a franchise or for lease or sale of any public utility must be submitted to a vote. The city charter is amendable by vote of the people. No street railroad franchises shall be granted for more than twenty-five years and must be advertised and bid for. No bid shall be received for less than 3 per cent of the gross receipts for the first five years. The city retains the right to regulate fares. It is declared to be the purpose of the city to acquire and ultimately own all its public utilities and the charter points out the steps to be taken to acquire such ownership. It is unlawful to publish, without consent of party, the portrait of any living person except those holding office or convicted of crime. A fine is imposed for publishing an article blackening the memory of the dead, or impeaching the honesty, integrity, virtue, or reputation of the living, or calling attention to their natural or alleged defects, unless the name of the author is attached to the matter printed.
- Colorado.—Constitutional amendment will be voted upon in 1900, changing the method of adopting amendments to the Constitution. For irrigating and domestic purposes a large amount has been appropriated to sink artesian wells. The State is to build a State bicycle path between points named in the act. Bicycles and sewing machines are made exempt from seizure for debt. A State Game and Fish Commission is to be appointed with extraordinary powers. Three-fourths of the jury may render verdicts in all civil causes. A State Board of Library Commissioners is created. Cities may levy a tax for public libraries. Compulsory education is required.
- Connecticut.—Constitutional amendments were proposed providing that a plurality of votes shall elect State officers and fixing the minimum and maximum number of State Senators. Divorces petitioned for to the General Assembly must receive attention from the Attorney-General. In divorce proceedings the court may direct notice to non-resident defendants. Adulteration of food is punished. No bakery shall be in a cellar and all shall be inspected. No child under fourteen years of age shall be employed during school hours. No employe shall be coerced not to join a labor organization. The Inspector of Factories is to examine all factories and workshops and see that they are well ventilated, that the machinery is well guarded and sanitary condition perfect. A Highway Commission is created to supervise and control all State roads. Wide tires shall be used on heavy vehicles. Compulsory attendance is required in schools.
- Delaware.—A State Board of Agriculture and Horticulture is created. Orchards and nursery stock are to be inspected, and penalties inflicted for selling stock subject to insects, pests, or disease.

An elaborate law has been enacted authorizing in very liberal fashion the incorporation of any organization or combination except for banking purposes.

The State Board of Health is authorized to establish a Pathological and Bacteriological Laboratory to prevent the spread of infectious diseases. Candy shall not be adulterated. The State Medical Council may revoke physicians' licenses for persistent inebriety, conviction of crime, practising criminal abortion, or publicly advertising special ability to treat or cure chronic incurable diseases.

Florida.—A State Bureau of Vital Statistics is created. The State Board of Health is continued, and is to examine all lodging-houses containing ten rooms or more and regulate their sanitary condition.

A fire insurance "valued policy" law has been passed.

A State Board of Eclectic Medical Examiners is to be appointed by the Governor to examine graduates of the eclectic schools only.

The Railroad Commission is given enlarged powers and can fix rates. Common carriers must give ticket-agent certificate of authority to sell tickets, and all other persons are forbidden to sell the same. Firing guns from trains is forbidden, and it is made a misdemeanor to "beat one's way" on a railroad.

Georgia.—A most interesting piece of legislation, action under which will be watched with much interest, is that creating a Commission of the Governor, State Treasurer, and Comptroller-General, which is to create and issue State bank notes, to be furnished to State banks to the extent of not exceeding 75 per cent of their paid-up capital. These notes are to be a first lien upon the bank's assets, and stockholders are liable for their redemption to an amount equal to the capital stock owned. A reserve fund of 25 per cent of its outstanding notes shall be kept on hand in legal tender notes or specie. If the United States Government shall attempt to collect the tax of 10 per cent upon State bank notes, provided by the Federal law, the Attorney-General is required to test the constitutionality of the Federal statute.

Idaho.—Constitutional amendment is to be voted upon authorizing the investment of the permanent school fund in real estate mortgages, as well as in Government, State, and municipal bonds.

A State Engineer is to be appointed to inspect dams and dykes, and a Game Warden with stringent protective provisions.

A State Board of Examiners is created to examine and license physicians and surgeons; also a State Board of Examiners for dentists.

A State Board of Horticultural Inspection is ordered, with power of inspection of all fruit orchards and nurseries, the destruction of stock diseased, and the establishment of quarantine regulations.

A Bureau of Immigration, Labor, and Statistics is established.

In civil actions verdicts may be rendered by three-fourths, and in misdemeanor by five-sixths of a jury of twelve.

Eight hours made a day's labor on public works. Employés are prohibited from making any agreement with employers not to become or continue a member of a labor organization, under penalty of fine or imprisonment. A State Board of Arbitration is created.

A State Inspector of Mines and a State Sheep Inspector are to be appointed, with much power vested in them. Police officers shall not be brought into the State and specially deputized.

Illinois.—A Board of Inspectors of five, one from each of the following organizations: The Horticultural Society, the Dairyman's Association, the Retail Dealers' Association, the Butter and Egg Board, and League of Commission Merchants, is created, with power to inspect and license commission merchants. The office of State Entomologist is created, with power of inspection of orchards and nurseries.

A "Juvenile Court" is established, distinct from all other courts, in counties of over 500,000 inhabitants, for the trial, care, and disposition of all dependent, neglected, and delinquent children.

Pawners' societies are authorized, their rate of compensation for advances fixed, and the storage of pawns and pledges and the sale thereof regulated.

The Board of Pardons is granted greater powers, among which is the right to parole criminals confined in the State penitentiary.

The public exhibition for pecuniary gain of persons who have been conspicuous through some criminal act, which has a tendency to degrade human morals, or such exhibition of their pictures, or articles belonging to them, or the exhibition of persons whose deformity would attract public curiosity, is prohibited.

A State Food Commissioner is created, with power to inspect all food and see to the punishment of those who adulterate the same.

Deception, misrepresentation, false advertising, false pretences, and unlawful force in the procuring of employés to work are prohibited, and failure to state the existence of a strike, lockout, or other labor trouble shall be deemed false advertisement and misrepresentation, punishable by fine and imprisonment. It is declared a felony, with imprisonment in the penitentiary for from one to five years, to hire persons to guard with arms or deadly weapons other persons or property, and any person coming into the State with deadly weapons to so guard other persons or property, without a written permit from the Governor, shall be similarly punished.

Free employment offices are established, one in each city of over 50,000 people, and three in cities of over 1,000,000. These offices and the officials are to be sustained by the State.

The State Board of Health is to examine and license all physicians and surgeons. A State Board of Veterinary Examiners is created, and no veterinarian is to practise without a license. The State Board of Health is to supervise all lodging-houses, and the amount of air space therein in every sleeping-room to each person is fixed by law.

A State Mining Board of five members is created to have supervision of mines.

In addition to the five members of the board, the Governor is to appoint seven Inspectors of Mines. All these officials are paid by the State and have important powers. Very minute legislation is had as to the character of construction and the machinery of all mines, and safety appliances.

"Parental or Truant Schools" are established in cities, in which children guilty of habitual truancy or of habitual violation of public school rules shall be confined and taught.

What was known as the "Allen Bill" was repealed by the last Legislature. The bill repealed was passed two years ago, and permitted the extension of street railway franchises by municipalities from twenty to fifty years. The law just enacted restricts the old condition, and no franchise can be granted for a longer period than twenty years.

Indiana.—The importation of indigent children is forbidden, under heavy penalties, except as permitted by the State Board of Charities, which is granted great power.

A voter selling or offering to sell his vote at any general, special, or primary election, or convention, for money or property or thing of value, or for the promise of favor or hope of reward, or shall accept money, property, or thing of value with the promise or pretence of voting or refraining from voting for any candidate, shall be disfranchised for not less than ten nor more than twenty years. ¶

A "mob" is declared to be any collection of individuals assembled for any unlawful purpose, intending to injure any person by violence and without authority of law, and the act of violence committed is declared to be "lynching." When such violence results in death, those participating, or aiding and abetting, shall suffer death or imprisonment for life, and those present, but not participating, shall be imprisoned not less than two nor more than twenty-one years. The law provides for impeachment of officers from whose custody prisoners are taken by mobs, and where bystanders, being called upon, refuse to assist the officer in defending the prisoner, they are subject to fine and imprisonment.

A Public Library Commission is created, to which is given an appropriation for the purchase of "travelling libraries," which are to be carried about the State and loaned to local libraries, clubs, grades, colleges, societies, study circles, and other associations.

A Labor Commission is organized, composed of two members, one who shall have been for not less than ten years an employe for wages and who shall be affiliated with the labor interest; the other who shall have been for not less than ten years an employer of labor, both to be forty years of age and over, not members of the same political party, and neither to hold any other office. Such Commission, upon receipt of information of a strike, boycott, or other labor complication, shall put themselves in communication with the parties to the controversy, with a view to induce the parties to arbitrate. The arbitration board shall consist of the two Labor Commissioners, the Circuit Judge, and one to be selected by each of the contending parties, and the courts are charged with the duty of enforcing the award.

A "Department of Inspection" is created to carry out the provisions of a drastic and far-reaching law that provides with much detail and among other results the following: No person under fourteen shall be employed in any manufacturing or mercantile establishment, and no person under sixteen and no female under eighteen years of age shall work in such establishment more than sixty hours each week, and no person under sixteen shall be thus employed who cannot read and write the English language. Female labor in manufacturing shall not be employed between 10 o'clock P. M. and 6 o'clock A. M. No young person is permitted to operate any elevator.

Wages must be paid weekly to all who labor or are "in any other service for hire," and where parties employing neglect so to do suits to be brought and 50 per cent of the amount of the judgment shall be added as a penalty to be paid to the school fund. Unskilled labor on public work shall not receive less than fifteen cents an hour.

The principle of referendum in application to municipal ownership appears in an act providing that no ordinance for the purchase of or establishment of any water works or lighting plant or the granting of any franchise for the establishment or operation of any water works or lighting plant, street railroad, telephone, or telegraph company in any incorporated town shall go into effect until thirty days after its passage and until voted upon at the polls, if within thirty days a referendum is demanded by 40 per cent of the legal voters of such incorporated town.

Kansas.—Constitutional amendment increasing the Supreme Court Judges will be voted upon in 1900.

Dealing in futures and "bucket shop" transactions are prohibited under heavy penalties. The Board of Police Commissioners, created originally to enforce the prohibitory liquor law, has been abolished. This will practically bring about local option or home rule in liquor matters.

A Court of Visitation is created to take the place of the Board of Railroad Commissioners, which is abolished. The three judges are elective in 1900, and meantime are appointed. The court is invested with more power than has ever been conferred by law upon any human tribunal. It is to be in perpetual session, and is given greater power over railroads, express, and telegraph companies than can be exercised by their own board of directors or general officers. The court has legislative, executive, and judicial powers within itself. It fixes rates, and determines their reasonableness. It apportions charges among common carriers, classifies freight, compels train service, orders the building of depots, regulates crossings, prescribes rules for running of trains, and in short all railroads are operated under its direction and guidance. When its orders are disobeyed it tries the culprit, making its own rules of procedure. Any person may complain, and at the cost of the State, and with the aid of numerous officials, created for the purpose, the so-called trial is had. It shall investigate strikes, and if it finds the railroad company at fault it shall rectify matters by orders, and if the company does not obey the order the court shall seize and operate the road. If the strikers are at fault it shall order them to cease the strike. In questions of rates or service raised by any complainant, the company is presumptively wrong in the first instance. It is presumed to be guilty until it proves its innocence.

A "Charter Board," composed of the Attorney-General, Secretary of State, and State Bank Commissioners, is created. It grants all charters, regulates foreign insurance companies doing business in the State, inquiring as to their solvency.

The political disabilities of those who bore arms against the United States are removed. A novel law provides for an annual convention of labor organizations. The delegates shall elect a President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Assistant Secretary, who shall constitute the State Board of Labor and Industry. The Secretary shall be the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and Factory Inspector, and the Assistant Secretary shall be his assistant. Miners are to hold a similar convention, and the Secretary elected by such convention shall be the State Inspector of Mines. This election of salaried State officials by a part of the citizens acting in irresponsible conventions is certainly a new departure.

Wages must be paid in money. Travelling libraries are provided for. The office of Oil Inspector is created.

Maine.—It is a misdemeanor to advertise for sale debts, dues, accounts, or demands owing by any person, unless the party advertising is an executor, trustee, sheriff, or other official.

Intoxication from the use of intoxicating liquors, opium, or other drugs is made cause for divorce. Interest on personal loans with pledge of personal property is limited to the rate of 3 per cent monthly for three months, and 15 per cent per annum thereafter on sums of $200 or less.

Library Commissioners are to be appointed by the Governor to encourage free public libraries. Ticket "scalping" is made a misdemeanor, and none but agents of railroads are allowed to sell personal or limited tickets, and same when unused must be redeemed by the company.

Shareholders in trust and banking companies are responsible to the creditors of their companies to an additional amount equal to the par value of their shares, and an assessment may be ordered by the court upon complaint of a bank examiner.

Massachusetts.—Bicycle paths are protected. A Board of Cattle Commissioners is created, with power to suppress contagious diseases, establish hospitals, and quarantine and kill cattle incurably diseased, without compensation to the owner.

The Bertillon method of identifying criminals is adopted. Process butter must be stamped "Renovated Butter." Collectors of debts dressed in a way to attract public attention are prohibited.

An elaborate law has been enacted relative to the descent and distribution of real and personal property.

Each town must elect a tree warden to care for public shade trees.

Weekly payment of wages to laborers is required.

Street railways are authorized to act as common carriers for packages and small parcels.

No bank shall do business as a trust company.

Michigan.—Brokers and commission men dealing in farm products must give bond. Adulteration of linsed oil and ground feed is forbidden. Bicycle paths are protected.

The city of Detroit was authorized to construct, acquire, maintain, and operate street railways.

Process butter and oleomargarine must be labelled.

A State Forestry Commission is established.

A State Board of Registration in Medicine is created, to examine and license all physicians and surgeons. A State Veterinary Board is ordered to examine all veterinarians. A State Board of Examiners of Barbers is created to examine and license barbers.

Women physicians shall be employed where women are restrained.

Horse-shoers are to be examined and licensed by a Board of Examiners appointed by the Governor of the State.

Interest is reduced to 5 per cent and by contract may be 7.

No child under fourteen shall be employed in any manufacturing establishment, and no child under sixteen shall work who cannot read and write, nor between 6 P. M. and 7 A. M.

A State Free Library Board is created.

A "mob" is defined to be any collection of persons pretending to exercise correctional power over other persons by violence and without authority of law, and the act exercised is called "lynching." The person injured and the legal representatives of those killed may recover from the county to the extent of $5,000, the county having recovery over against the parties guilty of lynching.

County Judges may secretly grant license to and secretly perform the marriage ceremony for females about to give birth to a bastard child, whether the female is of marriageable age or not. Marriage is forbidden to persons having syphilis or other private diseases under penalty of five years' imprisonment, and husband, wife, and physician may be witnesses.

A tax of 3 per cent on the gross earnings within the State of express, and 2½ on telephone companies is imposed. A 5 per cent tax is levied upon all bequests of over $500 to those who are not heirs and certain relatives and regularly adopted children.

An Anti-Trust law was passed.

Minnesota.—The Governor is to set apart a day for tree planting and to inculcate a sentiment for protection of birds.

The raising of sugar beets is encouraged, and sugar beet seed is to be distributed.

Bicycle paths are protected, and those throwing on any highway that which will injure bicycles or puncture tires are guilty of a misdemeanor.

Husband and wife are not liable for the debts of each other.

A State Dairy and Food Commissioner is to be appointed, with important duties devolving upon him. Milkmen in cities and towns must be licensed. Dairies are regulated. It is a misdemeanor to sell "renovated or boiled butter" without stamping it. The use of chemicals to preserve butter, milk, or cheese is prohibited.

A law governing, with much detail, primary elections for the nomination of candidates and another permitting the use of automatic voting machines have been enacted.

The preservation and growth of forests is encouraged and a State Board of Forestry is created.

A State Board of nine citizens is created to constitute tribunals of appeal from complaints of grain inspection. Their decision as to grade of grain is final.

Horses shall not be "docked," and docking their tails is made a misdemeanor.

Interest is reduced from 7 to 6 per cent.

"Travelling Libraries" are provided for, and a State Library Commission is created.

The Presidential Election of 1900.

The next Presidential election will take place on Tuesday, November 6, of the present year. The President and Vice-President of the United States are chosen by officials termed "Electors" in each State, who are, under existing State laws, chosen by the qualified voters thereof by ballot, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November in every fourth year preceding the year in which the Presidential term expires.

The Constitution of the United States prescribes that each State shall "appoint," in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in Congress; but no Senator or Representative or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be an elector. The Constitution requires that the day when electors are chosen shall be the same throughout the United States. At the beginning of our Government most of the electors were chosen by the Legislatures of their respective States, the people having no direct participation in their choice; and one State, South Carolina, continued that practice down to the breaking out of the Civil War. But in all the States now the electors are, under the direction of State laws, chosen by the people on a general State ticket.

The manner in which the chosen electors meet and ballot for a President and Vice-President of the United States is provided for in Article XII. of the Constitution, and is as follows:

The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President; and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate.

The same article then prescribes the mode in which the Congress shall count the ballots of the electors, and announce the result thereof, which is as follows:

The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted; the person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three, on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President, whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice.

The procedure of the two houses, in case the returns of the election of electors from any State are disputed, is provided in the "Electoral Count" act, passed by the Forty-ninth Congress. The act directs that the Presidential electors shall meet and give their votes on the second Monday in January next following their election. It fixes the time when Congress shall be in session to count the ballots as the second Wednesday in February succeeding the meeting of the electors.

The Constitution also defines who is eligible for President of the United States, as follows:

No person except a natural-born citizen or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this Constitution shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years.

The qualifications for Vice-President are the same.

McKinley nominated on the first ballot.

The People's Party National Convention, at St. Louis, July 25, nominated William J. Bryan for President on the first ballot, which was: Bryan, 1,042; Norton, 321; Debs, 8; Donnelly, 1; Coxey, 1.

The National Democracy, at their National Convention at Indianapolis, September 3, nominated Senator John M. Palmer for President on the first ballot. There were but two candidates, and the result of the ballot was as follows: John M. Palmer, Illinois, 763½; Edward S. Bragg, Wisconsin, 124½.

Presidential Elections

AGGREGATE POPULAR VOTE AND ELECTORAL VOTE FOR CANDIDATES FOR PRESIDENT AND VICE-PRESIDENT AT EACH ELECTION.

NOTE.—There is, properly speaking, no popular vote for President and Vice-President; the people vote for electors, and those chosen in each State meet therein and vote for the candidates for President and Vice-President. The record of any popular vote for electors prior to 1824 is so meagre and imperfect that a compilation would be useless. In most of the States, for more than a quarter century following the establishment of the Government, the State Legislatures "appointed" the Presidential electors, and the people therefore voted only indirectly for them, their choice being expressed by their votes for members of the Legislature. In this tabulation only the aggregate electoral votes for candidates for President and Vice-President in the first nine quadrennial elections appear.

ELECTORAL VOTES.

1789. Previous to 1804, each elector voted for two candidates for President. The one who received the largest number of votes was declared President, and the one who received the next largest number of votes was declared Vice-President. The electoral votes for the first President of the United States were: George Washington, 69; John Adams, of Massachusetts, 34; John Jay, of New York, 9; R. H. Harrison, of Maryland, 6; John Rutledge, of South Carolina, 6; John Hancock, of Massachusetts, 4; George Clinton, of New York, 3; Samuel Huntington, of Connecticut, 2; John Milton, of Georgia, 2; James Armstrong, of Georgia; Benjamin Lincoln, of Massachusetts, and Edward Telfair, of Georgia, 1 vote each. Vacancies (votes not cast), 4. George Washington was chosen President and John Adams Vice-President.

1792. George Washington, Federalist, received 132 votes; John Adams, Federalist, 77; George Clinton, of New York, Republican (a), 50; Thomas Jefferson, of Virginia, Republican, 4; Aaron Burr, of New York, Republican, 1 vote. Vacancies, 3. George Washington was chosen President and John Adams Vice-President.

1796. John Adams, Federalist, 71; Thomas Jefferson, Republican, 68; Thomas Pinckney, of South Carolina, Federalist, 59; Aaron Burr, of New York, Republican, 30; Samuel Adams, of Massachusetts, Republican, 15; Oliver Ellsworth, of Connecticut, Independent, 11; George Clinton, of New York, Republican, 7; John Jay, of New York, Federalist, 5; James Iredell, of North Carolina, Federalist, 3; George Washington, of Virginia; John Henry, of Maryland, and S. Johnson, of North Carolina, all Federalists, 2 votes each; Charles Cotesworth Pinckney, of South Carolina, Federalist, 1 vote. John Adams was chosen President and Thomas Jefferson Vice-President.

1800. Thomas Jefferson, Republican, 73; Aaron Burr, Republican, 73; John Adams, Federalist, 65; Charles C. Pinckney, Federalist, 64; John Jay, Federalist, 1 vote. There being a tie vote for Jefferson and Burr, the choice devolved upon the House of Representatives. Jefferson received the votes of ten States, which, being the largest vote cast for a candidate, elected him President. Burr received the votes of four States, which, being the next largest vote, elected him Vice-President. There were 2 blank votes.

1804. The Constitution of the United States having been amended, the electors at this election voted for a President and a Vice-President, instead of for two candidates for President. The result was as follows: For President, Thomas Jefferson, Republican, 162; Charles C. Pinckney, Federalist, 14. For Vice-President, George Clinton, Republican, 162; Rufus King, of New York, Federalist, 14. Jefferson was chosen President and Clinton Vice-President.

1808. For President, James Madison, of Virginia, Republican, 122; Charles C. Pinckney, of South Carolina, Federalist, 47; George Clinton, of New York, Republican, 6. For Vice-President, George Clinton, Republican, 113; Rufus King, of New York, Federalist, 47; John Langdon, of New Hampshire, 9; James Madison, 3; James Monroe, 3. Vacancy, 1. Madison was chosen President and Clinton Vice-President.

1812. For President, James Madison, Republican, 128; De Witt Clinton, of New York, Federalist, 89. For Vice-President, Elbridge Gerry, of Massachusetts, Republican, 131; Jared Ingersoll, of Pennsylvania, Federalist, 86. Vacancy, 1. Madison was chosen President and Gerry Vice-President.

1816. For President, James Monroe, of Virginia, Republican, 183; Rufus King, of New York, Federalist, 34. For Vice-President, Daniel D. Tompkins, of New York, Republican, 183; John Eager Howard, of Maryland, Federalist, 22; James Ross, of Pennsylvania, 5; John Marshall, of Virginia, 4; Robert G. Harper, of Maryland, 3. Vacancies, 4. Monroe was chosen President and Tompkins Vice-President.

1820. For President, James Monroe, of Virginia, Republican, 231; John Q. Adams, of Massachusetts, Republican, 1. For Vice-President, Daniel D. Tompkins, Republican, 218; Richard Stockton, of New Jersey, 8; Daniel Rodney, of Delaware, 4; Robert G. Harper, of Maryland, and Richard Rush, of Pennsylvania, 1 vote each. Vacancies, 3. James Monroe was chosen President and Daniel D. Tompkins Vice-President.

* The candidates starred were elected. (a) The first Republican Party is claimed by the present Democratic Party as its progenitor. (b) No candidate having a majority of the electoral vote, the House of Representatives elected Adams. (c) Candidate of the Anti-Masonic Party. (d) There being no choice, the Senate elected Johnson. (e) Eleven Southern States, being within the belligerent territory, did not vote. (f) Three Southern States disfranchised. (g) Horace Greeley died after election, and Democratic electors scattered their vote. (h) There being a dispute over the electoral votes of Florida, Louisiana, Oregon, and South Carolina, they were referred by Congress to an electoral commission composed of eight Republicans and seven Democrats, which, by a strict party vote, awarded 185 electoral votes to Hayes and 184 to Tilden. (i) Free Democrat. (j) Free Silver Prohibition Party. (k) In Massachusetts. There was also a Native American ticket in that State, which received 184 votes.

NOTE.—For popular and electoral vote by States in 1892 and 1896 see tables beginning election returns.

* Trust, as popularly understood means a consolidation, combine, pool, or agreement of two or more naturally competing concerns, which establishes a limited monopoly with power to fix prices or rates in any industry or group of industries. Only the more important or perfect trusts are contained in this list, over 500 are known to exist.

Natural monopolies, such as railroads, street railways, gas, electric light, and water companies, are not classed as trusts because they are not composed of naturally competing concerns. Consolidations and price and rate-fixing agreements in these industries exist in nearly every city in the country.

† The amount of stock issued is taken when known; when not known the amount authorized is given.

‡ If the trust is old enough to have had a dividend period the dividend given is for the last calendar or fiscal year, unless it is marked (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), or (g), in which case it was last paid in the year 1897, 1896, 1895, 1894, 1893, 1892, or 1891, respectively.

* These trusts consist of price and rate-fixing agreements, profit-sharing pools, selling or buying agencies, product-restricting agreements, etc. The number of such trusts is very great. They exist in nearly every industry, and in nearly every State and city. A few of those given may be incorporated.

† Many of these trusts have no specific names.

‡ Some of these trusts have been operative for many years. Some are renewed periodically, as the Michigan Salt Association every five years. Some are ineffective a part of the time because of disagreements. Some, like the Paris Green Combine, are effective for only a few months in a year, and do not reappear every year.

§ The capital of the allied concerns is usually estimated. In such cases as the Anthracite Coal and Steel Rail trusts only such part of the capital of the allied concerns is taken as is believed to be devoted to the particular industry considered.

(a) Similar fire insurance associations for fixing rates, terms, conditions, etc., exist in all sections of the country and in most States and cities. They are nominally inactive in several States with strong "anti-compact" laws. The combined capital of the insurance companies working more or less harmoniously together is about $80,000,000.

(b) This association maintains prices of proprietary medicines by refusing to handle goods sold to wholesalers who cut prices. Similar local associations of jobbers and retailers regulate prices of most leading articles in States, counties, and cities.

(c) Wholesale grocers' associations exist everywhere. By means of rebates, etc., they assist manufacturers of sugar, starch, baking powder, and of many other leading articles in maintaining uniform prices.

National Party Platforms of 1896.

DEMOCRATIC AND REPUBLICAN PLATFORMS ON THE QUESTIONS OF THE CURRENCY, THE TARIFF, TRUSTS, AND OUR FOREIGN POLICY. FROM THE PLATFORM OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY. ADOPTED AT CHICAGO, JULY 9.

The Money Question.—Recognizing that the money question is paramount to all others at this time, we invite attention to the fact that the Constitution names silver and gold together as the money metals of the United States, and that the first coinage law passed by Congress under the Constitution made the silver dollar the money unit of value and admitted gold to free coinage at a ratio based upon the silver dollar unit.

Demonetization Act of 1873 Condemned.—We declare that the act of 1873 demonetizing silver without the knowledge or approval of the American people has resulted in the appreciation of gold and a corresponding fall in the prices of commodities produced by the people; a heavy increase in the burden of taxation and of all debts, public and private; the enrichment of the money-lending class at home and abroad; the prostration of industry and impoverishment of the people.

Opposed to Gold Monometallism.—We are unalterably opposed to monometallism which has locked fast the prosperity of an industrial people in the paralysis of hard times. Gold monometallism is a British policy, and its adoption has brought other nations into financial servitude to London. It is not only un-American, but anti-American, and it can be fastened on the United States only by the stifling of that indomitable spirit and love of liberty which proclaimed our political independence in 1776 and won it in the War of the Revolution.

Free Silver Coinage.—We demand the free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation. We demand that the standard silver dollar shall be a full legal tender equally with gold for all debts, public and private, and we favor such legislation as will prevent for the future the demonetization of any kind of legal tender money by private contract.

The Tariff.—We hold that tariff duties should be levied for purposes of revenue, such duties to be so adjusted as to operate equally throughout the country and not discriminate between class or section, and that taxation should be limited by the needs of the Government, honestly and economically administered. We denounce as disturbing to business the Republican threat to restore the McKinley law, which has twice been condemned by the people in National elections, and which, enacted under the false plea of protection to home industry, proved a prolific breeder of trusts and monopolies, enriched the few at the expense of the many, restricted trade, and deprived the producers of the great American staples of access to their natural markets.

Trusts and Pools.—The absorption of wealth by the few, the consolidation of our leading railroad systems, and the formation of trusts and pools require a stricter control by the Federal Government of those arteries of commerce. We demand the enlargement of the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission and such restrictions and guarantees in the control of railroads as will protect the people from robbery and oppression.

The Monroe Doctrine.—The Monroe doctrine, as originally declared and as interpreted by succeeding Presidents, is a permanent part of the foreign policy of the United States, and must at all times be maintained.

FROM THE PLATFORM OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY. ADOPTED AT ST. LOUIS, JUNE 18.

The Currency Question.—The Republican party is unreservedly for sound money. It caused the enactment of the law providing for the resumption of specie payments in 1879; since then every dollar has been as good as gold. We are unalterably opposed to every measure calculated to debase our currency or impair the credit of our country. We are therefore opposed to the free coinage of silver except by international agreement with the leading commercial nations of the world, which we pledge ourselves to promote, and until such agreement can be obtained the existing gold standard must be preserved. All our silver and paper currency must be maintained at parity with gold, and we favor all measures designed to maintain inviolably the obligations of the United States, and all our money at the present standard, the standard of the most enlightened nations of the earth.

The Tariff.—We renew and emphasize our allegiance to the policy of protection as the bulwark of American industrial independence and the foundation of American development and prosperity. This true American policy taxes foreign products and encourages home industry; it puts the burden of revenue on foreign goods; it secures the American market for the American producer; it upholds the American standard of wages for the American workingman; it puts the factory by the side of the farm and makes the American farmer less dependent on foreign demand and price; it diffuses general thrift and founds the strength of all on the strength of each. In its reasonable application it is just, fair, and impartial, equally opposed to foreign control and domestic monopoly, to sectional discrimination, and individual favoritism.

We denounce the present Democratic tariff as sectional, injurious to the public credit, and destructive to business enterprise. We demand such an equitable tariff on foreign imports which come into competition with American products as will not only furnish adequate revenue for the necessary expenses of the Government, but will protect American labor from degradation to the wage level of other lands. We are not pledged to any particular schedules. The question of rates is a practical question, to be governed by the conditions of the time and of production; the ruling and uncompromising principle is the protection and development of American labor and industry. The country demands a right settlement, and then it wants rest.

The Monroe Doctrine.—We reassert the Monroe doctrine in its full extent, and we reaffirm the right of the United States to give the doctrine effect by responding to the appeal of any American States for friendly intervention in case of European encroachment. We have not interfered, and shall not interfere, with the existing possessions of any European power in this hemisphere, but these possessions must not, on any pretext, be extended. We hopefully look forward to the eventual withdrawal of the European powers from this hemisphere, and to the ultimate union of all of the English-speaking part of the continent by the free consent of its inhabitants.

Foreign Relations.—Our foreign policy should be at all times firm, vigorous, and dignified, and all our interests in the Western Hemisphere carefully watched and guarded. The Hawaiian Islands should be controlled by the United States, and no foreign power should be permitted to interfere with them; the Nicaraguan Canal should be built, owned, and operated by the United States, and by purchase of the Danish Islands we would secure a much-needed naval station in the West Indies.

[The entire platforms of all the political parties, adopted in 1896, were printed in THE WORLD ALMANAC for 1897.]

Party Platforms on National Issues in 1899.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY POLITICAL STATE CONVENTIONS LAST YEAR DEFINING THEIR POSITION ON NATIONAL ISSUES, GROUPED BY TOPICS.

THE CURRENCY.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS.

Iowa.—We, the Democrats of Iowa, in convention assembled, unqualifiedly and unreservedly indorse the Chicago platform of 1896 in whole and in detail, and declare our unwavering fidelity and adherence to the same.

Kentucky.—The Democrats of Kentucky, in convention assembled, reaffirm, without the slightest qualification, the principles and policies declared in the Democratic National platform, adopted at Chicago in 1896. Our faith in bimetallicism is vindicated by events. * * * The present legal ratio of 16 to 1 is the only ratio at which bimetallicism can be restored, and opposition to it is confined to those who oppose bimetallicism at any ratio and to those who misapprehend or ignore the reasons which led three National conventions to adopt it.

Massachusetts.—Particularly do we reiterate our belief in the financial plank of the Chicago platform, and renew our demand for the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

Nebraska.—The present legal ratio of 16 to 1 is the natural and necessary ratio, and the opponents of that ratio have nothing to offer in its place but the evasive and ambiguous phraseology which for years furnished to the gold-standard advocates a mask behind which to hide while they secretly labored to make gold monometallicism permanent.

Ohio.—We heartily reaffirm the entire Chicago platform of 1896, and we especially emphasize the financial plank therein, and we continue to demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold as equal in primary money at the rate of 16 to 1, independent of all other nations in the world.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

Iowa.—We readopt the following declaration from the Iowa Republican platform of 1898: "The monetary standard of this country and the commercial world is gold. The permanence of this standard must be assured by Congressional legislation giving to it the validity and vitality of public law. All other money must be kept at a parity with gold." and we urgently call upon our Senators and Representatives in Congress to lend their best endeavors to enact these propositions into law.

Kentucky.—We reaffirm our adherence to the principles and policies proclaimed by the last National Republican Convention, except as to the civil service. We regard it as settled beyond dispute that the maintenance of a sound currency through the Republican Administration and legislation is the foundation upon which rests the most remarkable period of industrial progress, commercial activity, and general prosperity within the experience of the people of the United States.

Maryland.—We believe in the gold standard, and that all our currency should be made by law redeemable in gold coin at the option of the holder.

Massachusetts.—The Republican party stands unreservedly pledged to maintain the existing gold standard, and we look with confidence to the Fifty-sixth Congress for the enactment of measures to so perfect our monetary system that there shall be ample money for the expanding business of the country, and to so arm and guard the Treasury that it can at all times protect the National credit.

Nebraska.—We adhere unequivocally to the gold standard, and are unalterably opposed to the free coinage of silver. Gold has been our standard since 1834, and is now the standard of every civilized and important country in the world.

Ohio.—The Republican party of Ohio reaffirms the principles declared by the St. Louis platform, * * * William McKinley, * * * the wise and patriotic defender and advocate of honest money.

Pennsylvania.—We reaffirm the principles of our party declared in the National platform by the St. Louis Convention. The Republican party of Pennsylvania stands unequivocally and unreservedly for sound money, and favors a currency with which to pay the wages of labor and the earnings of capital, the soldier, and pensioner as good as gold the world over. To further these ends we believe in maintaining the existing gold standard, and are unalterably opposed to the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

PROTECTION.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS.

Iowa.—We demand that they (the trusts) be suppressed by the repeal of the protective tariff and other privilege-conferring legislation responsible for them.

Kentucky.—We denounce * * * the protective tariff laws, known as the McKinley and Dingley bills, whereby there is a discrimination in favor of corporate wealth and against individual enterprise.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

Iowa.—We commend the action of the Iowa delegation in Congress in its support of protection, of the Dingley tariff, of the maintenance of the gold standard, and in its faithful support of the Administration of President McKinley in his policy in peace and war.

Maryland.—We continue to favor such a system of import duties as shall protect American industries and provide sufficient revenue for the expenses of Government, economically administered.

Massachusetts.—A tariff law has been enacted abundantly adequate to meet the expenses of the Government on a peace footing and so adjusted in its relations to our foreign and domestic trade that it has already lifted the country into a state of industrial activity and prosperity without precedent in our history, or parallel in the world.

Pennsylvania.—We renew and emphasize our allegiance to the policy of protection, which is the bulwark of our industrial development and the foundation of the prosperity of our country. We cordially indorse and heartily approve the wise course pursued by our representatives in Congress in the enactment of the Dingley tariff law.

TRUSTS.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS.

Iowa.—We view with alarm the multiplication of those combinations of capital commonly known as trusts, that are concentrating and monopolizing industry, crushing out independent producers of limited means, destroying competition, restricting opportunities for labor, artificially limiting production and raising prices, and creating an industrial condition different from state socialism only in the respect that under socialism the benefits of production would go to all, while under the trust system they go to increase the fortune of these institutions. * * * It is our solemn conviction that the trusts must be destroyed or they will destroy free government, and we demand that they be suppressed by the repeal of the protective tariff and other privilege-conferring legislation responsible for them and by the enactment of such legislation, State and National, as will aid in their destruction.

Kentucky.—We believe the trust is the result, in large measure, of the policies adopted and pursued by the Republican party, chief among which are the demonetization of silver, by which the volume of currency has been kept below the demands of business, and the enactment and enforcement of vicious, unwise, and unpatriotic legislation, such as the protective tariff laws, known as the McKinley and Dingley bills, whereby there is a discrimination in favor of corporate wealth and against individual enterprise. We favor the destruction of the result as well as the removal of the causes. The re-establishment of independent bimetalism at 16 to 1 and the repeal of all protective tariff laws would do more to cripple and destroy the organization and operation of the trusts than any other laws.

Maryland.—We view with alarm the multiplication over the land of such gigantic industrial and commercial trusts, the outgrowth of Republican legislation, as stifle competition, threaten popular government, increase the cost of living, and curtail the individual rights of the people, and we favor vigorous measures by the States and by Congress to repress this great and growing evil.

Massachusetts.—We pledge our-elves to give due trial to such remedies as may hasten the disintegration of trusts—for example, a compulsory system of publicity for all trust records and accounts, a Federal law prohibiting a monopoly from making more divergent prices for its products in different parts of the country than are warranted by differing freight rates, thus preventing underselling in one State to drive out competitors at the expense of the consumer in other States, where the monopoly is complete, and a more rigid enforcement of the law against railroad discriminations, pending the actual government ownership and operation of all railroads, which this convention demands.

Nebraska.—The industrial trusts springing up on every hand testify to the Administration's indifference to monopoly or its inability to cope with it. We denounce the failure of the Administration to enforce the present law against trusts or to recommend new laws if the present law is deemed insufficient. We are opposed to the principle of monopoly wherever it manifests itself. We demand the enforcement of the present Federal law, the enactment of such new legislation as may be necessary, and a constitutional amendment if the present Constitution is construed to protect trusts, to the end that the monopolization of industry by private corporations may be absolutely prevented.

Ohio.—We declare that all unlawful combinations of capital are the legitimate fruits of a gold standard and other corrupt Republican legislation on questions of the tariff, and we demand that all articles the prices of which are controlled by the trusts be placed on the free lists.

Pennsylvania.—We are opposed to all combinations of capital calculated to produce monopoly, or restrain trade, as being inconsistent with the spirit of free institutions, and if their establishment cannot be constitutionally prevented, we hold that they should be so regulated and limited by proper legislation that individual effort and opportunity shall not be impaired.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

Iowa.—To maintain the welfare of the people is the object of all governments. Industry and commerce should be left free to pursue their method according to the natural laws of the world, but when the business aggregations known as trusts prove hurtful to the people they must be restrained by National laws, and if need be abolished.

Kentucky.—We pledge the Republican party of Kentucky to the enactment of all such laws as may be necessary to prevent trusts, pools, combinations, or other organizations from combining to depreciate below its real value or to enhance the cost of any article, or to reduce the proper emoluments of labor.

Maryland.—We strongly favor laws to successfully suppress trusts and all combinations which create monopoly. It was the Republican party which passed the Federal law against trusts, and which is enforcing it so far as States' rights permit.

Massachusetts.—The Republican party of Massachusetts is unqualifiedly opposed to trusts and monopoly, and the capitalization of fictitious and speculative valuations, and reiterates its declaration in the platform of 1894 against stock-watering in all forms, and points to the existing legislation, and especially to the anti-stock-watering laws of that year passed by a Republican Legislature and signed by a Republican Governor, as proof of its progress, sincerity, wisdom, and courage upon this issue. It believes that similar laws enacted by all the States in connection with the Federal Trust law already passed by a Republican Congress would put an end to the danger from the growth of great combinations and trusts.

Nebraska.—The Republican party now, as always, opposes trusts and combinations having for their purpose the stifling of competition and arbitrarily controlling production or fixing prices. but we also recognize that legitimate business interests, fairly capitalized and honestly managed have built up our industries at home, given the largest employment to labor at the highest wage, and have enabled us to successfully compete with foreign countries in the markets of the world.

Ohio.—We commend the action of the Seventy-third General Assembly of Ohio in passing the stringent law now on our statute books, prohibiting the organization of trusts, and we denounce such unlawful combinations as inimical to the interests of the people.

MILITARISM—NATIONAL EXPANSION—THE PHILIPPINE WAR.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS.

Iowa.—We also condemn the war against the Philippines, believing it to have been inspired by Great Britain for the purpose of producing conditions that will force an Anglo-American alliance. And we not only protest against the war and demand its termination by extension to the Filipinos of the same assurance given to the Cubans, but we record our deep-seated antagonism to an alliance with Great Britain or any other European power, and express our detestation of the attempts made in British interests to disrupt the friendly relations which have uniformly obtained between the United States and Germany. We oppose conquest of the Philippines, because imperialism means militarism, because militarism means government by force, and because government by force means death to government by consent, destruction of political and industrial freedom, the obliteration of the equality of rights and the assassination of democratic institutions.

Kentucky.—We declare the conduct of the present National Administration as to the Philippines to be repugnant to every line of the Bill of Rights, the Constitution, and the Declaration of Independence.

Maryland.—We declare our unalterable opposition to the creation and maintenance of a large standing army in time of peace, and we insist upon the supremacy of the civil over the military authority.

Massachusetts.—To the war with Spain—a war rightly waged in the cause of humanity, and which was forced upon an unwilling Republican Administration by the insistence of the Democrats in House and Senate—there has succeeded a war of criminal aggression in the Philippines. We hold that this war is wanton and needless. It is in violation of the principles of American constitutional liberty, not only because it is prosecuted by the Administration without the Congressional action which the Constitution prescribes, but because it is a denial of that right of self-government which, from the day our forefathers faced the British at Concord Bridge, has been a cardinal precept of American political philosophy, until now William McKinley, with the applause and overt sympathy of the British Government, has discarded it. We demand that of the Philippines as well as of the Cubans it shall be said to-day that they are and of right ought to be free and independent, and we hold that such a declaration, coupled with the expression of the purpose of the United States to protect the islands from the assaults of any foreign power, would speedily restore order, purge our National honor of the stain put upon it by injustice and bad faith, and advance American trade in the far East. Back of the gaudy trappings of imperialism lurks the less spectacular but more terrifying form of militarism. Against a great standing army the Democracy, both of State and nation, has resolutely set its face, but in the reiterated demands for more and more troops to subdue the Tagalos may be detected the purpose to have ultimately more soldiers to employ at home.

Nebraska.—We believe the Filipinos should have received the same treatment as the Cubans, and that, as the Cubans were assured of ultimate independence and protection, so the Filipinos should have been assured in the beginning of our nation's intention to give them independence as soon as a stable government should be established, and protection from outside interference. Such assurances should be given now.

Ohio.—We are radically and unalterably opposed to imperialism in the United States of America. When we have solved some of the race problems that confront us at home, then by example we can proclaim the blessings that flow from free institutions, and thus procure "benevolent assimilation" without "criminal aggression." * * * We demand that the Cubans and Filipinos not only be permitted but encouraged to establish independent republics, deriving all of their governmental powers from the consent of the governed. * * * A large standing army in our republic is a menace to liberty.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

Iowa.—There shall be no division among us until all in arms against the flag shall confess the flag's supreme rights and honor and shall know that even in the farthest East it is the sign and promise of equal law, of justice and liberty throughout the land and to all the inhabitants thereof.

Kentucky.—We declare our confidence in the policies adopted and the measures taken by the President to restore order and to establish progressive government in Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippines, and we pledge him our continuous support until these objects are fully attained.

Maryland.—While we deplore the insurrection in the Philippine Islands, wherein by cession from Spain we acquired the right of sovereignty duty demands that we retain and pacify them, and safeguard the interests of commerce until the problem of their final disposition be solved in such manner that the glory of our flag be not sullied nor the liberty it stands for restrained.

Massachusetts.—We commend the tact, the patience, the skill, and the statesmanlike spirit with which the President has approached the perplexing problems arising from the war. Under the treaty with Spain, the law of nations put upon the United States the responsibility for the peace and security of life and property, the well-being and the future government of the Philippine Islands; accepting this responsibility it is our profound trust that the present hostilities can be brought to an early termination, and that Congress, guided by a wise and patriotic Administration, will establish and maintain in those islands, hitherto the home of tyrants, a government as free, as liberal, and as progressive as our own, in accordance with the sacred principles of liberty and self-government upon which the American Republic so securely rests.

Nebraska.—While we deplore the insurrection in the Philippine Islands, yet we recognize the duties and obligations imposed upon our nation by the victory of our navy and the matchless valor of our arms, resulting in the treaty of Paris, which imposed upon the President the duty of maintaining the authority of the United States over the territory acquired thereby, and so long as there is one gun pointed at an American soldier, so long as there is an armed enemy assailing our flag, so long must patriotic and loyal Americans uphold our President in effecting protection, tranquillity, and peace to all who recognize our lawful occupation.

Ohio.—To the same master guidance, controlled by the great principles that have shaped the high destiny of the Republican party from Lincoln to McKinley, the people can safely commit the solution of the momentous problems of the future of Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippine Islands. Their wise solution will vastly increase our foreign trade, spread American civilization abroad, and add to the honor and power and glory of this great nation.

Pennsylvania.—We promise him (the President) our faithful support in the prosecution of the war in the Philippines, in order that the supremacy of the flag planted there by the valor of our army and navy may be maintained. To give continued employment to the industry, ingenuity, and skill of the American mechanic and laborer we must find new markets abroad for our surplus products. The commercial control of additional territory will afford new markets which will necessarily increase our commerce and develop our manufacturing interests. We have ceased to be content with supplying products for home consumption alone. We must keep pace with other nations in seeking new fields for our commerce, and to this end we support the policy of industrial, commercial, and National expansion.

Socialist Labor Party.

National Corresponding and Financial Secretary—Henry Kuhn, 61 Beekman Street, New York City. Recording Secretary—John J. Kinnally. Treasurer—Alvan S. Brown. National Executive Committee—The preceding and Lucien Sanial, Arthur Keep, Peter Fiebigler, Patrick Murphy, and Joseph H. Sauter.

The party is organized in local organizations known as "sections," such sections existing in thirty-two States and two Territories. Any ten persons in any city or town of the United States may form a section, providing they acknowledge the platform and constitution of the Socialist Labor Party and do not belong to any other political party. In places where no section exists, or where none can be formed, any person complying with the aforesaid provisions may become a member-at-large upon application to the National Executive Committee. Sections are not permitted to charge initiation fees. All questions of importance arising within the party are decided by general vote. At each meeting of the section a chairman is elected, and the same rule holds good with all standing committees.

National Republican League of the United States.

THE National Republican League of the United States was organized in Chickering Hall, New York City, December 15-17, 1887, by delegates from about 350 Republican clubs of the United States, assembled in national convention, pursuant to a call issued by the Republican Club of New York City. It is composed of the Republican clubs of the United States, organized by States and united in a national organization. Its purpose is "Organization and Education." It aims to enlist recruits for the Republican party, particularly the younger men and the "first voters." National conventions have since been held at Baltimore, Md., February 28, 1889; Nashville, Tenn., March 4, 1890; Cincinnati, O., April 23, 1891; Buffalo, N. Y., September 16, 1892; Louisville, Ky., May 10, 1893; Denver, Col., June 26, 1894; Cleveland, O., June 19, 1895; Milwaukee, Wis., August 25, 1896; Detroit, Mich., July 13, 1897, and Omaha, Neb., July 13, 1898. Officers—President, George Stone, San Francisco, Cal.; Treasurer, Mahlon D. Young, Philadelphia; Secretary, D. H. Stine, Newport, Ky. Headquarters, Auditorium Hotel, Chicago.

National Farmers' Alliance

 Iowa.
 Vice-President—Hon. A. L. Stuntz, State Centre, Iowa. Lecturer—George E. Lawrence, Marion, Ohio.

The following is the platform of the National Farmers' Alliance:

That the National Farmers' Alliance will adhere to the principles set forth in our declaration of purposes, and maintain the order as the opponent of unjust trusts and combines, and favor the education of our membership in political sentiment, in harmony with our principles, controlling no political party and being controlled by none, but each individual may use his own judgment in the exercise of his right of franchise and in his choice of methods by which our demands may be secured.

That we favor the enactment into law of an effective anti-option bill prohibiting gambling in farm products.

That we favor such strict legislation, both State and National, as will prohibit the adulteration of all food products.

The National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, a statement in reference to which appears below, is a separate organization covering all of the Southern, most of the Western, and some of the Eastern States. At its annual meeting in 1890, at Ocala, Fla., it adopted what is known as the Ocala platform. (See THE WORLD ALMANAC for 1891, page 93.)

National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union.

President—J. C. Wilborn, Old Point, S. C. Executive Committee—John Breinig, Junction, W. Va.; D. P. Duncan, Columbia, S. C.; C. W. Gravit, Mandana, N. Y.; W. A. Gardner, Andrews' Settlement, Pa.
 Vice-President—Jacob J. Miller, Waynesboro, Pa.
 Secretary-Treasurer—A. B. Welch, Victor, N. Y.
 Lecturers—J. P. Sossman, Charlotte, N. C.; J. C. Hanley, St. Paul, Minn.

The platform of the Union, besides calling for the government control of railroads, telegraphs, and telephones, and the election of United States Senators by the people, makes the following demands:

We demand a National currency, safe, sound, and flexible; issued by the General Government only; a full legal tender for all debts and receivable for all dues, and an equitable and efficient means of distribution of banking corporations, and in sufficient volume to transact the business of the country on a cash basis. (a) We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the legal ratio of 16 to 1. (b) We demand a graduated income tax. (c) That our National legislation shall be so framed in the future as not to build up one industry at the expense of another. (d) We believe that the money of the country should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand that all National and State revenues shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the Government economically and honestly administered. (e) We demand that postal savings banks be established by the Government for the safe deposits of the savings of the people, and to facilitate exchange. (f) We are unalterably opposed to the issue by the United States of interest-bearing bonds, and demand the payment of all coin obligations of the United States, as provided by existing laws, in either gold or silver coin, at the option of the Government and not at the option of the creditor.

We demand that no land shall be held by corporations for speculative purposes or by railroads in excess of their needs as carriers, and all lands now owned by aliens should be reclaimed by the Government and held for actual settlers only. We demand free mail delivery in the rural districts. We demand that the inhabitants of all the territory coming to the United States as the result of the war with Spain be as speedily as possible permitted to organize a free government of their own, based on the consent of the governed.

National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry.

Master—Aaron Jones, South Bend, Ind. Overseer—O. H. Hale, North Stockholm, N. Y. Lecturer—Alpha Messer, Rochester, Vt. Steward—John T. Cox, Redington, N. J. Assistant Steward—J. A. Newcomb, Golden, Col. Chaplain—S. O. Bowen, Eastford, Ct. Treasurer—Mrs. Eva S. McDowell, Columbus, O. Secretary—John Trimble, Washington, D. C. Gatekeeper—A. B. Judson, Silver City, Iowa. Ceres—Mrs. Lena M. Messick, Bridgeville, Del. Pomona—Mrs. Sarah G. Baird, Edina Mills, Minn. Flora—Mrs. E. L. A. Wiggin, Maysville Centre, Me. L. A. S.—Mrs. Amanda M. Horton, Fruit Ridge, Mich. Secretary's Address—John Trimble, 514 F Street, Washington, D. C.

The following reforms are officially favored by the National Grange, representing the farmers of the United States: 1. Postal savings banks. 2. Enactment of pure food laws. 3. Rural free-mail delivery. 4. Additional powers to the Interstate Commerce Commission. 5. Speedy construction of the Nicaragua Canal by the United States. 6. To prevent the pooling of railroads. 7. Impartial investigation of foreign trade relations. 8. Election of United States Senators by popular vote. 9. Settlement of international differences by arbitration.

The National Grange has established 27,689 subordinate granges in 44 States and Territories.

General Labor Organizations.

American Federation of Labor.—President, Samuel Gompers, 423 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.; Secretary, Frank Morrison, same address; Treasurer, John B. Lennon, Bloomington, Ill.; First Vice-President, P. J. Maguire, Philadelphia, Pa.; Second Vice-President, James Duncan, Boston, Mass.; Third Vice-President, James O'Connell, Washington, D. C.; Fourth Vice-President, John Mitchell, Indianapolis; Fifth Vice-President, Max Morris, Denver, Col.; Sixth Vice-President, Thomas I. Kidd, Chicago, Ill. The Federation is composed of 71 affiliated national unions, 11 State branches, 110 city central unions, and 674 local unions. The aggregate membership is 700,000. The affiliated unions publish about 235 weekly or monthly papers, devoted to the cause of labor. The official organ is the American Federationist, edited by Samuel Gompers. About 400 organizers of local unions are acting under the orders of the Federation. The objects and aims of the American Federation of Labor are officially stated to be to render employment and the means of subsistence less precarious by securing to the workers an equitable share of the fruits of their labor.

As means to this end, it proposes: First—A free federation of all trade and labor unions in America. Second—The establishment of self-governing unions of wage-workers in every trade and legitimate occupation, without exception, where none now exists. Third—The formation of public opinion by the agencies of platform, press, and legislation. Fourth—The furtherance of civilization and industrial progress by securing to the workers a reduction in the hours of labor.

Knights of Labor.—General Master Workman, John W. Parsons, New York City, General Worthy Foreman, I. D. Chamberlain, Pueblo, Col.; General Secretary-Treasurer, John W. Hayes, 43 B Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.; Executive Board—Andrew D. Best, New York; Henry Bostock, Pendleton, Ind.; J. S. Fitzpatrick, Montreal, Canada. This organization claims a membership of 200,000. General Assembly organized at Reading, Pa., in 1878.

Socialist Trade and Labor Alliance.—Was organized in New York in December, 1895, by trades unions seceding from the Knights of Labor and the American Federation of Labor. Its numerical strength is 25,000. Its purpose is stated by its promoters to be: To supplant what is known in the labor movement as pure and simple trades unionism. The former scatters its forces by dividing them among the 'capitalistic' political parties. The Alliance unites the economic with the political struggle, and is backed by the Socialist Labor party. The General Secretary is William L. Brower, 23 Duane Street, New York City.

Labor Legislation.

ANTI-BOYCOTTING AND ANTI-BLACKLISTING LAWS.

The States having laws prohibiting blacklisting in terms are Alabama, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Utah, Virginia, and Wisconsin.

The following States have laws which may be fairly construed as prohibiting boycotting: Alabama, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Vermont, and Wisconsin.

The following States have laws which may be fairly construed as prohibiting blacklisting: Georgia, Michigan, New Hampshire, New York, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, and South Dakota.

In the following States it is unlawful for any employer to exact an agreement, either written or verbal, from an employe not to join or become a member of any labor organization, as a condition of employment: California, Colorado, Idaho, Indiana, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

THE WORLD ALMANAC is indebted to Commissioner Wright, of the U. S. Department of Labor, for the summary of eight hours, anti-boycotting, and anti-blacklisting laws, and the table on the next page, revised to date.

EIGHT-HOUR LAWS.

California.—Eight hours of labor constitute a day's work, unless it is otherwise expressly stipulated by the parties to a contract. The time of service of all laborers, workmen, and mechanics employed upon any public works of, or work done for, the State, or for any political sub-division thereof, whether the work is to be done by contract or otherwise, is limited and restricted to eight hours in any one calendar day, and a stipulation that no workman, laborer, or mechanic in the employ of the contractor or sub-contractor shall be required or permitted to work more than eight hours in any one calendar day, except in cases of extraordinary emergency, shall be contained in every contract to which the State or any political sub-division thereof is a party. In the case of drivers, conductors, and gripmen of street-cars for the carriage of passengers, a day's work consists of twelve hours. Employment of minor children for more than eight hours per day is absolutely prohibited, except in vincticultural or horticultural pursuits, or in domestic or household occupations.

Colorado.—Eight hours constitute a day's work for all workmen employed by the State, or any county, township, school district, municipality, or incorporated town.

Connecticut.—Eight hours of labor constitute a lawful day's work unless otherwise agreed.

District of Columbia.—Eight hours constitute a day's work for all laborers or mechanics employed by or on behalf of the District of Columbia.

Idaho.—Eight hours' actual work constitute a lawful day's work on all State and municipal works.

Illinois.—Eight hours are a legal day's work in all mechanical employments, except on farms, and when otherwise agreed; does not apply to service by the day, week, or month, or prevent contracts for longer hours.

Indiana.—Eight hours of labor constitute a legal day's work for all classes of mechanics, workmen, and laborers, excepting those engaged in agricultural and domestic labor. Overwork by agreement and for extra compensation is permitted. The employment of persons under fourteen years of age for more than eight hours per day is absolutely prohibited.

Kansas.—Eight hours constitute a day's work for all laborers, mechanics, or other persons employed by or on behalf of the State or any county, city, township, or other municipality.

Massachusetts.—Eight hours shall constitute a day's work for all laborers, workmen, and mechanics employed by or on behalf of any city or town in the Commonwealth.

Missouri.—Eight hours constitute a legal day's work. The law does not prevent an agreement to work for a longer or a shorter time and does not apply to laborers and farm hands in the service of farmers or others engaged in agriculture.

Montana.—Eight hours constitute a legal day's work for persons engaged to operate or handle any first-motion or direct-acting hoisting engine, or any geared or indirect-acting hoisting engine at any mine employing fifteen or more men underground when the duties of fireman are performed by the person so engaged; also for any stationary engineer operating a stationary engine developing fifty or more horse-power when such engineer has charge or control of a boiler or boilers in addition to his other duties. The law applies only to such steam plants as are in continuous operation or are operated twenty or more hours in each twenty-four hours, and does not apply to persons running any engine more than eight hours in each twenty-four for the purpose of relieving another employe in case of sickness or other unforeseen cause.

Nebraska.—Eight hours constitute a legal day's work for all classes of mechanics, servants, and laborers, except those engaged in farm or domestic labor.

New Jersey.—Eight hours constitute a day's labor on any day whereon any general or municipal election shall be held.

New York.—Eight hours constitute a day's work for mechanics, workmen, and laborers, except in farm or domestic labor. Overwork for extra pay is permitted, except upon work by or for the State or a municipal corporation, or by contractors or sub-contractors therewith. The law applies to those employed by the State or municipality, or by persons contracting for State work, and each contract to which the State or a municipal corporation is a party shall contain a stipulation that no workman, laborer, or mechanic in the employ of the contractor, sub-contractor, etc., shall be permitted or required to work more than eight hours in any one calendar day, except in cases of extraordinary emergency.

Ohio.—Eight hours shall constitute a day's work in all engagements to labor in any mechanical, manufacturing, or mining business, unless otherwise expressly stipulated in the contract. But in case of conductors, engineers, firemen, or trainmen of railroads, a day's work consists of ten hours.

Pennsylvania.—Eight hours of labor shall be deemed and held to be a legal day's work in all cases of labor and service by the day where there is no agreement or contract to the contrary. This does not apply to farm or agricultural labor by the year, month, or week, to labor in factories, laundries, and renovating establishments, or to labor on street railways.

Eight hours out of the twenty-four shall make and constitute a day's labor in penitentiaries and reformatory institutions receiving support from the State, also for all mechanics, workmen, and laborers in the employ of the State, or of any municipal corporation therein, or otherwise engaged on public works; this shall be deemed to apply to mechanics, workmen, or laborers in the employ of persons contracting with the State or any municipal corporation therein, for the performance of public work.

Utah.—Eight hours constitute a day's work upon all public works and in all underground mines or workings, smelters, and all other institutions for the reduction or refining of ores.

Wisconsin.—In all engagements to labor in any manufacturing or mechanical business, where there is no express contract to the contrary, a day's work shall consist of eight hours; but the law does not apply to contracts for labor by the week, month, or year. In all manufactories, workshops, or other places used for mechanical or manufacturing purposes, the time of labor of children under the age of eighteen, and of women employed therein, shall not exceed eight hours in the day.

Wyoming.—Eight hours' actual work constitute a legal day's work in all mines and public works.

United States.—Eight hours shall constitute a day's work for all laborers, workmen, and mechanics who may be employed by or on behalf of the United States.

(a) Women can vote in school elections. (b) Owners of real estate, one year. (c) Ministers in charge of an organized church and teachers of public schools are entitled to vote after six months' residence in the State. (d) Actual residence in the precinct or district required. (e) Who has paid six months before election any poll-tax then due, and can read and write any section of the State Constitution, or can show that he owns and has paid all taxes due the previous year on property in the State assessed at $300 or more. (f) Or convicted of bribery at election, embezzlement of public funds, treason, felony, and petty larceny, duelists and abettors, unless pardoned by Legislature. (g) Or persons non compos mentis, convicted of bribery or infamous crime, until restored to right to vote, under guardianship. (h) Except Pueblo Indians, if "acequia" officers. (i) Also those who deny the being of Almighty God.

Residents of the District of Columbia never had the right to vote therein for national officers, or on other matters of national concern, after the territory embraced in it was ceded to the United States, and became the seat of the general government. But from 1802 to June 20, 1874, the citizens of Washington, and from January 1, 1790, to said date the citizens of Georgetown, were entitled to vote on municipal subjects and for certain municipal officers. The citizens of the portion of the District outside of Washington and Georgetown were entitled to the privilege of voting on municipal subjects from April 20, 1871, to June 20, 1874, but that suffrage was abolished in the District of Columbia June 20, 1874, by an act of Congress of that date.

Requirements Regarding Registration of Voters.

(Continuation of "Qualifications for Voting," on preceding pages.)

THE registration of voters is required in the States of Alabama, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois (at each Congressional election), Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, North Carolina, Pennsylvania (voter not registered can vote upon proof of residence), South Carolina, Tennessee, Utah, Virginia, and the Territories of Arizona and New Mexico.

In New York it is required in cities and villages containing upward of 5,000 population. Personal appearance not required in towns or villages of less than 5,000 inhabitants.

In Vermont must take freemen's oath before voting first time, no registration required.

In Iowa in cities having 3,500 inhabitants. In Nebraska in cities of over 7,000 inhabitants.

In Kentucky in cities and towns having a population of 3,000 or more, in Kansas in cities of the first and second class, in North Dakota in cities and villages of 1,000 inhabitants and over, in Ohio in cities of first and second class, in Maine in all cities and in towns having 500 or more voters. In Oklahoma Territory in cities of the first class.

In Missouri it is required in cities of 100,000 inhabitants and over, and in Wisconsin in cities of 2,000 inhabitants or more and in townships of 3,000 inhabitants or more.

In Rhode Island non-taxpayers are required to register yearly before December 31. In Texas in cities of 10,000 inhabitants or over. South Dakota has a registration law, but if voter is not registered he may prove qualifications when he offers to vote.

In the State of Washington all voters in all cities and towns and all voting precincts having a voting population of 250 or more must be registered.

The registration of voters is not required in Indiana or New Hampshire. It is prohibited in Arkansas and West Virginia by constitutional provision.

Oregon has a registration law which requires all persons desiring to exercise the right of voting to register with a notary public, justice of the peace, or the county clerk, between the first Monday in January and the fifteenth day of May, 1900, and between those dates biennially thereafter. If elector has not registered he may, by proof of his residence and qualifications upon his own oath and that of six electors who know him, be permitted to vote.

In Wyoming no person can vote without registering. If sick or absent at time of registration, can make proof of fact by two witnesses, and be registered on election day.

Woman Suffrage.

IN 1899 woman suffrage bills were defeated in the Legislatures of Massachusetts, Maine, Connecticut, Vermont, Illinois, Oklahoma, Arizona, Indiana, Missouri, Michigan, and California.

Woman suffrage amendments to the Constitution were defeated by the people in the State elections of 1898 in South Dakota and Washington.

In Colorado, Idaho, Utah, and Wyoming women have full suffrage and vote for all officers, including Presidential electors. The Woman Suffrage law was adopted in Wyoming in 1870, and in Colorado in 1893, and woman suffrage is a constitutional provision in Utah and Wyoming.

In Indiana women may hold any office under the school laws, but cannot vote for any such officer.

In Kansas women exercise the suffrage largely in municipal elections.

In some form, mainly as to taxation or the selection of school officers, woman suffrage exists in a limited way in Arizona, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Vermont, Washington, and Wisconsin.

In many European countries, in Australia and New Zealand in Cape Colony, in Canada, and in parts of India women vote on various terms for municipal or school officers.

In the British House of Lords, June 26, 1899, a bill legalizing the election of women as councillors and aldermen was defeated by a vote of 182 to 68.

The New York State Association Opposed to the Extension of Suffrage to Women is an organization of women having its headquarters in New York. The Executive Committee is as follows: Mrs. Francis M. Scott, Chairman; Miss Eleanor G. Hewitt, Mrs. George White Field, Mrs. Richard Watson Gilder, Mrs. Gilbert E. Jones, Mrs. Elihu Root, Mrs. George Waddington, Mrs. Rossiter Johnson, Mrs. Winfield Moody, Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, and Mrs. George Phillips. Mrs. Phillips is Secretary, 445 West Twenty-first Street, New York, and Mrs. Waddington, Treasurer. There are also societies in Massachusetts (Mrs. Robert W. Lord, Boston, Secretary), Illinois (Mrs. James B. Barnett, Chicago, Secretary), Iowa, and Washington, and others are being organized.

The National Women's Suffrage Association, Miss Susan B. Anthony, President, Mrs. C. Chapman Catt, Chairman of the Committee on Organization; office, Pulitzer Building, New York.

The Life-Saving Service.

THE ocean and lake coasts of the United States are picketed with the stations of the Life-Saving Service attached to the United States Treasury Department. Sumner I. Kimball is general superintendent, with headquarters at Washington, and there is a corps of inspectors, superintendents, station keepers, and crews, extending over the entire coast line, together with a Board on Life-Saving Appliances, composed of experts selected from the Revenue Marine Service, the Army, the Life-Saving Service, and civilians.

At the close of the last fiscal year the life-saving establishment embraced 265 stations, 193 being on the Atlantic coast, 56 on the lakes, 15 on the Pacific coast, and 1 at the falls of the Ohio, Louisville, Ky. In the following table are the statistics of the service:

In addition to the foregoing there were 294 casualties to smaller craft, such as sailboats, row-boats, etc., on which there were 671 persons, of whom 664 were saved and 7 lost. The cost of the maintenance of the service during the year was $1,509,831.01.

Naturalization Laws of the United States.

THE conditions under and the manner in which an alien may be admitted to become a citizen of the United States are prescribed by Sections 2,165-74 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

DECLARATION OF INTENTIONS.

The alien must declare upon oath before a circuit or district court of the United States or a district or supreme court of the Territories, or a court of record of any of the States having common law jurisdiction and a seal and clerk, two years at least prior to his admission, that it is, bona fide, his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince or State, and particularly to the one of which he may be at the time a citizen or subject.

OATH ON APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION.

He must at the time of his application to be admitted declare on oath, before some one of the courts above specified, "that he will support the Constitution of the United States, and that he absolutely and entirely renounces and abjures all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, State, or sovereignty, and particularly, by name, to the prince, potentate, State, or sovereignty of which he was before a citizen or subject," which proceedings must be recorded by the clerk of the court.

CONDITIONS FOR CITIZENSHIP.

If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court to which the alien has applied that he has made a declaration to become a citizen two years before applying for final papers, and has resided continuously within the United States for at least five years, and within the State or Territory where such court is at the time held one year at least; and that during that time "he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same," he will be admitted to citizenship.

TITLES OF NOBILITY.

If the applicant has borne any hereditary title or order of nobility he must make an express renunciation of the same at the time of his application.

SOLDIERS.

Any alien of the age of twenty-one years and upward who has been in the armies of the United States, and has been honorably discharged therefrom, may become a citizen on his petition, without any previous declaration of intention, provided that he has resided in the United States at least one year previous to his application, and is of good moral character. (It is judicially decided that residence of one year in a particular State is not requisite.)

MINORS.

Any alien under the age of twenty-one years who has resided in the United States three years next preceding his arriving at that age, and who has continued to reside therein to the time he may make application to be admitted a citizen thereof, may, after he arrives at the age of twenty-one years, and after he has resided five years within the United States, including the three years of his minority, be admitted a citizen; but he must make a declaration on oath and prove to the satisfaction of the court that for two years next preceding it has been his bona fide intention to become a citizen.

CHILDREN OF NATURALIZED CITIZENS.

The children of persons who have been duly naturalized, being under the age of twenty-one years at the time of the naturalization of their parents, shall, if dwelling in the United States, be considered as citizens thereof.

CITIZENS' CHILDREN WHO ARE BORN ABROAD.

The children of persons who now are or have been citizens of the United States are, though born out of the limits and jurisdiction of the United States, considered as citizens thereof.

CHINESE.

The naturalization of Chinamen is expressly prohibited by Section 14, Chapter 126, Laws of 1882.

PROTECTION ABROAD TO NATURALIZED CITIZENS.

Section 2,000 of the Revised Statutes of the United States declares that "all naturalized citizens of the United States while in foreign countries are entitled to and shall receive from this Government the same protection of persons and property which is accorded to native-born citizens."

THE RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE.

The right to vote comes from the State, and is a State gift. Naturalization is a Federal right and is a gift of the Union, not of any one State. In nearly one-half of the Union aliens (who have declared intentions) vote and have the right to vote equally with naturalized or native-born citizens. In the other half only actual citizens may vote. (See Table of Qualifications for Voting in each State, on another page.) The Federal naturalization laws apply to the whole Union alike, and provide that no alien may be naturalized until after five years' residence. Even after five years' residence and due naturalization he is not entitled to vote unless the laws of the State confer the privilege upon him, and he may vote in several States six months after landing, if he has declared his intention, under United States law, to become a citizen.

Passport Regulations.

RULES governing the granting and issuing of passports in the United States:

1. BY WHOM ISSUED.—No one but the Secretary of State may grant and issue passports in the United States.—Revised Statutes, sec. 4075, 4078.

A citizen of the United States desiring to procure a passport while he is temporarily abroad should apply to the diplomatic representative of the United States in the country where he happens to be; or, in the absence of a diplomatic representative, to the consul-general of the United States; or, in the absence of both, to the consul of the United States. The necessary statement may be made before the nearest consular officer of the United States.

2. TO CITIZENS ONLY.—The law forbids the granting of a passport to any person who is not a citizen of the United States.—Revised Statutes, sec. 4076.

A person who has only made the declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States cannot receive a passport.

3. APPLICATIONS.—A citizen of the United States in this country in order to procure a passport must make a written application, in the form of an affidavit, to the Secretary of State.

The affidavit must be attested by an officer authorized to administer oaths, and if he has an official seal it must be affixed. If he has no seal, his official character must be authenticated by certificate of the proper legal officer.

If the applicant signs by mark, two attesting witnesses to his signature are required.

The applicant is required to state the date and place of his birth, his occupation, and the place of his permanent residence, and to declare that he goes abroad for temporary sojourn and intends to return to the United States with the purpose of residing and performing the duties of citizenship therein.

The applicant must take the oath of allegiance to the Government of the United States.

The application must be accompanied by a description of the person applying, and should state the following particulars, viz.: Age, — years; stature, — feet — inches (English measure); forehead, —; eyes, —; nose, —; mouth, —; chin, —; hair, —; complexion, —; face, —.

The application must be accompanied by a certificate from at least one credible witness that the applicant is the person he represents himself to be, and that the facts stated in the affidavit are true to the best of the witness's knowledge and belief.

4. NATIVE CITIZENS.—An application containing the information indicated by rule 3 will be sufficient evidence in the case of native citizens.

5. A PERSON BORN ABROAD WHOSE FATHER WAS A NATIVE OF THE UNITED STATES.—In addition to the statements required by rule 3, his application must show that his father was born in the United States, has resided therein, and was a citizen at the time of the applicant's birth. The Department may require that this affidavit be supported by that of one other citizen acquainted with the facts.

6. NATURALIZED CITIZENS.—In addition to the statements required by rule 3, a naturalized citizen must transmit his certificate of naturalization, or a duly certified copy of the court record thereof, with his application. It will be returned to him after inspection. He must state in his affidavit when and from what port he emigrated to this country, what ship he sailed in, where he has lived since his arrival in the United States, when and before what court he was naturalized, and that he is the identical person described in the certificate of naturalization. The signature to the application should conform in orthography to the applicant's name as written in the naturalization paper, which the Department follows.

7. THE WIFE OR WIDOW OF A NATURALIZED CITIZEN.—In addition to the statements required by rule 3, she must transmit for inspection her husband's naturalization certificate, must state that she is the wife or widow of the person described therein, and must set forth the facts of his emigration, naturalization, and residence, as required in the rule governing the application of a naturalized citizen.

8. THE CHILD OF A NATURALIZED CITIZEN CLAIMING CITIZENSHIP THROUGH THE NATURALIZATION OF THE FATHER.—In addition to the statements required by rule 3, the applicant must state that he or she is the son or daughter, as the case may be, of the person described in the naturalization certificate, which must be submitted for inspection, and must set forth the facts of his emigration, naturalization, and residence, as required in the rule governing the application of a naturalized citizen.

9. EXPIRATION OF PASSPORT.—A passport expires two years from the date of its issuance. A new one will be issued upon a new application, and if the applicant be a naturalized citizen, the old passport will be accepted in lieu of a naturalized certificate, if the application upon which it was issued is found to contain sufficient information as to the emigration, residence, and naturalization of the applicant.

10. WIFE, MINOR CHILDREN, AND SERVANTS.—When an applicant is accompanied by his wife, minor children, or servant, being an American citizen, it will be sufficient to state the fact, giving the respective ages of the children and the citizenship of the servant, when one passport will suffice for all. For any other person in the party a separate passport will be required. A woman's passport may include her minor children and servant under the above-named conditions.

11. PROFESSIONAL TITLES.—They will not be inserted in passports.

12. FEE.—By act of Congress approved March 23, 1888, a fee of one dollar is required to be collected for every citizen's passport. That amount in currency or postal money order should accompany each application. Orders should be payable to the Disbursing Clerk of the Department of State. Drafts or checks will not be received.

13. BLANK FORMS OF APPLICATION.—They will be furnished by the Department to persons who desire to apply for passports, upon their stating whether they are native or naturalized citizens or claim through the naturalization of husband or father. Forms are not furnished, except as samples, to those who make a business of procuring passports.

14. ADDRESS.—Communications should be addressed to the Department of State, Passport Division, and each communication should give the post-office address of the person to whom the answer is to be directed.

15. REJECTION OF APPLICATION.—The Secretary of State may refuse to issue a passport to any one who, he has reason to believe, desires it for an unlawful or improper purpose, or who is unable or unwilling to comply with the rules.

Section 4075 of the Revised Statutes of the United States providing that "the Secretary of State may grant and issue passports, and cause passports to be granted, issued, and verified in foreign countries by such diplomatic or consular officers of the United States, and under such rules as the President shall designate and prescribe for and on behalf of the United States," the foregoing rules are hereby prescribed for the granting and issuing of passports in the United States.

The Secretary of State is authorized to make regulations on the subject of issuing and granting passports additional to these rules and not inconsistent with them.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Washington, May 21, 1893.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

The United States Board on Geographic Names.

AN EXECUTIVE ORDER issued by President Harrison Sept. 4, 1890, requires that uniform usage in regard to geographic nomenclature and orthography shall obtain throughout the Executive Departments of the Government, and particularly upon maps and charts issued by the various departments and bureaus. To this Board must be referred all unsettled questions concerning geographic names which arise in the departments, and its decisions are to be accepted by the departments as the standard authority in such matters.

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD.

Chairman—Henry Gannett, United States Geological Survey.

Secretary—Marcus Baker, United States Geological Survey.

Andrew H. Allen, Department of State; A. B. Johnson, of the Light-House Board; Commander Joseph E. Craig, Hydrographic Office, Navy Department; A. Von Haake, Post-Office Department; Otis T. Mason, Smithsonian Institution; Herbert G. Ogden, United States Coast and Geodetic Survey; Harry King, General Land Office; Capt. G. W. Goethals, Captain of Engineers, U. S. A.

Constitution of the United States.

Preamble.

WE, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

Legislative powers.

SECTION I. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

House of Representatives.

SECTION II. 1. The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States, and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature.

Qualifications of Representatives.

2. No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Apportionment of Representatives.

3. Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose 3; Massachusetts, 8; Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, 1; Connecticut, 5; New York, 6; New Jersey, 4; Pennsylvania, 8; Delaware, 1; Maryland, 6; Virginia, 10; North Carolina, 5; South Carolina, 5, and Georgia, 3.*

Vacancies, how filled.

4. When vacancies happen in the representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

Officers, how appointed.

5. The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

Senate.

SECTION III. 1. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.

Classification of Senators.

2. Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year, of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year: and if vacancies happen by resignation, or otherwise, during the recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary appointment until the next meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

Qualifications of Senators.

3. No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

President of the Senate.

4. The Vice-President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided.

5. The Senate shall choose their other officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the absence of the Vice-President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

Senate a court for trial of impeachments.

6. The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Judgment in case of conviction.

7. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust, or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment, according to law.

Elections of Senators and Representatives.

SECTION IV. 1. The times, places, and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to places of choosing Senators.

Meeting of Congress.

2. The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

Organization of Congress.

SECTION V. 1. Each House shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as each House may provide.

Rule of proceedings.

2. Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds expel a member.

Journals of each House.

3. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either House on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

Adjournment of Congress.

4. Neither House, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

Pay and privileges of members.

SECTION VI. 1. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either House they shall not be questioned in any other place.

Other officers prohibited.

2. No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either House during his continuance in office.

Revenue bills.

SECTION VII. 1. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives, but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments, as on other bills.

How bills become laws.

2. Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate shall, before it become a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approve, he shall sign it, but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of that House shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of that House it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each House respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their adjournment prevent its return; in which case it shall not be a law.

* See Article XIV., Amendments.

Approval and veto powers of the President. 3. Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States and before the same shall take effect shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be re-passed by two-thirds of the Senate and the House of Representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

Powers vested in Congress. SECTION VIII. 1. The Congress shall have power:
To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defence and general welfare of the United States: but all duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States.

2. To borrow money on the credit of the United States.
3. To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes.
4. To establish an uniform rule of naturalization and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States.

5. To coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures.

6. To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States.

7. To establish post-offices and post-roads.
8. To promote the progress of science and useful arts by securing for limited times to authors and inventors the exclusive rights to their respective writings and discoveries.

9. To constitute tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court.

10. To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offences against the law of nations.

11. To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water.

12. To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years.

13. To provide and maintain a navy.

14. To regulate the government and regulation of the land and naval forces.

15. To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections, and rebel lions.

16. To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress.

17. To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular States and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of Government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the Legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dry-docks, and other needful buildings.

18. To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

Immigrants, how admitted. SECTION IX. 1. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

Habeas corpus. 2. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

Attainder. 3. No bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed.

Direct taxes. 4. No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

Regulations regarding customs duties. 5. No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any State.

6. No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one State over those of another, nor shall vessels bound to or from one State be obliged to enter, clear, or pay duties in another.

Moneys, how drawn. 7. No money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

Titles of nobility prohibited. 8. No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States. And no person holding any office of profit or trust under them shall, without the consent of the Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office, or title of any kind whatever from any king, prince, or foreign state.

Powers of States defined. SECTION X. 1. No State shall enter into any treaty, alliance, or confederation, grant letters of marque and reprisal, coin money, emit bills of credit, make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts, pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or grant any title of nobility.

2. No State shall, without the consent of the Congress, lay any impost or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws, and the net produce of all duties and imposts, laid by any State on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress.

3. No State shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another State, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

Executive power, in whom vested. SECTION I. 1. The Executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the Vice-President, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

Electors. 2. Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but no Senator or Representative or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be appointed an elector.

Proceedings of electors. 3. [The electors shall meet in their respective States and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each, which list they shall sign and certify and transmit, sealed, to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if there be more than one who have such majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately choose by ballot one of them for President.

Proceedings of the House of Representatives. 4. And if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said House shall in like manner choose the President. But in choosing the President, the vote shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote. A quorum, for this purpose, shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the President, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors shall be the Vice-President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the Senate shall choose from them by ballot the Vice-President.*

Time of choosing electors. 5. The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors and the day on which they shall give their votes, which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

* This clause is superseded by Article XII., Amendments.

- Qualifications of the President. 5. No person except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.
- Provision in case of his disability. 6. In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President, and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability, both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what officer shall then act as President, and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability be removed or a President shall be elected.
- Salary of the President. 7. The President shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.
- Oath of the President. 8. Before he enter on the execution of his office he shall take the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States."
- Duties of the President. SECTION II. 1. The President shall be Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several States when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer on each of the executive departments upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offences against the United States except in cases of impeachment.
2. He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law; but the Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper in the President alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments.
3. The President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate by granting commissions, which shall expire at the end of their next session.
- May make treaties, appoint ambassadors, judges, etc. 2. He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law; but the Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper in the President alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments.
- May fill vacancies. 3. The President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate by granting commissions, which shall expire at the end of their next session.
- May make recommendations to and convene Congress. SECTION III. He shall from time to time give to the Congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in case of disagreement between them with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all the officers of the United States.
- How officers may be removed. SECTION IV. The President, Vice-President, and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for and conviction of treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

- Judicial power, how invested. SECTION I. The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges, both of the Supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall at stated times receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.
- To what cases it extends. SECTION II. 1. The judicial power shall extend to all cases in law and equity arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made, or which shall be made, under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more States, between a State and citizens of another State, between citizens of different States, between citizens of the same State claiming lands under grants of different States, and between a State, or the citizens thereof, and foreign States, citizens, or subjects.
- Jurisdiction of the Supreme Court. 2. In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls, and those in which a State shall be a party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before-mentioned the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the Congress shall make.
- Rules respecting trials. 3. The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury, and such trial shall be held in the State where the said crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State the trial shall be at such place or places as the Congress may by law have directed.
- Treason defined. SECTION III. 1. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.
- How punished. 2. The Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture except during the life of the person attained.

ARTICLE IV.

- Rights of States and records. SECTION I. Full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general laws prescribe the manner in which such acts, records, and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.
- Privileges of citizens. SECTION II. 1. The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States.
- Executive requisitions. 2. A person charged in any State with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice, and be found in another State, shall on demand of the Executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime.
- Laws regulating service or labor. 3. No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.
- New States, how formed and admitted. SECTION III. 1. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other State, nor any State be formed by the junction of two or more States, or parts of States, without the consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned, as well as of the Congress.
- Power of Congress over public lands. 2. The Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States, or of any particular State.
- Republican government guaranteed. SECTION IV. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, and, on application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

- Constitution, how amended. The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the Legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, when ratified by three-fourths of the several States, or by three-fourths of the members of the convention, provided that no State, without its consent, shall be deprived or its equal suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI.

- Validity of debts recognized. 1. All debts contracted and engagements entered into before the adoption of this Constitution shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution as under the Confederation.

- Supreme law of the land defined. 2. This Constitution and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land, and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby; anything in the Constitutions or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.
- Oath; of whom required and for what. 3. The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

- Ratification of the Constitution. The ratification of the Conventions of nine States shall be sufficient for the establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the same.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.

- Religion and free speech. Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

ARTICLE II.

- Right to bear arms. A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

ARTICLE III.

- Soldiers in time of peace. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV.

- Right of search. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V.

- Capital crimes and arrest thereof. No person shall be held to answer for a capital or other infamous crime unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.

ARTICLE VI.

- Right to speedy trial. In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained: by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defence.

ARTICLE VII.

- Trial by jury. In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States than according to the rules of the common law.

ARTICLE VIII.

- Excessive bail. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

ARTICLE IX.

- Enumeration of rights. The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

ARTICLE X.

- Reserved rights of States. The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

ARTICLE XI.

- Judicial power. The judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States, by citizens of another State, or by citizens or subjects of any foreign State.

ARTICLE XII.

- Electors in Presidential elections. The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves: they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President; and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate; the President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted: the person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three, on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President, whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.

ARTICLE XIII.

- Slavery prohibited. 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.
2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES—Continued.

ARTICLE XIV.

- Protection for all citizens. 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.
- Appointment of Representatives. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male members of such State, being of twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.
- Rebellion against the United States. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or holding any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.
- The public debt. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection and rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations, and claims shall be held illegal and void.
5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE XV.

- Right of suffrage. 1. The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.
2. The Congress shall have power to enforce the provisions of this article by appropriate legislation.

* Jackson called himself a South Carolinian and his biographer, Kendall, recorded his birthplace in Lancaster County, S. C. but Parton has published documentary evidence to show that Jackson was born in Union County, N. C. less than a quarter mile from the South Carolina line. † The Democratic party of to-day claims lineal descent from the first Republican party and President Jefferson as its founder. ‡ Political parties were disorganized at the time of the election of John Quincy Adams. He claimed to be a Republican, but his doctrines were decidedly Federalistic. The opposition to his Administration took the name of Democrats and elected Jackson President.

More details of the lives of the Presidents were given in THE WORLD ALMANAC for 1897, pages 116 and 117.

The Presidential Succession.

THE Presidential succession is fixed by chapter 4 of the acts of the Forty-ninth Congress, first session. In case of the removal, death, resignation, or inability of both the President and Vice-President, then the Secretary of State shall act as President until the disability of the President or Vice-President is removed or a President is elected. If there be no Secretary of State, then the Secretary of the Treasury will act; and the remainder of the order of succession is as follows: The Secretary of War, Attorney-General, Postmaster-General, Secretary of the Navy, and Secretary of the Interior. The acting President must, upon taking office, convene Congress, if not at the time in session, in extraordinary session, giving twenty days' notice. This act applies only to such Cabinet officers as shall have been appointed by the advice and consent of the Senate, and are eligible under the Constitution to the Presidency.

Centennial of the Founding of the City of Washington.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY'S annual message to Congress December 5, 1898, had the following: "In the year 1900 will occur the centennial anniversary of the founding of the city of Washington for the permanent capital of the Government of the United States by authority of an act of Congress, approved July 16, 1790. In May, 1800, the archives and general offices of the Federal Government were removed to this place. On the 17th of November, 1800, the National Congress met here for the first time, and assumed exclusive control of the federal district and city. This interesting event assumes all the more significance when we recall the circumstances attending the choosing of the site, the naming of the capital in honor of the father of his country, and the interest taken by him in the adoption of plans for its future development on a magnificent scale.

"A movement lately inaugurated by the citizens to have the anniversary celebrated with fitting ceremonies, including, perhaps, the establishment of a handsome permanent memorial to mark so historical an occasion, and to give it more than local recognition, has met with general favor on the part of the public.

"I recommend to the Congress the granting of an appropriation for this purpose, and the appointment of a committee from its respective bodies. It might also be advisable to authorize the President to appoint a committee from the country at large which, acting with the Congressional and District of Columbia Committees, can complete the plans for an appropriate national celebration."

An appropriate action was taken by the Fifty-fifth Congress at its third session. See "Acts of the Fifty-fifth Congress."

Estimated Wealth of the United States.

SPECIAL AGENT J. K. UPTON, of the Eleventh Census, prepared the following estimate of the true valuation of all property in the United States in 1890:

The total true valuation of the real and personal property in the country at the close of the census period 1890 amounted to $65,037,091,197, of which amount $39,544,544,333 represents the value of real estate and improvements thereon and $25,492,546,864 that of personal property, including railroads, mines, and quarries. At the same time the total assessed value of real and personal property taxed was $25,473,173,413, of which amount $18,956,556,675 represented real estate and improvements thereon and $6,516,616,743 personal property.

The true valuation is what would be deemed a fair selling price for the property, and is thus termed in distinction from the assessed valuation, which is a value placed upon certain taxable property for taxation purposes only. The true valuation of property for 1890 is classified as follows

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
| Real estate, with improvements thereon                             | $39,544,544,333 |
| Live stock on farms and ranges, farm implements, and machinery     | 2,703,015,040    |
| Mines and quarries, including product on hand                      | 1,291,291,579    |
| Gold and silver coin and bullion                                   | 1,158,774,948    |
| Machinery of mills and product on hand, raw and manufactured       | 3,058,583,441    |
| Railroads and equipments, including $283,898,519 street railroads | 8,685,407,323    |
| Telegraphs, telephones, shipping, and canals                       | 701,755,712      |
| Miscellaneous  | 7,893,708,821    |
| Total  | $65,037,091,197 |

The estimated increase of wealth from 1880 to 1890 by Special Agent Upton was 49 per cent. A proportionate increase from 1890 to 1900 would indicate wealth of nearly $100,000,000,000 at the beginning of the twentieth century.

Patent Office Procedure.

THE following statement has been revised by the Patent Office for THE WORLD ALMANAC FOR 1900: Patents are issued in the name of the United States, and under the seal of the Patent Office, to any person who has invented or discovered any new and useful art, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter or any new and useful improvement thereof, not known or used by others in this country before his invention or discovery thereof and not patented or described in any printed publication in this or any foreign country, before his invention or discovery thereof or more than two years prior to his application, and not in public use or on sale in the United States for more than two years prior to his application, unless the same is proved to have been abandoned; and by any person who, by his own industry, genius, efforts, and expense, has invented and produced any new and original design for a manufacture, bust, statue, alto-relievo, or bas-relief; any new and original design for the printing of woollen, silk, cotton, or other fabrics; any new and original impression, ornament, pattern, print, or picture to be printed, painted, cast, or otherwise placed on or worked into any article of manufacture; or any new, useful, and original shape or configuration of any article of manufacture, the same not having been known nor used by others before his invention or production thereof, nor patented nor described in any printed publication, upon payment of the fees required by law and other due proceedings had.

Every patent contains a grant to the patentee, his heirs or assigns, for the term of seventeen years, of the exclusive right to make, use, and vend the invention or discovery throughout the United States and the Territories, referring to the specification for the particulars thereof.

If it appear that the inventor, at the time of making his application, believed himself to be the first inventor or discoverer, a patent will not be refused on account of the invention or discovery, or any part thereof, having been known or used in any foreign country before his invention or discovery thereof, if it had not been before patented or described in any printed publication.

Joint inventors are entitled to a joint patent; neither can claim one separately. Independent inventors of distinct and independent improvements in the same machine cannot obtain a joint patent for their separate inventions; nor does the fact that one furnishes the capital and another makes the invention entitle them to make application as joint inventors; but in such case they may become joint patentees.

No person otherwise entitled thereto will be debarred from receiving a patent for his invention or discovery, by reason of its having been first patented or caused to be patented by the inventor or his legal representatives or assigns in a foreign country, unless the application for said foreign patent was filed more than seven months prior to the filing of the application in this country, in which case no patent shall be granted in this country.

APPLICATIONS.

Applications for a patent must be made in writing to the Commissioner of Patents. The applicant must also file in the Patent Office a written description of the same, and of the manner and process of making, constructing, compounding, and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art or science to which it appertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make, construct, compound, and use the same; and in case of a machine, he must explain the principle thereof, and the best mode in which he has contemplated applying that principle, so as to distinguish it from other inventions, and particularly point out and distinctly claim the part, improvement, or combination which he claims as his invention or discovery. The specification and claim must be signed by the inventor and attested by two witnesses.

When the nature of the case admits of drawings, the applicant must furnish a drawing of the required size, signed by the inventor or his attorney in fact, and attested by two witnesses. In all cases which admit of representation by model, the applicant, if required by the Patent Office, shall furnish a model of convenient size to exhibit advantageously the several parts of his invention or discovery.

The applicant shall make oath that he verily believes himself to be the original and first inventor or discoverer of the art, machine, manufacture, composition, or improvement for which he solicits a patent; that he does not know and does not believe that the same was ever before known or used, and shall state of what country he is a citizen and where he resides. In every original application the applicant must distinctly state under oath that the invention has not been patented to himself or to others with his knowledge or consent in this or any foreign country for more than two years prior to his application, or on an application for a patent filed in any foreign country by himself or his legal representatives or assigns more than seven months prior to his application. If any application for patent has been filed in any foreign country by the applicant in this country or by his legal representatives or assigns, prior to his application in this country, he shall state the country or countries in which such application has been filed, giving the date of such application, and shall also state that no application has been filed in any other country or countries than those mentioned; that to the best of his knowledge and belief the invention has not been in public use or on sale in the United States nor described in any printed publication or patent in this or any foreign country for more than two years prior to his application in this country. Such oath may be made before any person within the United States authorized by law to administer oaths, or, when the applicant resides in a foreign country, before any minister, chargé d'affaires, consul, or commercial agent holding commission under the Government of the United States, or before any notary public of the foreign country in which the applicant may be, provided such notary is authorized by the laws of his country to administer oaths.

On the filing of such application and the payment of the fees required by law, if, on examination, it appears that the applicant is justly entitled to a patent under the law, and that the same is sufficiently useful and important, the Commissioner will issue a patent therefor.

Every patent or any interest therein shall be assignable in law by an instrument in writing; and the patentee or his assigns or legal representatives may, in like manner, grant and convey an exclusive right under his patent to the whole or any specified part of the United States.

REISSUES.

A reissue is granted to the original patentee, his legal representatives, or the assignees of the entire interest when, by reason of a defective or insufficient specification, or by reason of the patentee claiming as his invention or discovery more than he had a right to claim as new, the original patent is inoperative or invalid, provided the error has arisen from inadvertence, accident, or mistake, and without any fraudulent or deceptive intention. Reissue applications must be made and the specifications sworn to by the inventors, if they be living.

CAVEATS.

A caveat, under the patent law, is a notice given to the office of the caveator's claim as inventor, in order to prevent the grant of a patent to another for the same alleged invention upon an application filed during the life of a caveat without notice to the caveator.

Any citizen of the United States who has made a new invention or discovery, and desires further time to mature the same, may, on payment of a fee of ten dollars, file in the Patent Office a caveat setting forth the object and the distinguishing characteristics of the invention, and praying protection of his right until he shall have matured his invention. Such caveat shall be filed in the confidential archives of the office and preserved in secrecy, and shall be operative for the term of one year from the filing thereof. The caveat may be renewed, on request in writing, by the payment of a second fee of ten dollars, and it will continue in force for one year from the payment of such second fee.

The caveat must comprise a specification, oath, and, when the nature of the case admits of it, a drawing, and, like the application, must be limited to a single invention or improvement.

FEES.

Fees must be paid in advance, and are as follows: On filing each original application for a patent, $15. On issuing each original patent, $20. In design cases: For three years and six months, $10; for seven years, $15; for fourteen years, $30. On filing each caveat, $10. On every application for the reissue of a patent, $30. On filing each disclaimer, $10. For certified copies of patents and other papers in manuscript, ten cents per hundred words; for certified copies of printed patents, eighty cents. For uncertified printed copies of specifications and drawings of patents, for single copies, or any number of unclassified copies, five cents each; for copies by subclasses, three cents each; by classes, two cents each, and for the entire set of patents issued, in one order, one cent each. For recording every assignment, agreement, power of attorney, or other paper, of three hundred words or under, $1; of over three hundred and under one thousand words, $2; of over one thousand words, $3. For copies of drawings, the reasonable cost of making them. The Patent Office is prepared to furnish positive blue-print photographic copies of any drawing, foreign or domestic, in the possession of the office, in sizes and at rates as follows: Large size, 10x15 inches, twenty-five cents; medium size, 7x11 inches, fifteen cents; small size, 5x8 inches, five cents. An order for small-sized copies can be filled only when it relates to the drawings of an application for patent.

PATENT OFFICE STATISTICS.

The receipts of the Patent Office during the year ending December 31, 1898, were $1,137,734.48, and expenditures, $1,136,196.20. Receipts over expenditures, $1,538.28.

* The unreserved lands in Alaska are mostly unsurveyed and unappropriated.
 † This aggregate is exclusive of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Iowa, in which, if any public land remains, it consists of a few small isolated tracts. It is also exclusive of military and Indian reservations, reservoir sites, and timber reservations, and tracts covered by selections, filings, railroad grants, and claims as yet unadjudicated, a part of which may in the future be added to the public domain.

The receipts of the General Land Office in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1899, were: From disposal of public land, $2,594,600; disposal of Indian land, $442,914; depredations on public land, $15,050; sales of timber (act March 3, 1891), $3,065; sales of timber (act June 4, 1897), $1,499; sales of Government property, $1,972; for furnishing of records and plats, $10,947; from fees and commissions, $890,702. Total cash receipts, $3,070,137.

Railroads during the fiscal year selected 754,002.37 acres, and State selections were 1,354,185.62 acres.

The Yellowstone National Park.

THE reservation known as the Yellowstone National Park, set apart for public uses by an act of Congress passed in 1872, covers a tract of about sixty-five miles in length, from north to south, and about fifty-five miles in width, from east to west, lying chiefly in Northwestern Wyoming, and overlapping, to a small extent, the boundaries of Montana, on the north, and Idaho, on the west. This gives an area of 3,312 square miles, a tract that is nearly the area of the States of Rhode Island and Delaware combined, and nearly half as large as the State of Massachusetts. The Rocky Mountain chain crosses the southwestern portion in an irregular line, leaving by far the greater expanse on the eastern side. The least elevation of any of the narrow valleys is 6,000 feet, and some of them are from 1,000 to 2,000 feet higher. The mountain ranges which hem in these valleys are from 10,000 to upward of 11,000 feet in height, Electric Peak (in the northwest corner of the park, not far back of Mammoth Hot Springs) having an elevation of 11,155 feet, and Mount Langford and Turret Mountain (both in the Yellowstone Range) reaching the height of 11,155 and 11,142 feet respectively.

The oldest pensioner on the rolls June 30, 1899, was Hiram Cronk, aged 99 years.

WIDOWS OF REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS ON PENSION ROLLS JUNE 30, 1899.

| NAME OF WIDOW.       | Age. | Name of Soldier.    | Service of Soldier.     | Widow's Residence.  |
|----------------------|------|---------------------|-------------------------|---------------------|

| Snead, Mary.....     | 83   | Snead, Bowdoin..... | Virginia troops.....    | Parksley, Va.       |

It will be seen that it is possible that the widow of a Revolutionary soldier may be drawing a pension in the year 1916. For a similar reason the widow of a veteran of the late Civil War may be living in 2002, and of the war with Spain in 2050.

a Associations not reporting, local 1,503, national 66, total 1,569. b Associations not reporting local 38, national 4, total 42. c Associations not reporting, local 69, national 4, total 73. d Associations not reporting, local 18, national 4, total 22. e Based on 5,535 local associations, 226 national associations, total 5,761. f Based on 2,128 local associations, 45 national associations, total 2,173. g Associations not reporting, local 1,326, national 68, total 1,394.

One of the most interesting facts shown by the report relates to the age of the associations. While building and loan associations had their birth in the decade of years from 1840 to 1850 with perhaps here and there one prior to the first date named, the report shows that the average age of all the associations is but 6.2 years, the local associations having an average age of 6.3 years, and the nationals an average of only 2.5. Of the locals 2,394 are under 5 years of age, 2,163 are 5 years or under 10 years of age, and 589 are 10 years or under 15 years of age, making a total of 5,146 associations out of the whole number under 15 years of age. There are but 433 over 15 years of age. These figures certainly show that the building and loan associations of the country are entirely modern institutions and have reached their great proportions during the last ten or fifteen years. This, in connection with the fact that they have net assets of over $450,000,000 have made total profits of more than $80,000,000, have helped to secure probably over 400,000 homes and are semi banking institutions conducted by ordinary men not trained as bankers, but yet have met with remarkably few losses, shows conclusively the strong hold which building and loan associations have taken upon the public.—Commissioner Wright.

SOURCES OF GOLD AND SILVER PRODUCT OF THE UNITED STATES.

In answer to the many interrogatories received by the Bureau of the Mint relative to the sources of the production of the precious metals in the United States, the following table, compiled from reports made by the mint officers and agents, as to the sources of production for the calendar year 1893, shows the distribution among the various gold and silver producing States and Territories of the amount of gold and silver extracted from quartz, the amount of gold obtained from placer, and the amount of silver obtained from lead ores and copper ores as by-products.

* Estimated. † Lead and copper ores.

It would appear from the above that less than one-third of the silver product of the United States is derived from mines producing silver ores proper, and that considerably more than two-thirds of the entire silver output of the United States is a product from the smelting of lead and copper ores, although this product is frequently more valuable than the other metals contained.

The computation of the savings deposits of the world shows that they amount to the enormous sum of nearly seven billions of dollars. The depositors in the savings banks of the world, therefore, would now be capable of advancing the amount of the war indemnity which France paid to Germany after 1870 seven times over. The depositors of the United States alone could cover the amount nearly twice over, and those of France, Prussia, and Great Britain could almost cover it from the deposits of either country alone. The Empire of Austria-Hungary ranks third in the amount of savings deposits and fourth in the amount per capita, but the figures for the two divisions of the Empire are separated in the table. These figures cover the deposits of all savings banks in the countries named—the private and stock savings banks as well as the government banks—but they do not include the great deposits in the commercial banks. The figures are made up by the Bureau of Statistics from material taken from the reports of the Comptroller of the Currency.—Journal of Commerce.

The Bankruptcy Law.

EXTRACTS FROM THE UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY ACT OF JULY 1, 1898.

SEC. 4. WHO MAY BECOME BANKRUPTS. —(a) Any person who owes debts, except a corporation, shall be entitled to the benefits of this act as a voluntary bankrupt.

(b) Any natural person (except a wage-earner or a person engaged chiefly in farming or the tillage of the soil), any unincorporated company, and any corporation engaged principally in manufacturing, trading, printing, publishing, or mercantile pursuits, owing debts to the amount of one thousand dollars or over, may be adjudged an involuntary bankrupt upon default or an impartial trial, and shall be subject to the provisions and entitled to the benefits of this act. Private bankers, but not national banks or banks incorporated under State or Territorial laws, may be adjudged involuntary bankrupts.

SEC. 7. DUTIES OF BANKRUPTS. —(a) The bankrupt shall (1) attend the first meeting of his creditors, if directed by the court or a judge thereof to do so, and the hearing upon his application for a discharge, if filed; (2) comply with all lawful orders of the court; (3) examine the correctness of all proofs of claims filed against his estate; (4) execute and deliver such papers as shall be ordered by the court; (5) execute to his trustee transfers of all his property in foreign countries; (6) immediately inform his trustee of any attempt, by his creditors or other persons, to evade the provisions of this act, coming to his knowledge; (7) in case of any person having to his knowledge proved a false claim against his estate, disclose that fact immediately to his trustee; (8) prepare, make oath to, and file in court within ten days, unless further time is granted, after the adjudication if an involuntary bankrupt, and with the petition if a voluntary bankrupt, a schedule of his property, showing the amount and kind of property, the location thereof, its money value in detail, and a list of his creditors, showing their residences, if known (if unknown that fact to be stated), the amount due each of them, the consideration thereof, the security held by them, if any, and a claim for such exemptions as he may be entitled to, all in triplicate, one copy of each for the clerk, one for the referee, and one for the trustee; and (9) when present at the first meeting of his creditors, and at such other times as the court shall order, submit to an examination concerning the conducting of his business, the cause of his bankruptcy, his dealings with his creditors and other persons, the amount, kind, and whereabouts of his property, and, in addition, all matters which may affect the administration and settlement of his estate; but no testimony given by him shall be offered in evidence against him in any criminal proceedings.

Provided, however, that he shall not be required to attend a meeting of his creditors, or at or for an examination at a place more than one hundred and fifty miles distant from his home or principal place of business, or to examine claims except when presented to him, unless ordered by the court, or a judge thereof, for cause shown, and the bankrupt shall be paid his actual expenses from the estate when examined or required to attend at any place other than the city, town, or village of his residence.

* Including industrial policies. † According to the report made at the annual meeting of Mutual Benefit Life Associations, at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., June, 1897. It includes the returns of the fraternal orders, and is the latest. There were no returns made since that time, and the assessment business has meanwhile materially declined.

The returns of life insurance in the first and third tables are from "The Insurance Year-Book," published by The Spectator Company.

* Annual statements of the fire insurance companies are rendered to the insurance departments during the month of January; therefore the statistics of condition in 1899 were not ready when this publication went to press.

† The New York law requires a deposit of $200,000 from foreign companies with the insurance department. This is treated by the department as "deposit capital," and the surplus stated in the next column is "surplus beyond deposit capital" and other liabilities.

American sailing ship A. G. Ropes arrived off Sandy Hook March 21, 1898, in 19 days from Liverpool, Eng., having made the trip from Cape Clear (Irish coast) to Sandy Hook (2,700 knots) in 17 days, an average of nearly 160 knots a day. Most transatlantic records of sailing vessels are from New York to Liverpool or Queenstown. There is no record on file from Liverpool to New York, excepting that of the Young America, which made the trip to Liverpool in 18 days and came back in 13 days. The famous Dreadnaught once sailed to Liverpool from New York in 13 days 8 hours, and the Red Jacket in 13 days 11 hours 25 minutes.

United States Forestry Statistics.

FOREST AREA.

The total forest area in the United States is estimated at 1,094,514 square miles, or about 699,500,000 acres, which is 36½ per cent of the total land area, Alaska not included.—Gannett.

The total annual consumption of manufactured forest products in the United States, according to the figures of the Census of 1890, is more than 18,000,000,000 cubic feet, divided approximately as follows: Lumber market and manufactures, 2,250,000,000 cubic feet; fuel, 15,000,000,000 cubic feet; railroad ties, 27,000,000 cubic feet; fencing, 30,000,000 cubic feet; other items, 1,000,000,000 cubic feet. The amount of cubic feet of standing timber necessary to produce these quantities of usable material is immensely greater, probably almost double. The value of the annual products of our forests was estimated by the Census of 1890 at $1,038,616,947.

At the present rate of cutting the forest land of the United States cannot long meet the enormous demand made upon it. By far the greater part of the white pine has been cut, and vast inroads have been made into the supply of other valuable timbers. In many sections of the country more timber falls by fire than by the axe. The average annual loss from fire is probably not less than $20,000,000.

FOREST PRESERVATION.

For the preservation of the forests, the State of New York first instituted a Forest Commission in 1885. Several radical changes have been made in the law, which now provides for a "Commission of Fisheries, Game, and Forests," to which is delegated the enforcement of the fish and game laws, the care of the Adirondack Park, and the State Forest Preserve. The Legislature of 1897 authorized the purchase of lands in the Adirondacks as an addition to the Park and Forest Reserve to the amount of $1,000,000, to which $500,000 in 1898 and $300,000 in 1899 have since been added. A State College of Forestry has been opened at Cornell University, and has charge of 30,000 acres of State land as a demonstration forest in the Adirondacks. Better methods of handling spruce lands have been introduced on 100,000 acres of private forests, under the direction of the Division of Forestry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. The States of Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Maine, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin also have special commissions under their forestry laws. The Pennsylvania Legislature of 1897 provided for the purchase of three forest reserves of not less than 40,000 acres each, and the Wisconsin Assembly appointed a commission to formulate and recommend forest legislation. Minnesota has probably the best forest fire law of any State, with a Chief Fire Warden as executive officer. In New Jersey and North Carolina the Geological Survey is specially charged with forest interests.

A national organization known as the American Forestry Association, composed of delegates from the States, meets annually. F. H. Newell, Washington, D. C., is Corresponding Secretary. Local or State Associations have been formed in California, Connecticut, Colorado, Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Indiana, North Carolina, South Carolina, Washington, Minnesota, Texas, Utah, North Dakota, Wisconsin, and New Jersey.

By act of March 3, 1891, the President is authorized to make public forest reservations. Seventeen such, comprising 17,968,440 acres, were established in Colorado, New Mexico, California, Arizona, Wyoming, Oregon, and Washington, previous to 1897. On February 22, 1897, President Cleveland proclaimed 13 additional reserves, with a total area of 25,683,840 acres.

These reservations were made upon the recommendation of a committee of the National Academy of Sciences after thoroughly investigating the subject at the request of the President. The Sundry Civil bill which passed Congress June 4, 1897, temporarily suspended the reservations of February 22, until the act of March 1, 1898, ordered their survey by the Director of the Geological Survey, and appropriated $150,000 therefor. The bill provides that lands more suitable for agriculture than for forestry shall be permanently restored to the public domain. It also authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to formulate such rules and regulations for the care and management of the forest reservations as may in his judgment be necessary. Since its passage extensive additional areas have been reserved in Arizona, New Mexico, South Dakota, Montana, Utah, Wyoming, and California, and the attitude of the West toward the reserves has radically changed for the better. The total area of the forest reservations is now 46,425,527 acres.

ARBOR DAY.

The individual States have striven to encourage tree-planting by appointing a certain day in the year, to be known as Arbor Day, for the voluntary planting of trees by the people. The following States and Territories have since then, by legislative enactment or otherwise, established an annual Arbor Day: Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming—44 in all; in twenty-one States, by act of legislature; in six States, as legal holidays; in five as holidays for schools. (See Legal Holidays.)

State Flowers.

The following are "State Flowers," as adopted in most instances by the votes of the public school scholars of the respective States:

In other States the scholars or State Legislatures have not yet taken action. In Illinois in the vote on the leading State flower by the pupils of the schools the Rose, Violet, and Golden Rod received the largest number of votes, in the order named, although no State flower was adopted. In Massachusetts the Trailing Arbutus and the Blue Flag were strongly urged, but no flower was adopted. In Tennessee the Golden Rod is advocated. In Kansas the Sunflower is usually known as the State flower.

* Adopted by State Legislature, not by public school scholars.

WINE Production of the World.

THE following table shows estimates of wine production by the principal wine-producing countries of the world in 1891 and 1897, the authority for the first estimate being Consul Chancellor, of Havre, in the United States Consular report for September, 1896; the second by the French publication the Moniteur Vinicole:

The percentage as above indicated is by volume. "Proof spirit" contains 49.24 per cent by weight, or 57.06 per cent by volume, of absolute alcohol.

Mulhall gives the average percentage of alcohol in Burton's ale as 8.2; Bass' ale, 8.4; Edinburgh ale, 4.4; Guinness' ale, 6.8; London porter, 4.1; London beer, 3.0; lager beer, 3.2.

Tea and Coffee.

TEA.

THE production of tea in 1883, by countries, according to Mulhall (his latest estimate), was in pounds: China, 290,000,000; India, 90,000,000; Japan, 40,000,000; Ceylon, 19,000,000; Paraguay, 10,000,000; Java, 7,000,000.

The consumption of tea was estimated by the same authority for 1892 as follows, in pounds: Great Britain and Ireland, 201,000,000; United States, 85,000,000; Russia, 71,000,000; Canada, 20,000,000; Australia, 28,000,000; various other countries, 21,000,000.

The importation of tea into the United States in the fiscal year of 1893 was 68,773,361 pounds, valued at $9,715,136.

COFFEE.

THE total production of coffee in 1898-99, according to Dunning & Toon, cited in the United States consular reports, was, in bags of 132 pounds: Brazil (Rio, 3,000,000; Santos, 5,000,000; Victoria, Bahia, and Ceara, 720,000), 8,720,000; Central America, 1,022,000; Venezuela, 900,000; Hayti, 485,000; Mexico, 325,000; Ceylon and British India, 267,000; Java, 244,000; Porto Rico, 260,000; British West Indies, 100,000.

The consumption by countries, according to Mulhall, was in 1897, in tons: United States, 320,000; Great Britain, 12,000; France, 77,000; Germany, 136,000; Belgium, 25,000; Austria, 40,000; Italy, 13,000. The remainder was consumed by the countries in which it was grown.

The importation of coffee into the United States in 1899 was 836,693,053 pounds, valued at $55,286,430.

The English are the greatest tea drinkers among western nations, the Americans the greatest coffee drinkers.

* Production is for calendar year preceding the fiscal year. † Residuum—tar, pitch, and all other from which the light bodies have been distilled. In 1898 this amounted to 19,973,604 gallons.

The above is compiled from the Report of the Bureau of Statistics of the Treasury Department. Over 5,000,000,000 gallons of petroleum, according to the Treasury Bureau of Statistics, are now produced annually in the world. Of this amount 2,500,000,000 are produced in the United States, 2,250,000,000 in Russia, and the remainder is distributed among a dozen countries, Austria producing 87,000,000; Sumatra, 72,000,000; Java, 30,000,000; Canada, 29,000,000.

Production of Copper, Tin, and Zinc.

COMPILED FOR THE WORLD ALMANAC BY R. P. ROTHWELL, C. E., M. E., F. S. S., editor of "The Mineral Industry."

The production of copper in the world in 1898, stated in long tons, was as follows: United States, 239,241; Spain and Portugal, 53,225; Chile, 24,850; Japan, 25,175; Germany, 20,085; Mexico, 15,668; Australasia, 18,000; South Africa, 7,060; other countries, 21,025; total, 434,329 tons.

The copper production of the United States in 1898, in pounds, was distributed as follows: Arizona, 110,823,864; California, 21,543,229; Colorado, 10,870,869; Michigan, 156,669,098; Montana, 216,979,334; Utah, 5,385,246; Eastern and Southern States, 4,478,218; all others, 2,134,999; copper in sulphate (b), 7,015,375; total, 535,900,232. (b) Including only the copper in sulphate obtained as a by-product.

The production of tin in the world in 1898, in long tons, was as follows: England, 4,200; Straits Settlements, 45,001; Australasia, 3,220; Banka, Billiton, and Singkep, 14,580; Bolivia, 4,464; Austria (c), 49; Germany (c), 935; Japan (c), 39; Mexico (c), 6; Portugal, 70; Russia (c), 5; total, 73,268. (c) Estimated.

The production of zinc in the world in 1898, in metric tons, was as follows: Austria, 7,229; Belgium, Holland, and the Rhine district of Germany, 191,836; Upper Silesia, 99,232; France and Spain, 32,649; England, 27,625; Russia, 5,664; United States, 103,514; total, 467,749.

(a) Except where otherwise specified. (b) Not enumerated. (c) Amount or value of crude mineral. (d) Partly estimated. (e) Estimated. (f) Amount recovered as a by-product. (g) Barrels of 300 lbs. (h) Barrels of 490 lbs. (i) Includes manganeseiferous iron ores; this is not duplicated in the report of iron ore. (j) Value per square, i. e. 100 sq. ft., lapped and laid; the weights are calculated on the basis 3 squares = 2,000 lbs., but these figures are only approximately correct. (k) Kilograms per kilogram. (l) Reduced to a basis of 66° B. (m) Average market price at New York. (n) Nominal. (o) Value before grinding. (p) Includes ochre, amber, sienna, and oxide of iron. (q) Includes salt used for the manufacture of alkali; the barrel of salt weighs 250 lbs. (r) Reduced to a basis of 58 per cent ash. (s) Includes a small amount made from spelter. (t) Average value of lake copper at New York, less 0.25c. per lb. (u) Includes spiegelene, though the total value is reckoned as if the whole product were ferromanganese. (v) Average market price at Pittsburgh. (w) Troy oz. (x) Flasks of 76.5 lbs. (y) Barrels of 42 gals. (z) Includes a comparatively small amount made directly from ores. (aa) Not included in the preceding tables.

Abbreviations: Sh. T., short tons (2,000 lbs.); L. T., long tons (2,240 lbs.); M. T., metric tons (2,204.6 lbs.).

The foregoing statistics of "Mineral Products of the United States," and the table which follows of "Coal Production in the United States," were compiled by R. P. Rothwell, C. E., M. E., editor of "The Mineral Industry."

Production of Coal.

AREA OF THE WORLD'S COAL-FIELDS, IN SQUARE MILES.

CHINA and Japan, 900,000; United States, 194,000; India, 35,000; Russia, 27,000; Great Britain, 9,000; Germany, 3,600; France, 1,800; Belgium, Spain, and other countries, 1,400. Total, 471,800.

The coal-fields of China, Japan, Great Britain, Germany, Russia, and India contain apparently 303,000,000,000 tons, which is enough for 700 years at present rate of consumption. If to the above be added the coal-fields in the United States, Canada, and other countries, the supply will be found ample for 1,000 years. Improved machinery has greatly increased the yield per miner, and thus produced a fall in price to the advantage of all industries.

The production of the principal coal countries in 1898 in long tons (2,240 lbs.) was: United Kingdom, 202,042,000 tons; United States, 196,282,000 tons; Germany, 91,055,000 tons; France, 30,337,000 tons; Belgium, 21,720,000 tons; Spain, (1896), 1,865,000 tons; Canada, 3,350,000 tons; New South Wales (1896), 3,750,000 tons; India, 4,063,000 tons; Russia, 9,229,000 tons; Japan, 5,060,000 tons. There is also a large production of coal in China, but statistics are indefinite.

(c) Four stop watches caught the time, but there was no speed indicator on the engine. The fastest time on record was made on the Burlington Route, January, 1899, in a run from Siding to Arion, 2.4 miles in 1 minute 20 seconds, or 130 miles an hour. The fastest time on record for a distance of over 400 miles was made by the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern R.R. from Chicago to Buffalo, in October, 1895. The fastest long-distance run less than 400 miles was on the New York Central R.R. Sept. 11, 1895, from New York to Buffalo, 436 1-2 miles, in 407 minutes actual time. A average speed 64.15 miles an hour, with two stops and 25 slow-ups.

The fastest regular trains in the United States, for a shorter distance, are believed to be the New York Central "Empire State Express," between New York and Albany, 143 miles in 160 minutes (regular also New York to Buffalo, 440 miles in 489 minutes; excluding stops, an average of 53.4 miles an hour), and those between Washington and Baltimore, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, 40 miles in 45 minutes, a speed of 53.33 miles an hour. The run from Washington to New York, 225.3 miles, is made in 5 hours. Deducting 12 minutes for the Jersey City Ferry and 10 minutes for the Canton Ferry, the rate of speed is 43.5 miles per hour. The "Congressional Limited," on the Pennsylvania Railroad, makes the run in 5 hours 5 minutes, but the distance is 227 miles.

The London and Southwestern makes the run from Dorchester to Wareham, 15 miles 2 chains, in 15 minutes, equal to 60.1 miles per hour. The Caledonian Railway of Scotland makes a short run of 32 $\frac{1}{2}$  miles at 59.1 miles an hour.

The London and Northwestern runs a train from London to Crewe, 153 miles, without a stop, at 52.6 miles an hour. The Great Western runs three trains from Paddington Station, London, to Exeter and back, which make 194 miles each without a stop. The fastest of these is timed at 56 miles an hour. The same road runs two expresses from London to Birmingham, 129 $\frac{1}{2}$  miles, without a stop. One of these makes the journey at an average of 53.5 miles an hour. The Great Western also runs an express to South Wales, which makes the run from Paddington to Bath, 106 miles 10 chains, at 54.3 miles an hour, without a stop.

Of long-distance runs in France one is made by the Paris-Orleans line from Paris to Bordeaux, which runs 353 miles at exactly 54 miles an hour, including stops. This is comparable with the New York Central's Empire State Express, which runs from New York to Buffalo, 440 miles, at 53.4 miles an hour. The best runs of such distance to be found in Great Britain are from Kings Cross to Edinburgh by the Great Northern, etc., 393 miles at 60.7 miles an hour; and from Euston to Glasgow, by the Northwestern, etc., 401.5 miles, at 60.2 miles an hour.

Fast running train on Philadelphia and Reading route (July 2, 1897)—Camden to Atlantic City, 55.5 miles, in 48 minutes; average speed, 69.35 miles per hour. On August 15, 1895, on P. & R. and C. & E. R. of N. J., "Royal Blue Line," between Elizabeth, N. J., and Jenkintown, a distance of 69 miles, in 61 minutes, including 2 "slow-ups," some of the miles being traversed in 35 seconds.
